GRAND JURY PROBES NEW CITY HALL STOCK DEAL

Commissioner F. F. Jackson Will Be Called to Testify Before County Investigators on Knowledge of Concern

MUNICIPAL EMPLOYEES HOLDERS OF SECURITIES

Subpoenas Issued Summoning Witnesses Before Inquisitorial Body; Startling Evidence Is Expected to Be Disclosed

With renewed vigor inspired by new and startling evidence, the grand jury will tomorrow delve into the mysteries of the Pacific Coast Securities Company, at present apparently inactive in Oakland, but which more than a year ago let loose quantities of stock certificates, largely among employees at the city hall and to persons in capacities similar to those to whom were sold stock in the now famous "oil" company of Police Captain Thorwald Brown, which has been probed by the inquisitorial body. Many new subpenas have been issued.

The grand jury is seeking to determine the source of the activities of the securities company, the reasons for its flitting appearance in Oakland, and the whys and wherefores of stock sales to individuals, who since the day of purchase hav received no dividends, no notices nor satisfaction of any particular, other than to continue to hold their jobs, perhaps, in the city employ.

E. H. McConkey, vice-president of the company, which until a few months ago had offices at 1540 San Pablo avenue, is wanted as one of the important witnesses in the investigation by the grand jury.

JACKSON WILL BE CALLED.

City Commissioner F. F. Jackson will also be called in connection with the probe, it having been brought to the attention of District Attorney Hynes that the operations of the company commenced in Oakland shortly after an alleged meeting in his offices one day, when heads of the different departments under his jurisdiction and a number of city employes, it is said, were introduced to McConkey. Some of these later bought stock at the solicitation of McConkey, while others took out insurance policies in the International Life Insurance Company of Missouri, the exclusive agency for which the Pacific Coast Securities Company management purported to hold for the entire coast.

That in one instance an employee purchased the stock upon representations made by the solicitor that the company was backed by prominent men who also held blocks of stock, and that a vast business would be done in Oakland through these connections, it was learned today. The stock was promptly locked in a safe deposit vault and then forgotten until it was brought to light following the grand jury inquiry.

INCORPORATED IN S. F.

The Pacific Coast Securities Company was incorporated in San Francisco October 10, 1912. Its activities in Oakland commenced during 1915. The company was capitalized at $300,000. No copies of the articles were filed in this county, it being unnecessary, as the company owned no property here, operating under its state charter. Stock was sold in February, 1916. In cases where stock was not sold the parties were asked to take out insurance policies. Many of these policies were purchased.

What was done with the money obtained through stock sales is a matter that the grand jury desires to know, in addition to the methods employed in its sale.

McConkey, vice-president, is said to have been the chief promoter of the enterprise, while the stock certificates are also signed by E. Sjosten as secretary. E. A. Majors, according to the last year direc[illegible] was president of the company. T[illegible]hares were $10 each.

Commissioner Jackson today emphatically denied that he had introduced any of the employees of his department to McConkey or that any meeting was held in his office for that purpose. He said:

"I know McConkey, but I know nothing about the Pacific Coast Securities Company. I have no stock in the concern and I never induced anyone else to purchase stock."

Concerning his connection with the company, Dr. Majors said today that he resigned the presidency three years ago and since that time had had no interest in the concern, and has no knowledge of its financial condition. Dr. Majors said that while president he did not take an active part in the conduct of the company's affairs.

Wilson, Lansing Confer on Ship Armament

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Secretary Lansing and President Wilson held a brief conference at the White House this afternoon, and afterward walked together through a heavy snowstorm to the state department.

The President and Lansing remained together only a few minutes, and then the President went into the office of Secretary Daniels.

Lansing said "no big event" was responsible for the conference. It was thought possible the arming of American merchantmen was under discussion.

BRYAN PEACE PLAN STYLED "COWARDICE"

Gardner Says "Timidity" Is Rechristened 'Good Will to Men'

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—William J. Bryan and his followers were characterized as those "who place loyalty to Germany above loyalty to America," by Representative Gardner of Massachusetts in the House today.

Declaring that Bryan proposes that we should "present a united front to the enemy by first tearing the nation asunder" in a peace campaign, Gardner accuses the former secretary of state of "appealing to the cowardice that lurks in every man's breast."

"This cowardice," Gardner continued, "they glorify by calling it 'good will to men' and timidity they have rechristened 'service to humanity.' They are trying to goad the people into a campaign in which class will be arrayed against class and race will be arrayed against race. Foreign gold may be spent, who knows? Then when the nation is successfully split into two halves, animated by hatred of each other, rather than by a joint hatred of the foreign foe, when our courage is at the lowest ebb, when our righteous indignation has been sufficiently aspersed, then we are to vote upon the question of peace or war. If the vote be for peace we are to submit to any indignities rather than strike back. If the vote be for war, as a nation divided against itself we are to go forth to battle."

Cowboys Are Believed Slain By Mexicans

Return of Dog of Captive Lends Color to Report of Deaths

LAREDO, Texas, Feb. 15.—Militiamen from the Second Florida Infantry engaged in a battle with 20 Mexican bandits, who crossed to the American side of the Rio Grande, ten miles below Zapata, Texas, last night, drove them back and captured one bandit, seven horses and a quantity of material, military headquarters here were advised this afternoon. None of the Florida men were hurt.

The Mexicans crossed the river under cover of darkness and opened fire on the American patrol. A detachment from the Second Florida immediately returned the fire and then pursued the Mexicans down the river until they crossed to the Mexican side.

CORNER RANCH, N. M., via automobile courier to Hachita, N. M., Feb. 15.—Belief that the three American Mormon cowboys—Andrew P. Peterson Jr., Hugh Acord and Burton Jensen—were executed by the Mexican raiders who captured them at the "Corner" ranch here on the American side of the border Monday, was strengthened today when Andrew Peterson's shepherd dog crawled into camp famished and footsore, as if he had come a great distance during the night.

American cowboys of the rescue posse, who camped at the line here last night, took this to means that Peterson and his companions were dead.

EL PASO, Texas, Feb. 15.—Andrew P. Peterson Sr., wealthy ranchman and father of one of the American cowboys reported to have been kidnaped by Mexicans near Hachita, N. M., arrived here today and appealed to General Pershing and state department agents for permission to organize a force to go to his son's rescue. Peterson said he believed the bandits had joined General Salazar's force of several hundred Villistas, forty-four miles south of the border. He said he could raise a cowboy force large enough to defeat Salazar if given permission.

Fifty American cowboys, under the leadership of John Harks, left Hachita, N. M., this morning to rescue the three Americans captured Tuesday by the band of raiders under Prudencio Miranda. The cowboys will enter Mexico in pursuit of the bandits.

Unconfirmed reports reached here today that Mexican raiders killed two American ranchers on Lange's ranch on the New Mexico border.

"Bunk" Spencer's wife, and not Spencer himself, is being held for $5000 ransom by the Mexican raiders at Ojitas, Chihuahua, according to reliable information from Hachita. Spencer's wife is said to be a Mexican and was captured at the Ojitas ranch when Jose Inez Salazar's forces occupied the little ranch settlement, 45 miles below the border. According to the same report Spencer, said to be a negro, has been liberated in order to cross the line, collect the $5000 ransom demanded of E. K. Warren & Sons for her release and then return with the money to Ojitas.

Charlie Chaplin Adds $150,000 to War Fund

LONDON, Feb. 15.—Charlie Chaplin, America's movie star, is a $150,000 contributor to England's "win the war" loan, subscriptions for which are closing today in a whirlwind finish. The man whose movie antics has brought him a fortune cabled his subscriptions from Los Angeles today, it was announced.

The war loan subscriptions are to be formally closed tomorrow. Today the greatest advertising campaign England ever saw was bared in the newspapers and by posters everywhere. A tremendous popular demonstration was held at Trafalgar Square at noon, the great space about the monument being jammed with people and the Lord Mayor presiding.

DRY NATION MOVE GOES UP ONE STEP

Webb Resolution for Prohibition Constitution Amendment Is Favorably Reported to the House; to Be Acted on Soon

Majority of Committee Says As 60 Per Cent of U. S. Dry Congress Should Submit the Proposition to People's Vote

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15. — The Webb resolution, proposing a national prohibition constitutional amendment, was reported to the House today with a majority committee report in its favor, and a minority report opposing the proposition.

Democratic Leader Kitchin said it would be taken up in the House within a week. He predicted it would pass the House by the necessary two-thirds, but probably would not be acted upon before the adjournment of Congress, March 4.

The majority report declared that inasmuch as more than sixty per cent of the population of the United States lives in dry territory, it is incumbent upon Congress to submit the question of national prohibition to the States.

"Leaving out of consideration the merits of the prohibition policy of dealing with the alcoholic liquor tariff," says the report, "when more than half of the States in the Union have declared in favor of prohibition, when 85 per cent of the territory of the United States has outlawed the saloon, and more than 60 per cent of the population live in such territory; and when approximately ten million of our people residing in all sections of the Union have petitioned directly for the passage of this resolution, your committee is of the opinion and feels that it is incumbent on the Congress to submit the issue to the States in the manner requested as prescribed by the terms of the constitution itself.

SHOULD GO TO VOTE.

"If it is not desired thirteen States of the Union can prevent its adoption; but if, on the other hand, thirty-six States desire such change, they should have the right to make it, and it would appear to your committee that the question is now one of sufficient importance to be submitted to the people that they may pass on it."

The minority report sets forth six objections to the resolution. They were that "it does not provide for a date of submission to all States; it would not prohibit personal consumption of liquor; it would interfere with the police powers of the States; it would permit the confiscation of property without compensation; the general government of national prohibition would be bad; it would raise a serious revenue question.

COERCION OPPOSED.

"Coercion alone will not prohibit, nor will it inoculate temperance," the minority report continues, "for temperance, and, indeed, prohibition, depends on changes for the better in habits and conditions which are brought about by a regulation of benefit obtained through moral and educational appreciation."

Signers of the minority report were Representatives Igoe and Dyer of Missouri, Graham of Pennsylvania, Steel of Iowa, Danforth and Dale of New York, and Gard of Ohio. The Webb amendment would prohibit the transportation, manufacture, import and sale of alcoholic liquor for beverage purposes.

MAIL BARS LIQUOR.

The Senate today adopted a drastic amendment to the postal bill, making it a crime for persons in dry States to order, purchase or cause to be transported any intoxicating liquors into such States.

Later, when it was discovered that the Reed amendment could be construed to bar alcohol for sacramental, scientific, medicinal or mechanical purposes, the Senate reconsidered its action in order to qualify the measure to that extent, but as modified the amendment again was adopted by viva voce vote.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 15.—The Minnesota Senate today passed the House bill submitting to the people a proposed prohibition constitutional amendment. The measure would be voted on at the 1918 election, and, if adopted, would be effective July 1, 1920.

Message From Turkey Delayed Five Days

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The first message to reach the State Department from American officials in Turkey or Bulgaria since the break in relations with Germany was received today from Ambassador Elkus at Constantinople, who inquired about the difficulties of communication with his government. It bore the date of February 7, and apparently was delayed at least five days longer than is usually the case with despatches from the Turkish capital. Officials are investigating the cause of the delay in all despatches to and from Turkey and Bulgaria, but are not certain yet whether it has occurred at Vienna, through which all despatches pass.

German U-Boat War Not Yet at Height

LONDON, Feb. 15.—Naval officers expressed the belief today that Germany's submarine warfare has not yet reached the climax of its tensity. It was predicted that it may be March before the German submarine fleet gains its greatest effectiveness. The reports received up to date indicate that the German admiralty has been unable to extend its submarine operations beyond a limited field in spite of the efficient preparations which were made for them. This is accepted as a high tribute to the effectiveness of the B[illegible] navy.

Affidavits Taken by the British Consul; Scarcely Time for Sailors to Escape Before Big Explosion, Relate Survivors

LONDON, Feb. 14.—The British steamer Cilicia of 3750 tons gross has been sunk, Lloyds' shipping agency announced today. The crew was landed.

The British steamer Forga also has been sunk, the agency announces.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15. — The British sailing ship Ainsdale has been sunk and her crew, including one American, saved after suffering great hardships, according to a message from Ambassador Page to the State Department today.

The message said:

"British sailing ship Ainsdale, Buenos Aires, November 5, for England, stopped by submarine 180 miles from Cape Clear February 5; crew of twenty-five ordered to boats; ship sunk. Crew rescued after suffering ten hours' great hardships. One American in crew."

NEUTRAL SHIP ROUTE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—The British admiralty has designated Halifax as the port of call for neutral ships leaving American ports instead of Kirkwall, it was learned here today.

The announcement was received with the greatest enthusiasm at the offices of neutral steamship companies which began immediate preparations for a renewal of sailings. Kirkwall is in the danger zone marked off by Germany in her recent submarine order. By being able to stop at Halifax for examination, vessels can take a course far north of the submarine area and in a measure defeat the purposes of the blockade.

The Holland-American line was first to announce the arrangement whereby their ships would call at Halifax.

The freighters Sosepdyk and Zuiderdyk are leaving Newport News, it was stated, with the understanding from the admiralty that they shall put in at Halifax.

In view of the word from the admiralty, the passenger liners Ryndam and Noordam will also depart for Europe soon. Preparations are now being made for their sailing.

At the Swedish-American line offices it was stated two of their steamers—the Stockholm and Hellgolaf—will sail for Copenhagen within a few days.

Sailings of Scandinavian-American line vessels are also expected to be announced.

The admiralty action in making Halifax the port of call will enable all of these vessels to avoid the danger zone.

DANGER TO U.S. IS SEEN IN GERMAN PEACE PROPOSALS

Kaiser Is Only Seeking Time to Distribute Submarines, Says Correspondent; Tells of Work Of Censors; Charges Indignities

AMERICA THREATENED

By CARL W. ACKERMAN.
United Press Staff Correspondent with Ambassador Gerard.
(Copyright 1917 by United Press)

PARIS, Feb. 15.—Warning against the dual menace of German submarine activity in American waters and against German peace propaganda, which may be in reality a play for time, is being sounded today by American officials conversant with the real situation in Germany.

Germany's attempt to negotiate the issue of her unlimited submarine order through the Swiss legation at Washington while Ambassador Gerard was still in Berlin, is regarded with suspicion by these officials. The move is frankly viewed as an attempt to forestall action by President Wilson until Germany can make such disposition of her submarines as will enable her best to strike at America in case of war.

The maneuver having failed, it is no surprise to American officials to hear that Germany has now repudiated the efforts of the Swiss minister. The suggestion for negotiations is regarded solely as having been an expedient to gain time while the German-financed peace movement in America could get into action.

While this time was gained, Germany counts on trying her submarine warfare for a few weeks. If it is unsuccessful, she will be able to say to President Wilson, "We will stop if you will make peace."

Ambassador Gerard is forwarding to Washington his emphatic warning that the Overseas News Agency is being used by Germany to mould American opinion. Privately officials desire to warn Americans that Berlin despatches are now colored by the official German press bureau.

Correspondents who repeatedly complained about the German censorship are gone, except Cyril Brown, Berlin correspondent of the New York World. With the exception of Brown, those remaining are the correspondents who did not complain.

CENSOR IS BUSY.

During past months I can state that the German censor repeatedly held up United Press and Associated Press messages, or advised correspondents of those two agencies that nothing regarding the submarine warfare, or later, the delays in obtaining passports, could be sent.

Then Germany sent via the Overseas News Agency information counteracting the texts of correspondents' despatches.

An example of the use to which Germany put her propaganda by the official news agency is furnished in the interview with Baron von Stumm, sent over the wireless service, and which explained the delay in Gerard's departure was due to necessity for filling in his passports.

Ambassador Gerard was greatly incensed when this interview came to his attention.

I can state that Gerard was held from Monday until Saturday against his will and despite urgent requests for permission to leave.

Germany is now similarly treating American consuls. None have reached Berne since the arrival of the embassy train, although the American legation at Berne was advised from the Spanish embassy in Berlin that Americans had expressed a desire to leave.

Germany's hostility toward America is not new.

Weeks ago Ambassador Gerard vigorously complained to the foreign office that the Germans were searching the wives of American consuls at the border.

WOMEN SEARCHED.

At Warnemunde alone the wives of three prominent officials were lately searched because they were suspected of carrying documents.

Because the military is supreme and because it has adopted this general attitude, the foreign office is powerless. American officials who have been in Berlin hold Foreign Secretary Alfred Zimmerman responsible for many of the anti-American plans.

At the foreign office immediately after America broke relations with Germany, Zimmerman, in talking confidentially to newspaper correspondents, showed a bitter and nervous attitude against President Wilson and America, surprising all present.

It was then that he declared Germany would not stop in her course and was determined to go ahead and win the war with her submarines.

Two days before Gerard left Berlin I met Zimmerman, then leaving the office of the imperial chancellor. His attitude was changed. He said: "Ackerman, I hope when you arrive in America you will work for peace."

Forced Lowering of Old Glory at Brussels Legation and Detention of Relief Workers May Be Considered Affront

WASHINGTON MAY DEMAND EXPLANATION

Acts of Teuton Army Officials in Belgium Aggravated by Refusal to Permit Whitlock to Cable Home Government

BULLETIN.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15. — A new and vigorous demand for the release of the Americans from the prize ship Yarroudale, held prisoners in Germany, will be forwarded in the near future, it was stated definitely today. The demand will be accompanied by a full statement on treatment accorded Germans and German ships in the United States.

By Robert J. Bender,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15. — Near-peaceful relations with Germany and the Teutonic allies were stretched to the snapping point today when this government received positive confirmation of the ominous report carried in United Press despatches from Berne that Brand Whitlock, American minister to Belgium, had been forced to lower the Stars and Stripes from the United States legation in Brussels.

This confirmation brought Germany and the United States admittedly nearer to open hostilities than any event since President Wilson broke off diplomatic relations with the Kaiser more than a week ago.

Officials observed the act, in the light of reports they have, as constituting a possible open affront.

It was considered another one of the rapidly accumulating infringements of the Teutonic allies on American rights and privileges.

SHOW GERMAN SPIRIT.

While officials insisted they will await complete details so as to be certain and deliberate—in any move this government may take—they openly admitted such acts as German military officials in Belgium took in the Whitlock case, plainly show the spirit and intent with which Germany is moving.

This latest case is made more grave, officials said, in view of additional information that Whitlock is now refused communication with his home government, and American Belgian relief workers are being "detained." Just what this "detention" amounts to is a question for the most serious consideration.

MAY MAKE DEMANDS.

While officials would not discuss the case, it was hinted that as soon as more facts are in hand this government may make peremptory demands upon Germany, probably through the Swiss minister, to explain without delay.

Coming, as the incident does, on the heels of the sinking of an American vessel in the Mediterranean in violation of the law as construed by this government, heavy blows were struck at the small lingering hopes of the President that hostilities between the United States and Germany might be avoided.

The manner in which news of Germany's order to United States Minister Brand Whitlock to lower the American flag in Brussels reached this government was not at first given out.

It is probable, however, it came from Ambassador Gerard, in view of the fact that Carl W. Ackerman, United Press staff correspondent, with Gerard, cabled the information from Berne yesterday.

There was still one group in the administration, however, which contended that the Belgian situation may not have constituted an especially critical incident.

These claim that Whitlock may have been merely "requested"—not ordered—to take down the flag. Such a request, they said, would have been proper, as the legation was closed and on German-occupied territory.

The government's information was that Gustave Horter was arrested by petty officials on his way out of Germany, and that Germany would only let a few relief workers remain in Belgium.

American Ambassador on Way Home Honored by French

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

PARIS, Feb. 15.—Many American flags were displayed here today in honor of the arrival of James W. Gerard, former United States ambassador to Germany, who is on his way home.

It is expected the Gerard party will remain here about a week or ten days, sailing from Spain on the steamship Infanta Isabelle.

A rousing reception was planned for the diplomat, with representatives of the French government, the United States Embassy and the American colony taking part.

BERLIN (via Sayville wireless), Feb. 15.—The following farewell message was sent to the German government by James W. Gerard, the former American Ambassador, on the eve of his departure, says the Overseas News Agency today:

"The regulations of the German government surpass anything which might have been hoped for by the embassy and the American colony. German chivalry and hospitality have brilliantly stood the test in these trying days."

Owners of Schooner Law Cable Captain for Details

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—"If the captain and the crew of the schooner Lyman M. Law, all of them Americans from a long line of American seafaring men, have no protection, who the h—l has?" demanded George W. S. Green, of the Maritime Transportation Company, owners of the schooner, today.

The Lyman M. Law was sunk Tuesday by an Austrian submarine in the Mediterranean sea.

"The owners, captain and crew of that vessel are all Americans," Green said.

A formal statement given out by Green declared the owners have cabled Captain McDonough for further details of the sinking, to discover whether she was sunk without warning, and have consulted attorneys to determine whether there is basis for civil action.

Green repeated the assertion that the schooner was loaded only with shooks for making lemon boxes, and that a representative of the company watched the loading to make sure no contraband would be taken aboard.

Green expresses the belief that the schooner was already in the Mediterranean when the submarine order was published to the world. She had no wireless, he said, and could not have known of the decree.

The Lyman M. Law, he said, recently was completely overhauled at a cost of $20,000.

SECOND AD-MASQUE IS SCINTILLATING TRIUMPH

THRONGS SEE FAIRYLAND OF MODERN DAY

Gay Thousands Dance in the Whirl of Color and Light at Ad-Masque; Great Spectacle Is Milestone of Progress

Characters of Magazine and Billboards Stalk in Real Life Before Guests at Mammoth Municipal Auditorium Affair

By Ray C. B. Brown.

Shimmering with the iridescence of a thousand rainbows arching beneath an ebon sky, pulsating with the eager animation of a myriad mummers weaving in intricate mazes, vibrant with the spirit of joyous abandon and gay with the silvery laughter of multi-colored merrymakers, the second annual Ad-Masque moved like the kaleidoscopic phantasmagoria of an Arabian romancer before the royal presence of Queen Mary last night in the Municipal Auditorium, witnessed by thousands of loyal subjects crowding every available niche of the vast assembly hall, and passed into history as a dream of splendor. But the magnificence of its passing was marked by no gleam of transient sadness, for as the hours sped their winged course, to the sound of music and the revelry of a people giving themselves to the whole-hearted enjoyment of the moment, the knowledge was ever in the minds of all that this was but an earnest of the many pageants that are to come—a fulfillment and a promise.

When Queen Scheherazade beguiled her imperious spouse with tales of the splendors to be seen in the halls of the Lord of the Isles and the dazzling brightness of the revels of the Djinni, she pictured no more gorgeous scene. For her imaginative eye could not then foresee the scintillant play of lights wrought by the modern magicians of the dynamo, the ceaseless interplay of searching beams shifting the spectral colors upon a throng of maskers restless as a billowing sea, transforming moving humanity into a vision of such things as are envisaged only in dreams. It was a glimpse into a fairyland made real.

SORCERY OF SCIENCE.

It was such a spectacle as only the progress of an age-long history could have made possible, and it was capped with the marvels produced by a science that is now making the dreams of antiquity come true and that is a foretaste of yet unimagined accomplishments to come. For every element in the complex stream of ideas that have sprung from the brain of man in his interminable struggle from savagery to the heights of culture was represented. Mythology jostled elbows with the achievements of today, fairies spun amid the realities of a workaday world, characters from fiction lived temporarily in the tangible and the Genius of Publicity presided over a thousand different shapes representing the products of civilization.

Neptune swayed his trident as a reminder of the days when the earth was peopled with capricious gods who played havoc with the lives of mortals; almees and coryphees glittered with the jewels of the Orient; Puck girdled the earth in forty minutes; princes issued their edicts with the haughty mien of the all-powerful; spirits of the earth in gauzy garments danced their joy of living; the inventive skill of man expressed its varied activity in divers forms, and above the coruscating chaos ruled a queen chosen but yesterday to represent the forward-looking city of the West as it marches toward a future no seer can predict.

PUBLICITY PERSONIFIED.

Gaiety unbounded exercised its sovereignty from the early hours of the evening until the night was far spent, but it was gaiety weighty with meaning. No empty riot of mere license was this modern carnival with its changeful aspects, for there was through its essence the inspiration of the motive force of publicity. It was an Ad Masque—a visualization of the manifold ways in which the eye of the public is caught and the attention of the multitude held. It was a protean manifestation of the principle of publicity that brings from the far ends of the earth the products of every clime to the homes of the people.

Paramount among the potencies that influence the minds of the masses in the formation of opinion is Publicity, and its appeal is preeminently to the eye. The message of the Ad-Masque is that this appeal need not be baldly utilitarian but may have all the beauty and attractiveness that the arts can bring to its adornment. Color, form and motion join in turning the useful into the beautiful, and where the attention of the eyes is drawn to focus there will mind be held. Advertising is no dull display of the stark facts, but a luring exhibition of the human brain's fertility.

Publicity in all its pomp and pride paraded last night before the throne of Queen Mary and paid homage to her as the regal personification of the city. Publicity in a pageant of varied manifestations passed in review, expressing every phase of commercial activity, every ingenuity of invention, every service for the comfort of the race—expressing them in emblematic blazonry, in fantastic devices, in multifarious shapes, in the spell of color and the magic of shifting lights.

MARCH SYMBOLICAL.

The symbolism of the ascent of civilization was shown in the progressive pageant. Roman heralds sounded the fanfare for the opening of the fete. Came then the dancing maidens in Grecian draperies, weaving a triumphal garland of living bodies before the coming of the queen. Flowers strewed her path, as in the days of Imperial Caesar, but she came not on foot like a tribal monarch, not in a palanquin like Cleopatra, not in a chariot like ruthless Poppea, not upon a heaving elephant like some princess of Ind, not in the barouche that once represented the height of gentility; but in a limousine—the last word of man's cleverness in the devising of means of terrestrial locomotion.

No legionaries with clashing armor formed her bodyguard, but straight, lithe youths in khaki, armed with the deadly rifle. No gangs of slaves formed her retinue, but maidens garbed to portray the cities of the West that gave their service to Queen Oakland and stood alert to do her will. Seated upon her throne of honor, she rested her gaze upon the massed assemblage of her subjects and beheld their inventions and conceits defile before her.

Jokesters Get Busy; "Puck" All Fussed Up

"Stunts" a-plenty made comedy behind the scenes at the Ad-Masque, as well as in the glare of the searchlights on the Auditorium floor. In the long corridors that the procession formed in the jokesters held sway. Matches were gleefully touched to gay balloons, fair girls sought partners, and one small colored boy was frantically looking for a "stage hand to get him the curtain key."

R. L. Lenz, who impersonated "Puck" wanted to find the Board of Censorship to see if his "summary" impersonation of the lively little god of joy could go on the floor. He wore a coat and a stovepipe hat, however, so after grave consideration Chairman George W. Fitch of the Advertising Bureau decided that the living emblem of the trade-mark on the bottle could "get by." He did—successfully, bottle and all.

Someone attempted to raid the big candy box of the Clover Leaf chocolate float, a great bonbon box filled with "prop" chocolates a foot long. But when it was found that the "chocolates" were only wood the missing property was put back, and Miss Carrie Miller, who piloted this float, was consoled. The float looked delicious.

A large catsup bottle, the motive power of which was a girl, took fright at a toy rat. But after it had been coaxed from the dressing room and shown that the "rat" was only a false one, this, too, went on undisturbed.

THE TALE OF THE EGG SHAMPOO'S CHANGED SPOTS

A Pot of Paint—Then Another, and the Processor Moved Along

"An egg shampoo is all right if the egg is all right—but if the egg is sham—oh! Pooh!"

So said the vaudeville comedian in the dim and distant past, and made laughs thereby.

And last night at the "Ad Masque" this was enacted in real life. The egg shampoo was all right—painted on an egg, with a man inside to move it along. At least, this was the very desirable situation at the time the procession formed in the long south corridor of the Auditorium.

And then!

All is not gold that glitters, and all are not eggs that shine white in the searchlight! For Harry Lafler had some yellow stain to paint the "Ethiop" who carried the banner for the dancing girls in the parade—and Gene Bowles likes a joke. So he spotted the egg—a la a turkey egg or a quail's egg.

Luckily, just as they were going to take the entry out of the parade, Billy Daul, of the Auditorium stagecrew, dug up a bit of white paint and filled up the spots.

And the egg shampoo was an egg shampoo for all that.

CLUB WILL MEET.

The Lockwood [illegible] Club is meeting tomorrow afternoon to listen to two important addresses. Dr. Sarah Shuey will speak at 2 o'clock on "The Care of the Child." At 2:30 o'clock Dr. Kirby Smith will discuss "Scarlet Fever."

Royalty Pays Its Forfeit

Fair Queen Cannot Dance

Queen Mary, the loveliest queen whom Oakland has ever had, looked wistfully on from her royal box, but she said no word, as became majesty.

"How I would love to dance," she sighed. Then she remembered those flowing robes. "But it is too crowded, of course," she excused. And by tens and hundreds the merry revelers passed her by, throwing a smile, but not of envy, to the lovely young sovereign who was paying the price of her royalty.

"I would just like to keep right on being queen, and I love my subjects every one. They have been loyal and good to me, and I have wanted to make them a good queen." And the soft eyes, blue as her own California skies, dimmed with but a suggestion of tears.

Just 17 she is, Queen Mary, whose reign was but for a space, but her graciousness and charm will not be forgotten.

"It has been such fun. Even before it was declared that I was to be crowned, and not one of the other girls, I enjoyed every minute. It was too exciting."

And it must be confessed Queen Mary giggled, but such a delicious, girlish, dainty giggle.

And her arms were filled with tissue-covered boxes, securely knotted with stout ribbons, offerings of adoring subjects. But on top reposed a large red satin heart.

And another heart-shaped box held chocolates, one of which she nibbled.

"Have, one," she offered.

Which went to prove that Queen Mary was as generous as she was beautiful.

Technical High School Pupils Make Plea

Never was the cry of publicity better illustrated than by the Technical High school pupils, who took the ad-masque as the occasion to tell that they needed a gymnasium. The young idea is not only being taught how to shoot, but it might take older advertising men and women out somewhere and teach them methods.

"Tech High Needs a New Gym" said the huge sign—or words to that effect. And there was no mistaking what the lads and their sisters wanted. They wanted a new gymnasium, and they shouted it from the housetops—or, better yet, gave it to those who might get the gym for them by more direct methods.

SHAME, PRINCESS! TO DODGE WHEN THE LIGHT CAME

Fair Edith Storey Had the Stage Fright Until Camera Snapped

Pitiless is publicity. It pierces all. Into nooks and corners—dark places—goes the ray.

Edith Storey is a motion picture actress so widely known that it isn't necessary to tell what brand of film she represents or who she is or what place she represents in the silent drama.

Used to publicity—used to the light and froth of the festive press agent—Miss Storey dodged her responsibility last night.

Into the silent and darkened hall she came a-top the litter of Cleopatra. Representative of the most silent of arts, she held her poise to a nicety. And then the searchlight ray from a near-by gallery caught her. And, for shame! Edith Storey, Princess of the Films, turned her head and looked away from publicity.

However, a little later she partially redeemed herself. Queen Mary graciously met the screen star in the T. & D. box, and there the two sat for some time until the grim ray of publicity sought out enterprising newspaper photographers who immediately followed their way into the wake of pictorial news.

They found the two talking familiarly of queenly subjects—the Monarch of the Ad-Masque and the Princess of the Films. Then the roaring flashlight came. Already had Queen Mary and Queen Edith clasped hands in friendship. And Edith Storey did not turn away from the ray of publicity this time.

Why?

Silly, there was a camera focused on her!

SPIRIT OF GREAT CITY IN REVELRY

Mammoth Spectacle Establishes Ad-Masque As Institution—Marks New Era in History of the 'Athens of the Pacific'

Sorcery of Modern Science Transforms People's Playhouse Into Land of Sprites of Eld; Joy Big Watchword

Oakland emphasized last night its right to be classed as one of those municipalities the people of which can throw off, as though it were only a mantle as light as some of those worn by many who formed the throng that crowded the Auditorium, the garb of serious hours, and give thought only to the gayer things of life.

Further, last night served to establish beyond question the fact that the Ad-Masque has become an established institution in Oakland, and that from now on it will be an annual event that will be looked forward to with expectation by the people of all of the bay cities.

It was the second event of the Ad-Masque that was celebrated last night, and it was celebrated in a manner that cannot be duplicated in any other clime in the world.

Joy was the watchword, and not for a moment, from the hour long before the festivities were timed to be begun, until long after they should have ended, were the schedule complied to, did those who came to the Auditorium bent only upon getting the greatest meed of fun possible, finally acknowledge that desire had been gratified and start on their homeward way.

It was an occasion that will be remembered long by those who were there—and there were upward of 10,000—and that will be regretted until next year by those who failed to avail themselves of the opportunity of being there.

TASK IS SUCCESSFUL.

As for those who were the inspiration of the affair, satisfaction at a task accomplished far beyond expectation, if not beyond hope, is the cheer that makes easy of burden the result of their exertions.

It was a cosmopolitan crowd that thronged through the many doors of Oakland's great indoor playhouse at an early hour last evening, and before 8:30 the vast tiers of seats that rise to the roof constituted a mass of humanity, colored in all the variations of the spectrum.

But if the galleries and the boxes were spectrum-like, the dictionary fails of words to properly phrase the effect that was to be obtained by those who gazed in wonder at the pageant that unfolded for their benefit on the great expanse of the floor.

Never was there conjured, from the most turgid dreams of those who live to plan the spectacular, a more chaotic riot of color and of animation than was unfolded as the hundreds of participants in the Ad-Masque of 1917 trooped from the aisles and blended into the stream that flowed its surcharged way around the great building.

ELECTRIC RAINBOWS.

From every vantage point there was poured onto the revelers streams of multi-colored lights, and with the unaffected abandon of sprites at play under the moonbeams, maid and youth, and many whose days of adolescence long since passed, tossed and glided, weaved in and out of the picture and forgot all other than the potency of the realization—"This is our hour to play."

To specify, in the manner of placing a greater degree of praise on the one than on the other, is of akin to trying to choose one from the other of the multitudinous wavelets that wash the shore on a night made brilliant by light of the moon. No sooner did one of any of the hundreds who constituted jubilant groups call attention to something that caught their attention of more than usual warrant for praise, than from some other there came bidding to devote attention elsewhere.

San Francisco Ad Club Out in Force

One of the features of the Ad-Masque pageant that attracted much attention and gained much praise was the representation of the San Francisco Ad Club. This feature was directed by Miss Mary B. Ennis, one of the directors of the club and was participated in by twelve children ranging in age from four to eleven years. The children participating were: Margaret Priesack, Vestal Ayers, Virginia Stevens, Helen Marie Houlihan, Laurie Priesack, Kenneth Priesack, Leonard Bowie, Rollo Bauford Auers, William Clasby Jr., Clayton Fitzpatrick, Frederick Brockhagen, Billie Mitchell.

New York's Message Flashes the Opening

All the way from New York came the message which opened the Ad-Masque. A girl of the switchboard "plugged in." Under the glare of a nearby searchlight she made the necessary preliminary arrangements for the trans-continental message. She motioned for President Fitch of the Oakland Advertising organization to take the headpiece. In a minute or two, with the official nodding greeting across the United States, the Ad-Masque had been officially opened.

Charlie Chaplins Are on the Descendant

At the last Ad-Masque there were 200 juvenile and adult Charlie Chaplins. This year there were few of the genus. Charles has been advertised, seemingly, until the psychology of his name and his moustache and his personality has faded. He has been played right and left—east and north—this way and that—until people prefer just laughing at the original rather than smiling at his imitators.

Ambrose Bierce's Daughter Divorced

RENO, Feb. 15.—Mrs. Helen Cowden, daughter of Ambrose Bierce, America's foremost satirist, has been granted a divorce from Harry Cowden, a mining man whom she married some twelve years ago. Incompatibility was the ground for the action. Two children of the couple are amply provided for by the father in the property settlement. This is Mrs. Cowden's second divorce, her former married name having been Ballard.

SOCIETY---EN MASSE---GATHERS FOR GRAND REVEL

En masse, society and ultra-society gave the final cachet of approval to the fantastic Ad-Masque carnival last night by filling box after box with gay parties. The sparkle and glitter of these groups, arrayed in a brilliant band around the auditorium arena like a jeweled ribbon below the more sombre tiers of the overhanging gallery, played no uncertain part in the spectacle.

Not only did the members of the box parties come in time for the first outbreak of the procession in the spotlights along the floor, but they stayed late. They took the affair in as lighthearted a spirit as the masqueraders and the Pierrettes propelling along the cloth floats, and when a full measure of honor had been done the queen and the exhibits of leading manufacturers past and present—they mingled with the dancing myriads of clowns and bathing girls, cigarette harem beauties fox trotting busily.

One of the chief sources of entertainment was the telephone which formed part of the equipment of each box, permitting the occupants of any one to talk across the arena to the occupants of another without the pain and anguish of wandering through the crowded aisles to investigate. Perhaps some such arrangement will be general at the next event demanding tiers of boxes all around—if the amusement it caused last night had any significance. In the third row from the bottom in the right-hand side Mrs. Harold Havens is illustrating the charming manner in which a telephone may be used in public. But she does not know it, which makes the picture more effective.

THOUSANDS WHIRL IN ELECTRIC RAINBOWS

TEN THOUSAND ATTEND REVEL

Great Crowd Packs Auditorium From Door to Door; Cadets Assist.

Ten thousand persons massed tier over tier and crowding the boxes awaited expectantly last night in the Municipal Auditorium for the fanfares of trumpets that would announce the beginning of Oakland's second great pageant of its kind.

For more than an hour Technical High School cadets and Boy Scouts had been piloting persons to their reservations and straightening from their tangle those who sought some special section of the vast building. The ante-rooms and the corridoors were filled with fantastically clad girls, boys, men and women, and strung along the walls were the papier mache replicas of articles of merchandise known the land around.

It was a wonderful co-mingling of the material and of the fraternity of mummery. Bare-legged, trim, graceful girls flitted confidingly in and out of the throng; later they danced gracefully through the bewildering spectacle that wound itself beneath the gaze of those who had waited, and contrasted strangely but pleasingly in their simplicity of attire against the more complex and weird costumes of those who strove as valiantly to lend distinction to the scene.

Finally, into the center of the floor strode three buglers, uniform clad and eager to sound the call that would inaugurate the Ad-Masque of 1917. They sounded ringingly and well, and soon there appeared upon the stage Queen Mary, chosen by popular vote from among hundreds of East Bay young women to rule for this night.

Seated on her throne, surrounded by a bevy of children and waited upon by her maids, Queen Mary bowed her royal appreciation of the loyalty of those assembled to do her honor, and her recognition of the occasion of which she was so integral a part.

Then came the blare of the bands' brasses; there was another bugle announcement and from the stage and from the many side doors there trooped the hundreds who had come to make merry for the edification of Queen Mary and her subjects-for-a-night.

The Ad-Masque of 1917 was a reality in the uttermost fullness of the word.

G. E. Gaylord, assistant superintendent of the western division of the Southern Pacific, will be the speaker at tomorrow's luncheon of the Transportation Club in the Hotel Oakland. His subject will be "Terminal Movement of Freight."

Notables Crowd Decorated Boxes

The smart set gave itself up unreservedly last night to the Ad-Masque. Society thronged the boxes and mingled with the dancers and did all those things which were planned to do to make the evening the merriest in the history of the east shore. And, without a doubt, society enjoyed it. For taking part in the wonderful spectacle of light and color were some of their own leaders and serving on the solemn board of judges were representatives from their innermost ranks, so the ultra set had a certain pride to sustain. Again the patronesses numbered some of the smartest matrons of the city, who not only gave their names but an active interest to the success of the gorgeous event which marks a new epoch in the social history of California. And these were some of the reasons that society was there.

Those who occupied the long aisle of boxes were:

FEATURES IN PAGEANT ARE DIVERSIFIED

Pretty Girls in Profusion and Gorgeous Hues Add to the Beauty of Festival; All Tell of Noted Products of County

Affair Is Living Revue of the "Ads" of Today; Many Applaud "Ideas in Motion". As Procession Wends Its Way

Trying to be specific in referring to the "real features" of the Ad-Masque pageant is akin to the oft-cited futility of painting the lily.

Every business house and manufacturing agency in the East Bay district and many from San Francisco and other sections were represented by interpretations made by maidens gaily garbed—some of them bravely un-garbed. And they all were unafraid of inspection, as well they might be, for pulchritude was their birthright, and they had collected in full measure.

Children were in their ascendency, and many of the widely known trade articles purposed to make life more enjoyable for the little ones were pictured in a convincing manner by charming little representatives of that period of existence wherein the articles in question are found or desirability and utility.

Those things that appeal to the sight and to the palate, and to the many of the other senses of desire that humanity is graced by, were set forth in reality or impersonated by the decorativeness of the female form in all its divinity.

Also the male of the species came in for his moment and appeared stalwartly and proudly as the emblem of some one of the thousand and more articles of trade that are found in Oakland stores.

MANY NOVELTIES.

There were so many novelties and color schemes and madcap adventurous characters that it would require the Bureau of Statistics to figure them all out.

For instance, there was the Capwell float. Bearing its spring message from the home of fashion, it bore its way as if on tiptoe through the maze of parading advertising novelties. Models there were to attract the eye. Faces attracted the eye of man—gowns held the vision of woman.

Eight models there were standing on the motor-driven float. Everything about them suggested springtime, with the froth of fashion mounting to the top and flowing over.

Headlight Overalls were represented by one of the big ideas in the whole pageant. An engine, it was aided along its trackless way by brawny engineers, all arrayed in the costumes of the firm they represented. As pretty a bit of pageant engineering as has been seen in some time. And, to aid the work of publicity along, a huge advertising poster walked along with a worker, and on this sign—under the eyes of its thousands—played a searchlight disclosing the brand and the reason for its being.

The Oakland TRIBUNE'S float was representative of the home. In it were seated Mr. Oakland, Mrs. Oakland and the little Oaklanders. They were reading the TRIBUNE—there is the range of the reading lamp. Quiet pervaded it all—the quiet after the day's labor. Overhead, wires from the many points of the globular earth brought Mr., Mrs. and the little Oakland children into communication with the earth.

CONFECTIONERY AND BEAUTY.

The Venus confectionery shop was representative of springtime and the atmosphere of the Greek deity of love. Dancing girls of the land of Pan led a carriage, in which sat a tiny child. All were dressed in white. Candy jars were distributed over the float at various points. The candy and the child sitting there—queen of the float—represented a touch of the artistic. Why shouldn't a child and jars of candy be represented as inseparable

The Dixon Leadpencil was there—very much so. It was lengthy and yellow and with a point—just as are all Dixon pencils. Boys, encased in the bunting and frame representation, carried the pencil along its gigantic way. Never before had it been thus brought home to careless Americans just how important the lead pencil was.

The lady in the lion's den was there. She didn't seem very much frightened at the king of beasts for it was a perfectly calm and collected lion. The lion moved its head in quite a friendly way at the lady and she glanced around the Auditorium in a fearless way despite the fact that a thousand men would have rushed to her aid if any had been required. Yes, the Lyon Storehouse was well advertised.

GIRLS AND REALTY.

Wickham Havens' land projects received a distinct back-to-the-soil atmosphere, when a score of spring song maidens danced about the maypole, on top of which was a labeled announcement of what establishment they represented. These maids, garbed in red, surrounded a tall, well-built man of the mythical age, who held by husky strength the banner pronouncing the emblem.

Many were the firms—many the representatives. Too many are they for complete, single description. Every one showed the result of most painstaking efforts. Artists had done their best decorative effects. And the people carrying out the motions were extremely well-trained.

Color of the signs—color of the costumes—color of the novelties—color and advertising. It was as if there had been painted a huge poster with all the big advertisements as portions of the canvas. And each of these portions, alive, rose from the flat canvas, to walk or dance along, dragging the paint with them.

In addition to the floats there were many maneuvers and polished movements which only close observers noticed but which were important to the Ad-Pageant's grace. George Skelton was "stunts director," and aiding him were capable aids in the persons of National Guardsmen. Sergeant Wayne Allen, George E. Faust and William Caldwell helped and directed.

TRAFFIC REGULATED.

For instance, there was no single time that the parade halted or stopped flat in failure. This was the result of the efficiency with which advertising claims kin. The "stunts" director and his aids, together with floor committeemen and half a hundred other officials aided this progress.

CONFETTI STORM LIGHTED BY MAN-MADE RAINBOWS

Electric Genius Makes Gorgeous Spectacle in Flashing Colors and Living Beams of Radiance

By Harold M. Levy.

Carnival and Light—the two are inseparable.

For carnival is naught but a high light on the canvas of 365 days.

There was a high light made from electric power last night. It was called the Ad-Masque. Vari-colored, the light played upon dancers and merry-makers. The spectrum in all its divisions was represented through the shafts of illumination. No costume exceeded in real interest the story of the colored light; no one element which went toward the embellishment of the joyful environment could bring such claims forward as did the illumination.

LIGHT AND SPIRIT.

Without light there is no carnival spirit. For the power of vision is a mighty element in celebration of the senses. To see—to dance—to rejoice—these come when there is light. And yet there was something behind that light. There were machines and watchful eyes and—science.

Perish the thought of drear science in the same block with Ad-Masque, you say? Without science, though, there could be no Ad-Masque. Peculiar that laughter should depend in an artificial way upon studious science—but it did last night.

From the beginning, when machine loads of dancers and their audience rolled into that space around the Municipal Auditorium, light began its play upon laughter and joy.

ALL PRAISE TO THEM.

To the few who looked about them for a view of that which gave the light—all praise! They saw six groups of reflectors—five to the group—playing upon the white, pure walls of the Auditorium. Each lamp took 575 volts of current from the Oakland Traction lines and played 250,000 candle power's worth of light upon the building.

This gave the Ad-Masque enthusiast a sense of laughter at the very first. Or, if not laughter, a smile. The smile illuminates the face just as those projectors brought out in grand relief the classic building's proportions. Therefore, it is not wrong to say that the Auditorium began smiling last evening at a very early hour. The laughter came somewhat later.

BLINDING SIGNAL.

Solemnity ruled while one white ray played upon a telephone miss receiving from President Huston of the advertising clubs the opening message of cheer. White spots played upon the figure of Miss Publicity a little later—Publicity and her heralds, the Press, Poster and Letter. And of a sudden there came a flash. Up—up—up to the roof it went, a mysterious, blinding signal light. In a moment the pageant was on.

And now the Auditorium was laughing. Laughter and smiles and joy among the dancers and their on-looking friends. Colored lights played at will upon costumes—all of the colors of the rainbow. Effects were produced which dazzled, at the same time delighting. The pageant makers had worked well. The colors and lights and symbolism of that lengthy procession were drawn from the pages of studious science—just think of that!

SIX GREAT REFLECTORS.

Six great reflectors, placed at strategic points in the balcony, brought laughter to everyone who was there. If one had taken his eyes from the moving spectacle and the glorious colorings for just a moment he would have seen a man in the balcony. That man had on a telephone headpiece and talked quietly but with force into the ear of the wire. His commands were commands of science. The lights obeyer. And laughter obeyed the lights.

Six operators at as many projectors obeyed the orders of Romaine W. Myers, master of illumination. The reflectors were used for laugh-making and awe-making purposes at the Panama Pacific Exposition. They were packed and ready for shipment to the Russian army when Myers discovered that he wanted them for laugh-making purposes at the Ad-Masque. And so the Russian armies must wait until the Ad-Masque is finished. Then they shall be re-boxed and sent on their way.

GREAT CANDLE POWER.

These six reflectors represented at a five-degree angle, a candle-power strength of 65,000,000. Each reflector was 18 inches in diameter. But, according to Myers, in many cases 95 per cent of the lights' strength was lost piercing the highly tinted screens, which gave the colored lights. These colored screens had presented another problem to the scientific Myers—the man who made the Ad-Masque laugh.

Dyes were high. Good screens were not to be obtained on the local market. So the director of the illuminating committee built up his own tints and then placed them on the transparent plates. This was a large problem, but only one of many.

The house lights were used at times, but they played but a secondary role. Myers and his men were the illuminating masters. Their special apparatus did the work. Special circuits had to be built in the Auditorium electrical arrangement. And the projectors, on the word of Myers, were superior to those of the army or navy.

CREATIVE SCIENCE.

When the colored plates in front of the projectors revolved, it was as if the Ad-Masque were laughing unrestrainedly. Orange, amber, purple, green, blue, reds and many more revolved and played among the eager dancers. Following the pageant and just after the dance began something happened. It was all due to the creative science of Myers and his committeemen.

Suspended from the ceiling were fifty pounds of confetti. In a moment of silence a giant fan began to revolve. The fan was horizontally above the confetti. And in a moment the white confetti was floating in the air like snow. For only a moment it was white. Then, under the influence of the revolving colored plates the confetti became vari-colored bits of laughter. The pieces found their way to the floor in a blazing flood of colors. The musicians made music. The dancers trod the measures. The laughter of the Ad-Masque was at its height.

And the cost is ridiculously small. Not above $200, says Myers, whose genius accomplished the laughter. Other electrical laugh-makers were W. D. Kann, H. E. Sandoval, L. E. Voyer and George W. Ashlock Jr. Truly, the laughter at the Ad-Masque last night was long, loud and beautiful to the vision.

MR. KIPLING WAS RIGHT; PROVED BY AD-MASQUE

If Mr. Kipling, who remarked: "The colonel's lady and Judy O'Grady are sisters under the skin" had attended the second annual Ad-Masque, he would have believed that he wrote of the occasion in question, and not of some abstract case.

Those thousands who crowded the Municipal Auditorium last night came bent on pleasure and on sharing that pleasure with whomsoever they were afforded the opportunity to so do with.

It was not difficult for even the most strict conformer to conventionality, for even as one stepped from limousine or the more humble street car one was greeted with a shock of pageantry in the brilliancy that limned the majestic outlines of the building into the most alluring of visions.

Once inside, the impression that worked its wiles aforesaid became virulent, and abandon became a welcome visitor where other time would be only the incentive for most strict demeanor. Long ere the pageant was finished the spirit of frivolity that pervaded the floor made its effect felt on those who looked on and when the time came for spectators to become participants, the rush to become a part of the play was unanimous and mistress and maid scorned not to smile one at the other as the current of music-impelled humanity swung them into the magnet of the eddy.

Ad-Masque Winners

The committee named to award the prizes for exhibitors in the Ad-Masque has made the following selections:

Winners of prizes will please send name and address to George W. Fitch, care Oakland Chamber of Commerce, and check for prize will be sent.

Oakland Police Make Showing at Fiesta

Oakland's police were burdened with a responsibility, although in all that orderly crowd it didn't seem possible that their help would be necessary. Nevertheless, uniformed men watched their wards and watched them well. Rowdyism was lacking, anyway, but the presence of the men in blue did much to keep everyone in the paths of honest fun.

Wending their way through the crowd of dancers and merry-makers, plain clothes men of the local force watched for evidences of sneak thievery. They did their work in secret but it was well done.

BIZARRE SHAPES RESPLENDENT

By Gene Baker.

Balloons, cardboard pickles, boy scouts and fairy queens, ten thousand or more people suffused in colored lights from the rearmost tiers near the sun and rain mellowed streamers beneath the lofty skylight. Shouts and cheers along the corridors where the procession formed and waited, joking and laughing, clogging the long, wide white passages until no one could have passed through its bizarre depths. Searchlights and bands, floats and dancing boxes—that was the Ad-Masque.

CARNIVAL IN WAITING.

Before the opening signal the carnival was outside—within the arena all was decorous and pale—a mere audience politely looking down from rising heights upon a great empty maple floor roped off by guards. The guards took profound joy in their efficiency and frightened from the doors any non-boxholder who tried to pass their drab uniforms, even after the ten thousandths seats had been filled to the last row in the gallery. Nothing of the spectacle was visible. No one really expected the spectacle as time went on, until it really wound its way into the great oval.

Outside, enormous and remarkable shapes jostled against one another. A giant candy-box crew shifted from foot to foot chatting to tall black Ethiopian slaves who were to carry the chariot of Cleopatra. The irrepressible Colonial dame chatted with a mock policeman. Gypsies, catsup bottles with human heads concealed beneath their shining paper tops and human stockinged legs sticking out below, the usual throng of sportive clowns hoarsely laughing. Sis Hopkins, girls and boys carrying enormous yellow pencils, a stork bobbing its long bill with its advice to visit somebody's stork department, birds and animals and Pierrots in yellow caps packed the roadway. Dancers fled shrieking up the runways to the galleries and down again among the decorous crowd. Quaint faces under pointed caps looked out from the top of an elongated tube of yellow cambric that wound its way along like an enormous jointed earthworm. That was behind the scenes.

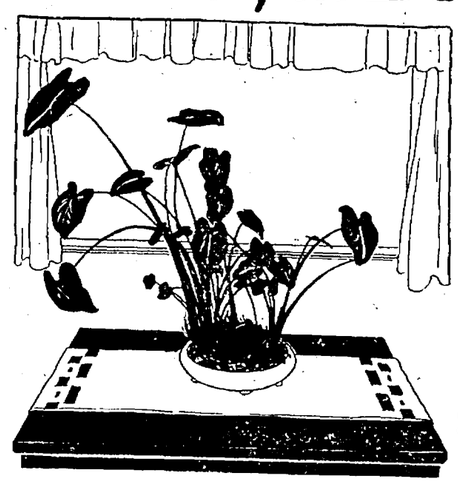

CAMERA MEN BUSY.

The photographers were the real heroes of the occasion. They rushed through the crowds inside and out, followed by boys with badges and men with ladders, and succeeded in capturing the most riotous costumes of the thousands. One—untroubled by the twenty thousand eyes that might have been fixed on him—climbed to the top of a tall ladder outlined against the white haze of the footlights till he stood backgrounded by scenery.

A booming sound, a heavy puff of smoke rushing up swiftly to spread slowly in a black cloud, and a wave of laughter broke from the galleries—its broken elements combining in a phrase of gaiety—careless, buoyant, a happy kind of thing. He had the queen in her silvery rainbow splendor sitting on the middle of the stage, and the amusing events had begun.

Walled around by precise and formal box parties of much glitter, the wild and riotous shapes began to pass in a procession that marched indefinitely on, folding in upon itself until the auditorium floor was one mass of groups and figures in orderly movement. Commerce had managed to make itself as curious and as picturesque as the ancient priests had made the processions of ancient worlds.

Japanese Immo Plants in Beautiful Bowls

Just Received

—a great shipment of several gross of the Immo or Japanese Waterlily and Pottery Bowls!

We place them on special sale for a LIMITED PERIOD after which they will be sold at regular prices.

The bulb is about five or six inches across and weighs about one pound. The tender heart-shaped green leaves upon the tip of the slender reddish stems, quivering and nodding under the least influence of breeze, are really a fascination. As a house or porch plant it is excelled by none.

How to grow: The Immo plant is extremely hardy and requires but little care. Keep it in a dish of water—that is all. A warm dark place, however, helps its budding. The direct sun seems to retard the growth and, therefore, if you like it in dwarf shape, keep it in the sun. On the contrary if you want it to grow tall, keep it in a partly shaded place. The plant lives for a year at least.

The bowls alone, shown in beautiful assorted colors and sizes, are more than worth the sale price of plant and bowl.

MIRAGE LURES SHIP TO RUIN

Captain and Crew of Ill-Fated Schooner Kona Become Bewildered.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15. — A mirage lured the American schooner Kona of this city to its destruction on Kangaroo Island, south of Australia, two weeks ago, it was learned today from a cablegram received today from Captain A. Hansen, master of the craft. A shore line sometimes visible and sometimes invisible; headlands that retreated and advanced, remaining, apparently, the same distance from the ship, no matter which way she turned, destroyed the calculations of navigation and finally landed a bewildered captain and crew ashore.

Captain Hansen's statement is amplified by a report received by the United States hydrographic office from the schooner W. H. Marston of San Francisco, which saw the same mirage and narrowly escaped a similar fate.

The Kona was passing through Investigator Strait and the Gulf of St. Vincent on her way to Adelaide, Australia. The strait, more than 100 miles wide, runs north and south. Captain Hansen sailed eight miles off the west shore during the first night, but at dawn he was surprised to see not only the western, but also the eastern shore line.

The latter appeared eight miles to starboard. Here was a strait 100 miles wide that appeared sixteen. Captain Hansen and his mates decided they were victims of an optical illusion. So they sailed in a wide zigzag, and the eastern shore was always just on the horizon, while the western shore behaved as normally, disappearing and reappeared as the ship altered its course. So the navigators decided that the early land was a mirage. But later the mirage became a reality, and near the entrance of the gulf the vessel went on the beach of Kangaroo Island.

The Marston saw the same mirage, but avoided it.

Notable Gift Made Church Pension Fund

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—Of $676,000,000 given to all benevolences in the United States in 1916, the largest single amount was $11,000,000, which went to the pension fund of the Methodist-Episcopal church. Joseph B. Hingeley, corresponding secretary of the board of conference claimants, made this statement at a session of the board, which is holding its annual meeting here.

"DEAD" CAT COMES TO LIFE.

SPRING GROVE, Pa., Feb. 15.—When a cat belonging to Elwood Shive, a trapper, was missed, he searched and after ten days found it caught in a muskrat trap. The cat apparently was frozen to death. Picking up the trap with the cat in it, Shive took it home and put it near a stove. Two hours later a faint "meow" was heard from the "dead" cat. After being fed warm milk it seemed none the worse for its experience.

MILCH COW BRINGS $5000.

ROME, N. Y., Feb. 15.—At an auction sale of the Boyson herd of registered Holstein-Friesan cattle, Cramelle Topsy Ormsby Tobe, the world's champion milk producer under 4 years, was sold to Charles Squires of Barneveld, N. Y., for $5000.

GOLD ON LUNGS CONTRACTED BY MONEY HANDLER

X-Ray Shows Deputy Treasurer Perkins Is Auriferous

TRIBUNE BUREAU
633 MARKET ST.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—Gold has been extracted from quartz, from placer gravel, from the black sand of the seashore and even in infinitestimal quantities from the water of the ocean, but it remained for City and County Treasurer John E. McDougald to discover a new source for the precious metal. He has located a walking mine in the person of his head cashier, C. B. Perkins, who has been compelled to retire for a time under physician's orders. Perkins is suffering from gold on the lungs.

Perkins did not know that he was auriferous until he consulted a specialist and it was revealed by a X-ray photograph that his lungs are greatly congested with gold dust. For fifteen years he has stood at the counter handling gold coins—something like $800,000,000, or 106 tons in all—and from this mass of metal he has breathed in day by day microscopic flakes until his lungs became heavily charged with the yellow dust.

Perkins has gone to Los Gatos to take the gold cure—not for intemperance, but for plethoric auritis.

No "San Ho-Say" for Eastern City

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 15.—Citizens of San Jose, Ill., have protested against the action of the Chicago and Alton Railroad in instructing its employees in pronouncing the name of the town to use the Spanish pronounciation, phonetically San Ho-Say."

Always the citizens have Anglicized the pronunciation to sound as if S-a-n J-o-s-e were the phonetic spelling. A petition by the commercial association, said to have been signed by nearly every citizen of the town, protesting against "San Hosay" has been forwarded to President Bierd of the Alton.

Later President Bierd said that the company's brakemen would be instructed to use the Anglicised pronunciation in calling San Jose.

Vice Crusade Is Started in Chicago

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—A campaign to rid the downtown district of resorts masquerading as "massage parlors," resulted in a raid upon a Loop building and the arrest of two women who gave their names as Frieda Rogers and Margaret Trant, both of Los Angeles, Cal. A man, who said he was Dr. J. W. Hipple of Kokomo, Ind., was taken to the police station and promised to testify against the women.

W. C. T. U. TO MEET.

FRUITVALE, Feb. 15.—The Fruitvale W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. M. Radzvill, 2929 Peralta avenue, next Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. The program will consist of a memorial to the late national president, Frances E. Willard.

FEED SEVENTY-FIVE KIDDIES.

WOODLAND, Feb. 15.—For thirty years Mr. and Mrs. William More, who have no children of their own, celebrated their wedding anniversary each year by giving a dinner for all the children in their home district. Today the Mores entertained their little friends as usual. There were seventy-five in the party.

'LEAK' GAMBLERS' NAMES UNKNOWN

Probe Committee Is Unable to Ascertain Officals Who May Have Dealt in Stocks.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—There is no way for the Congressional Committee investigating the "leak" on President Wilson's note to the belligerents to learn the names of officials who may have dealt in the stock market under other persons' names unless the "dummies" themselves come forward and give the information, the committee was told at its hearing today. The main purpose of the inquiry here, the committee has announced, is to get at officials if there are any who have been profiting by advance information as to impending acts of the government.

Broker after broker was put on the stand today and asked whether there were any persons in official life at Washington among their customers, and each one said there was none. Late in the session Representative Philip P. Campbell asked L. V. Sterling of Logan & Bryan whether the lists of customers would reveal speculating officials.

"You might have the name of every customer of every broker in the United States and not discover such officials, if they were dealing through a third party whose name alone appears as the customer," Sterling said.

"Is there any way of finding out if any officials are dealing?" asked Campbell.

"No way that I know of unless such customers whose names do appear and who may be trading for an unknown party come forward and divulge his name," Sterling said.

The name of Joseph P. Tumulty, President Wilson's secretary, was again brought into the inquiry when James B. Regan, hotel proprietor here, was asked the direct question whether or not during a visit of Tumulty here on December 17 and 18 he gave Regan any hint as to a prospective peace note.

"Positively not. I wish he had," replied Regan, who added that he had no discussion with Tumulty regarding affairs at Washington.

TELEGRAPHIC TABLOIDS

NEWTON, N. J.—Rue Marion, "the bad boy of Newton," has been operated on by a surgeon, also by a rawhide and a birch twig to no purpose, so now he must go to the reformatory.

PHILADELPHIA.—The Second artillery has lost about $100,000 worth of guns and equipment somewhere since it returned from the border. Special squads are rounding it up today.

YONKERS, N. Y.—Assemblyman George Blakeley found his lost false tooth. He coughed it out of its refuge. It had been hiding for weeks somewhere down behind his epiglottis.

NEW YORK.—The outcome of that suit in which Mrs. Marion Haley sued her mother-in-law for alienating her husband's affections was a verdict for $20,000 against the mother-in-law today.

NEW YORK.—Iron well your clothes. Death to each and every individual germ of whatsoever disease is certain if you flatten them well with your sizzling flatiron. A health department report says so.

KASSON, Minn.—Because Rev. John D. Hollister, Methodist Episcopal minister here, attended a public dance and then gave a sermon on it this town is all wrought up over it. Hollister says he is going to save Kasson's other half by mingling with it.

SAN FRANCISCO.—C. B. Perkins, cashier in the county treasurer's office, is suffering from "gold on the lungs." For fifteen years he has been breathing in particles of gold scraped from coins in payment.

SAN FRANCISCO.—"While shoveling dirt he changed his stroke and badly sprained his back," reads J. M. Sprinkle's application for compensation filed with the state workmen's compensation commission.

WOODLAND.—William More and his wife celebrated their thirty-first wedding anniversary by feeding 75 children at their home.

"Axe Threat" Reveals "Missing" Defendant

The threat of a deputy sheriff to smash the steamship "Governor" with an axe for the purpose of serving a defendant in a civil action came to light yesterday before Superior Judge William Donahue, when it was shown that Attorney L. R. Weinmann, representing the plaintiff, Mrs. Lydia Fielding of Alameda, who held a note of $1700 signed by Edward A. Anderson, engineer on the ship, had saved the action from the statute of limitations by engaging the services of an official.

Testimony was introduced to show that twenty-six visits were made to the ship in vain by process servers. Finally Deputy Sheriff John Riley undertook the commission and on being refused information declared that he would search the ship for his man with an axe. The papers were served and judgment given for Mrs. Fielding.

Attorneys Withdraw in Sharon Estate Contest

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—Attorneys John L. McNab and Walter H. Linforth last night withdrew from the contest inaugurated in the courts by Frederick Wallace Sharon for half of the $2,600,000 Frederick William Sharon estate, after a declaration that Superior Judge J. V. Coffee, before the action has appeared, was "biased" and "hostile."

In their declaration the two attorneys refer to the "peculiar and unusual actions" of the judge, which they allege has impressed them with the belief that they cannot obtain a "fair and impartial trial for our client." Formal notice of their withdrawal from the case was filed in the superior court late last night. The attorneys expressed the hope that "some other counsel" can be "more successful in securing a just consideration."

Woman May Be Named to State Commission

DENVER, Colo., Feb. 15.—That a woman may be named to membership on the Colorado Industrial Commission was intimated today when Governor Julius C. Gunter, in response to a request from Mrs. Helen Ring Robinson, former State senator, and a delegation of women promised to consider such an appointment.

AUTO STRIKES CALF; BOY IS MADE TARGET

Lad Is Injured by Living Projectile As a Result of Accident

RICHMOND, Feb. 15.—Fate must have had a grudge against 10-year-old Alfred Hoffman yesterday, otherwise he would have been perfectly safe on a fence post where he was perched to shoot sparrows with a sling-shot. As it was, a red bull calf interfered and there was a catastrophe.

The calf obstructed the roadway at the identical moment that H. E. Honmeyer of Pinole lost control of his automobile. There was a wild mix-up of calf and motor vehicle and in the melee the calf was hurled violently against the fence post, knocking young Hoffman to the ground with a thud.

Honmeyer picked the lad up and placed him in the front seat, bundled the calf into the tonneau and set out at top speed for the office of Dr. C. E. Camp. Young Hoffman was treated about the head, face and chest. The calf escaped scatheless.

WOMAN MORTGAGE SUIT VICTOR.

When Robert A. Russ and Robert E. Haley, a well borer, disagreed to the signature on a mortgage of Mrs. Ellen Haley, Superior Judge William H. Waste yesterday sustained the plea of Mrs. Haley and set the instrument aside. The document covered Alameda property valued at $750. Robert E. Haley, a son of the woman, endeavored to have the lien validated.

MAN ACCUSED OF KIDNAPING GIRL

Hanna Vehon, 15, Flees From Portland With Paroled Burglar.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—A girl of 15 was taken into custody last night by the police and the man with whom she was living was charged with kidnaping.

The child, Hanna Vehon, came here from Portland, Ore., two months ago with Thomas King, aged 22, on his promise, she said, that they would get married.

The girl was 13 when she met King, just after he had been put on probation for burglary. She knew that he had been in some kind of trouble, but did not know what it was. She began by sympathizing with him and soon fell in love.

Then, she says, King told her if she would come to California with him, he would marry her. She says she thought, in spite of her youthful looks, she could deceive the marriage license clerk, but apparently there was no effort to obtain a license.

The Portland police asked that the arrests be made. The girl will be sent back to her father and mother, and King will be turned over to a detective from Oregon.

Whist Party Dates Changed by Order

The date of the monthly whist party given by the Daughters of Isabella for the shoe and stocking fund has been changed to the third Friday of each month. The next party will take place tomorrow at the K. C. hall, Thirteenth and Grove streets, at 2:30.

ADMITS COUNTERFEITING.

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 15.—Frank M. Nichols pleaded guilty in the United States District Court here to counterfeiting silver dollars, and was sentenced to three years in the federal prison at McNeil Island.

Wilson Congratulates Pioneer Suffragist

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—In the stress of the most serious international crisis in the nation's history President Wilson has found time to write a cordial birthday letter to Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, pioneer suffragist, who is celebrating her seventieth birthday at Florence villa, Florida.

"You certainly have many years of self-sacrificing work to look upon with pride," the President wrote. "I want to join with your other friends in wishing you many returns of your birthday and an increasing happiness as they come."

Honest Advertising

THIS is a topic we all hear now-a-days because so many people are inclined to exaggerate. Yet has any physician told you that we claimed unreasonable remedial properties for Fletcher's Castoria? Just ask them. We won't answer it ourselves, we know what the answer will be.

That it has all the virtues to-day that was claimed for it in its early days is to be found in its increased use, the recommendation by prominent physicians, and our assurance that its standard will be maintained.

Imitations are to be found in some stores and only because of the Castoria that Mr. Fletcher created. But it is not the genuine Castoria that Mr. Fletcher Honestly advertised, Honestly placed before the public, and from which he Honestly expects to receive his reward.

Stomach Relief! Stop Indigestion Gas, Sourness---Pape's Diapepsin

In five minutes! Neutralizes stomach acidity, relieving dyspepsia, heartburn, distress. Read!

Time it! Pape's Diapepsin will sweeten a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach within five minutes.

If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is usually a sign of acidity of the stomach.

Get from your pharmacist a fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches or dizziness. This will all go, and, besides, there be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin helps to neutralize the excessive acid in the stomach which is causing the food fermentation and preventing proper digestion.

Relief in five minutes is waiting for you at any drug store.

These large fifty-cent cases contain enough "Pape's Diapepsin" to usually keep the entire family free from stomach acidity and its symptoms of indigestion, dyspepsia, sourness, gases, heartburn, and headache, for many months. It belongs in your home.—Advertisement.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Common Garden Sage and Sulphur Makes Streaked, Faded or Gray Hair Dark and Youthful at Once.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

A DAGGER IN THE BACK

That's the woman's dread when she gets up in the morning to start the day's work. "Oh, how my back aches." GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules taken today eases the backache of tomorrow—taken every day ends the backache for all time. Don't delay. What's the use of suffering? Begin taking GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules today and be relieved tomorrow. Take three or four every day and be permanently free from wrenching, distressing back pain. But be sure to get GOLD MEDAL. Since 1696 GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil has been the National Remedy of Holland, the Government of the Netherlands having granted a special charter authorizing its preparation and sale. The housewife of Holland would almost as soon be without bread as she would without her "Real Dutch Drops," as she quaintly calls GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. This is the one reason why you will find the women and children of Holland so sturdy and robust.

GOLD MEDAL are the pure, original Haarlem Oil Capsules imported direct from the laboratories in Haarlem, Holland. But be sure to get GOLD MEDAL. Look for the name on every box. Sold by reliable druggists in sealed packages at 25c, 50c and $1.00. Money refunded if they do not help you. Accept only the GOLD MEDAL. All others are imitations. Guaranteed and sold by The Owl Drug Co.—Advertisement.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

KEEP A JAR OF MUSTEROLE HANDY

It Quickly Loosens Up Coughs and Colds in Throat or Chest

Just a little Musterole rubbed on your sore, tight chest before you go to bed will loosen up congestion and break up most severe colds and coughs.

Musterole is a clean white ointment made with oil of mustard. Simply rub it on. No plaster necessary. Better than mustard plaster and does not blister.

Thousands who use Musterole will tell what relief it gives from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsilitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet and colds.

CLERK'S RECOVERY ASTONISHES OAKLAND

Oakland people will marvel at this clerk's recovery. His stomach was so bad he could eat very little. Everything fermented and soured. Had stomach cough. Doctor advised buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka. ONE SPOONFUL helped him INSTANTLY. Because Adler-i-ka empties BOTH large and small intestine it relieves ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas and prevents appendicitis. It has QUICKEST action of anything we ever sold. Plays & Players

DAVID ALBERTO IS TO BE ORPHEUM STAR.

The lure of Orpheum vaudeville has proved a potent to draw young David Alberto, the Oakland piano marvel, from his haunt in the musical world, the Oakland Orpheum management having just made the announcement that young Alberto will make his debut in vaudeville next Sunday. This news comes as a climax to the sensational stories during the last week that pictured Alberto as the hero of a pretty romance, involving a secret marriage to the former Countess Oeriss von Ehrmsword.

David Alberto is a striking looking picturesque musical figure and one glimpse of him is sufficient to explain why the countess would have lost her heart to him in Vienna five years ago. David Alberto was then but 20 years of age. The Countess Oeriss von Ehrmsword was then attending the Ohlin Academy in Vienna. They wedded.

The girl bride feared to tell her father, Baron Carl von Ehrmsword, of her romance, so she returned to him and her secret remained her own until two years ago, when she was reunited with David Alberto, who is known to Oakland as David Albert Cohn, a member of a well known family of artists and financiers.

"FREE MARKET" PROVES HIT AT COLUMBIA.

"Twenty Minutes at the Free Market," the new musical comedy from the pen of Harry Bernard, is proving one of the biggest hits of the season at the Columbia theater this week, where Will King is playing the leading comedy role of Ike Leschinsky, the owner of the free market from which the comedy takes its name.

"Twenty Minutes at the Free Market" concerns the adventures of Leschinsky, whose money proves a charm with which he hopes to win the hand of Irene Hogan (Clair Starr), the marriageable daughter of Mike (Harry Bernard). How both Mike and Ike reckoned without their host in George Wells (Reece Gardner) is told in three rollicking acts, concluding with a scene depictive of the free market as maintained on Lower Broadway.

One of the big features of the performance is the specialty act offered by Jimmie James and Frances Lysle. James is a good accordion player and his partner, a diminutive singer and dancer, is responsible for a great deal of the applause.

DOUBLE BILL STILL ATTRACTS AT KINEMA.

With the week half gone, Mrs. Vernon Castle and Clara Kimball Young in a mighty double program, still continue to attract a deal of attention at the new Oakland Kinema Theater. The unusual spectacle of cinema productions remaining for a week's or more run in this city, appears to be a testimonial to the value of these specially selected photo-dramas.

Mrs. Castle in "Patria" has established herself as a prime favorite, due to her beauty, grace and charm, as well as to the gripping plays. The first and second chapters of this novel are now on the screen, and will remain for the balance of the week, when the third chapter will begin. Clara Kimball Young also continues to be a sterling attraction in her latest play, "The Foolish Virgin." Saturday night sees the final performances, while Sunday brings the widely-known cinema interpretation of Winston Churchill's "The Crisis."

In "The Crisis" one sees a human Lincoln—a titanic Lincoln. As Thomas Edison says: "His actions and his characteristics are now preserved for posterity in motion pictures and in a manner so true to life that it recalls to my mind the great emancipator as I knew him."

T. & D. FILMS ARE STRIKING OFFERINGS.

Vivian Martin, in "The Wax Model," and Edith Storey in "Money Magic" are the two attractions at the New T. & D. theater, Eleventh street at Broadway, this week end. In "The Wax Model" a young girl, left an orphan at an early age, commences life as a nurse girl, but on account of her pretty face and figure attracts too much attention and loses her position. She accepts the offer of an admirer and becomes his model. In her new sphere she is surrounded with a host of friends whose lives are spent in the gay revelry of merrymaking. How she resists the unwelcome attentions of men of the world of Bohemia and runs straight is one of the strong points of influence this picture portrays.

Edith Storey in "Money Magic," and whose appearance at the theater in person last evening created so much favorable impression, made another mark for herself in the annals of picturedom by her clever work in this play.

KELLERMAN FILM SCORES AT RELIANCE.

"A Daughter of the Gods" is now well along in its phenomenally successful engagement at the Reliance theater and capacity houses continue. Beautiful in story, gorgeous in its settings and perfect in its artistic detail, this picture is regarded as one of the most remarkable of screen achievements. It is an Arabian Nights' setting for the beautiful Annette Kellermann, whose perfection of form was the inspiration of the title.

"A Daughter of the Gods" is presented at the Reliance theater in a manner fitting its spectacular demands. Of the many noteworthy features, the orchestral score is one of the most important. The music was composed especially for the picture, and it follows with its every phase the pictorial action on the screen. The large orchestra is under the baton of Will Prior, a talented musician.

Matinees are given every day at 2:15. The evening performance begins at 8:15.

KOLB AND DILL MAKE OAKLAND LAUGH.

Back again to their first love after a whirl at the "movies," Kolb and Dill are scoring another of their old-time hits at the Macdonough theater this week in their new three-act farce, with music, "The High Cost of Loving," by Frank Mandel. Originally booked for one week the enormous demand for seats has made it necessary to hold the show for a second week at the Macdonough.

With a plot combining all the necessary elements for comedy, the new show is hilariously funny from curtain to curtain. A Purity League, with its foremost members under investigation for a youthful indiscretion and a case of mistaken identity combine to make the new offering an endless series of unusually funny situations, packed with bright lines.

In addition to the two principal comedians—an excellent supporting cast appears in the new show, including Henry Shumer and A. C. Van Slyke, both favorites in the Oakland stock companies; La Vida Winn, Frieda Hempe, James Liddy, Bill Jacobs, Lorenze Gillette, Honora Hamilton, Julia Blanc, Fren Frye and others.

Matinees will be played on Wednesdays and Saturdays during the two weeks' engagement.

"GIRL SHOW" CONTINUES HIT AT PANTAGES.

The "girl show" at the Pantages, a program entirely composed of pretty girls, from acrobats to comediennes, is the attraction this week at the Twelfth street vaudeville palace. There are twenty-six girls—and only four men on the bill—a triumph of feminism.

But, better than that, the show is a sparkling one that has made vaudeville history. The "Courtroom Girls," a great musical comedy offering, with Herb Brooke and Bob Milliken, clever comedians, entirely surrounded by feminine pulchritude, is one feature. The Four Fortia Sisters, wonderful women acrobats; Chisholm and Breen, in "A Shopgirl's Romance," a roaring farce, and other big attractions, are also on the bill of fare. The Chisholm and Breen act fairly glitters—and a wonderful travesty at the end simply consumes all in a gale of merriment. Other attractions on the bill are the Melvilles, the Three Symphony Maids, the Cook Sisters, "The Lass of the Lumberlands."

Next week another big show is promised.

"THE OUTCAST" AT BISHOP IS STRIKING.

In point of play, production and acting "Outcast," the current attraction at the Bishop Playhouse, is easily the best thing Manager Bishop has offered up to the present time. The play itself is one of the most unconventional and entertaining dramas seen for many seasons, and although but two settings are called for—one of them representing a bachelor's domicile and the other the elaborately furnished apartment the same bachelor has provided for the "Outcast," no better illustration of the advantages the revolving stage affords for completeness of atmosphere has been given us than these two settings.

Virginia Brissac as the Outcast — the pitiful, helpless little woman who wanders into the life of the wealthy bachelor, entertaining him only at first, then appealing to his sympathy and finally awakening a profound love that terminates in their marriage, gives a performance that stamps her as one of the finest emotional actresses on the stage today. Anthony Smythe as Geoffrey shares the honors in "Outcast" with Miss Brissac and Jane O'Rourke, Nolan Leary, Rodney Hildebrand, Hugh Metcalf and the rest of the players all do their share toward making it a flawless production.

"JIM BLUDSO" PROVES FRANKLIN FEATURE.

Wilfred Lucas, the star of the latest Triangle Fine Arts play, taken from the famous poem by John Hay, and known as "Jim Bludso," has previously appeared in the leading roles of four noteworthy Triangle features—"Acquitted," "Hell-to-Pay' Austin," "Rummy" and "The Microscope Mystery."

In "Jim Bludso" he has one of the most powerful roles ever allotted to a screen star. Not only does he, as engineer of the Prairie Belle, "hold her nozzle agin the bank till the last galoot's ashore," but he also has many other stirring adventures. A remarkable feature of the play is the complete destruction by fire of the Prairie Belle, the Triangle Fine Arts studio having purchased a river boat and burned it to the water's edge in the production. Still another remarkable scene is the inundation of a Mississippi river town by flood after the bursting of a levee. Water is seen pouring down the streets in streams and coming up to the second story windows of the houses.

A scenic picture, a Triangle comedy and other features complete the program.

Are You Being Slowly Poisoned?

The most eminent physicians recognize that uric acid stored up in the system is the cause of gout and rheumatism, that this uric acid poison is deposited in the joints, muscles, or nerve-sheath. By experimenting and analysis at the Surgical Institute in Buffalo, N. Y., Dr. Pierce discovered a combination of native remedies that he called Anuric, which drives out the uric acid from the system, and in this way the pain, swelling and inflammation subside. If you are a sufferer from rheumatism, backache, pains here or there, you can obtain Anuric (double strength) at any drug store and get relief from the pains and ills brought about by uric acid.

Swollen hands, ankles, feet are due to a dropsical condition, often caused by disordered kidneys. Naturally when the kidneys are deranged the blood is filled with poisonous uric acid, which settles in the tissues of the feet, ankles, wrists or back as uratic salts; or under the eyes in baglike formations.

It is just as necessary to keep the kidneys acting properly as to keep the bowels active to rid the body of poisons.

The very best possible way to take care of yourself is to take a glass of hot water before meals and an Anuric tablet. In this way it is readily dissolved with the food, picked up by the blood and finally reaches the kidneys, where it has a cleansing and tonic effect.

Step into the drug store and ask for a 50-cent package of Anuric, or send Dr. Pierce 10c, for trial pckg. Anuric—many times more potent than lithia, eliminates uric acid as hot water melts sugar. A short trial will convince you.—Advertisement.

Compulsory Military Training to Be Topic

Compulsory military training, such as may become legal throughout the United States following potential action of Congress, will be the subject of debate Saturday at a public luncheon to be given in the main dining room of the Hotel Oakland. Physical education bills now before the state legislature will also be discussed.

Alameda county legislators have been invited to be present and join the general discussion. Representatives of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce have been invited to be present and it is likely that every element of the communities of the county will be represented when the talks begin. Senator William Sharkey of Martinez and E. B. DeGroot of San Francisco are among the listed speakers.

Two Thousand Attend Columbus Knights Ball

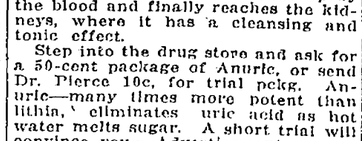

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—The pre-Lenten ball given last evening by San Francisco Council of the Knights of Columbus was attended by more than 2000 dancers who crowded the ball room and concert room of the Palace Hotel. The affair, which was given for the benefit of the relief fund of the order, will be made an annual institution. Colonel James E. Power was chairman of the committee on arrangements, William H. McCarthy was floor manager and the following were members of the committee in charge: Roderick Chisholm, Edward H. Coleman, James P. Fennell, Lawrence McAuliffe and Andrew J. Mahoney. There was a considerable reresentation from east bay councils.

"Living Pictures" to Be Feature of Program

For the benefit of the choir of St. Andrew's Episcopal church there will be given a program tomorrow evening in Starr King hall. Fourteen living pictures illustrating musical subjects will be one of the features of the entertainment. Among those who will participate in the program will be Mrs. Blanch A. Moody, piano; Mrs. Grace Lepage, soprano; Mrs. Anna Gould, contralto; Dean Donaldson, violin; Robertson, monologue.

U. S. Fortifying Chesapeake Bay

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Within the next ten days Cape Henry and Fisherman's island will be fortified with six-inch guns which will sweep Chesapeake bay. A squad of coast artillerymen from Fortress Monroe began work today on the platforms for the guns. The guns will have a range of from five to nine miles.

Mexico Note Declared Not Hostile to U. S.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 15.—The Mexican papers reiterate today that General Carranza's note to neutral nations was based on purely humanitarian grounds, and was neither pro-German nor directed against the United States. The editorials say that it is unlikely that Mexico would risk the hostility of a neighbor in favor of the doubtful friendship of a nation that is far away.

FILIBUSTER MAY BLOCK COAST WORK

Senator Kenyon Threatens to Prevent Passage of Rivers and Harbors Bill Unless His Substitute Is Accepted

Tactics May Delay Federal Improvements on the Pacific Extending From Bremerton Navy Yard to San Diego

Special to TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—That his filibuster will block the passage of the rivers and harbors bill calling for an appropriation of $39,000,000, unless his substitute bill providing for an appropriation of $25,000,000, which leaves out all new Pacific Coast items entirely, is accepted, was asserted here today by Senator Kenyon.

The original rivers and harbors bill, which has passed the House, and is now before the Senate for consideration, contemplated fourteen new projects for the Pacific Coast. The substitute bill provides for eleven new projects on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts, but leaves the Pacific coast out of consideration.

The effect of Kenyon's filibuster would be to block tremendous improvements, extending from Bremerton navy yard on the Washington coast to San Diego on the California coast, outlined under various Federal plans of extension, and upon the reports of several commissions, was generally conceded here today. The California delegation are laying plans to secure the passage of the rivers and harbors bill in its original form before the filibuster gathers headway.

Kenyon's substitute bill, by its rearrangements, provides for more extensive improvements in Federal equipment on the Gulf and Atlantic coasts than were at first covered by the rivers and harbors bill. The reduction of $14,000,000, it is said would still give the eastern and southern coasts larger Federal attention than was originally planned.

Kenyon's substitute bill would provide for the continuation of work on Oakland harbor as that is a continuing project, but it would prevent beginning work on the Richmond project.

Valuation Differs on Water Land Scale Made to Meet Conditions, Claim

Attempts to show that the Peoples Water Company had a valuation scale on certain water properties which changed to meet varying conditions, were made at the State Railroad's Commission's hearing on east-bay water rates, in the City Hall this morning.

The attempt was made during the examination of C. E. Grunsky, former city engineer of San Francisco, at present a consulting engineer, as a result of statements which he made on the value of Chabot lands. Under cross-examination, he submitted figures which are considered as one of the most important developments during the hearing by the attorneys for the east-bay cities, in their efforts to show over-valuation of water properties.

Testimony given by Frank J. Woodward, realty expert for the water company, who has been on the witness stand for three days, was to the effect that a valuation of $100 had been placed by him on the lands in question in 1904, prior to the fixing of the water rate by the City Council of Oakland. The following year, when the rate matter was called into question on injunction proceedings, a different rate of one-half of Woodward's rate or $50 an acre, was cited in the court proceedings, according to Partridge.

CITES VALUATIONS.

"In regard to the valuations of Vandercook, you will note the valuations fixed by Woodward are double those fixed by Vandercook—one being put in for a value to the city council for rate fixing purposes and the other prepared on the injunction proceedings—is that not correct?" asked Attorney Partridge.

"I wouldn't like to express my judgment on these valuations," Grunsky answered.

Grunsky went on to say that in his opinion, the Chabot lands were worth $1200 an acre at the present time. He declared he knew little about the corrections of the valuations of 1904 or the relative accuracy of either Woodward's figures or those of Vandercook.

"Didn't it make any difference to you which was right?" Partridge asked.

"It did not," the witness answered.

CONDEMNATION PROCEEDINGS.

Grunsky admitted that condemnation proceedings in the case of the Marin water district holdings had fixed the value of water lands at $22 an acre, with a supply capacity of 10,000,000 gallons a day. He declared that he had not formed an opinion as to the proportion in value between the reservoir and watershed lands. In the Chabot project, Grunsky declared that Woodward's valuation of $600 an acre irrespective of reservoir purposes a fair one.

The witness was questioned at length regarding the report which he had made to the water company, showing values of water holdings, sources of supply and other data of a technical nature. He said he had based much of his information on the knowledge and experience gleaned from Woodward and Vandercook's estimates and computations. On particular localities and districts, and the separate or itemized details he said he had no specific knowledge.

EDGERTON INQUIRES.

Commissioner Edwin O. Edgerton declared that Grunsky's testimony, that he considered other sources of supply being possibly used in the future, to open up the entire question of the other sources of supply, in the consideration of present valuations.

"Mr. Grunsky in his testimony has shown that they have a bearing on the value of reservoir sites, and in the absence of other cross-examinations, I am going to open them up myself," he said.

Phenomenal increase in value in the realty of the Peoples Water Company holdings on the San Leandro watershed over a period of twelve years from 1904 to 1916 was testified to yesterday afternoon by Woodward.

This gradual increase, according to the witness, affected some 5500 acres in all. In 1904 this property was valued at $553,794 by the water company officials. Last year this valuation had increased to $1,950,000, or nearly four times the previous valuation. Throughout the whole of Alameda county, according to Woodward, a remarkable increase in land values had been appreciable during the past ten to fifteen years.

Chief among the sections to feel this advance, which it was claimed was reflected in the increase of water property valuations, said the witness, were the Brooklyn, Eden and Washington township properties, Berkeley and Contra Costa county in the vicinity of Richmond and around San Pablo. Under the questioning of Chief Counsel Wiggington Creed of the water company Woodward declared that the water company lands which showed the greatest increase were at San Leandro and Richmond, where the increase in values had been abnormal.

BIG JUMP IN VALUE.

"How much has that increase amounted to?" asked Attorney John S. Partridge, representing the city of Oakland.

"Well, land which was valued at $400 an acre has gone up to as high as $3000 an acre," the witness answered.

"Would you say that the San Pablo properties purchased by the predecessors of the East Bay Water Company have increased five or six times as much as the normal properties of Alameda county?" was asked. The witness replied in the negative.

"Do you think the 8000 or 9000 acres of the San Pablo watershed have increased many times as much as other lands in the county?"

"Yes, sir. I think they have."

Woodward went on to state that in 1906 the water company owned 5500 acres in the San Leandro watershed—land which had already begun to creep in value. At the present time this holding, he declared, had been raised to 12,500 acres. The new lands lay for the most part in Contra Costa county, away from city development. The old lands remaining near the city development have been the ones that showed the increase, he said.

MORE THAN TREBLED.

"How many times have the 5500 acres increased in that period in value?" Partridge asked.

"They have more than trebled," said Woodward.

"Irrespective of any water properties they may possess, they are a gorgeous and glittering real estate speculation," Attorney Partridge commented.

Analyzing the prices of land comprehended among the various holdings of the water company, Woodward, under re-direct examination by Attorney Creed, enumerated the respective values per acre in different parts of the system. The average price for land in the San Pablo watershed he placed at $102 per acre for 19,033 acres; for 8000 acres at San Leandro, $78 per acre; 5637 acres in the Lake Chabot unit, $352 per acre: additional land, scattered, totaling 7804, at $126 per acre.

The total acreage of the East Bay Water Company, Woodward placed at 40,375, with a total estimated valuation based upon his best judgment formed after careful appraisal of $5,516,925. The average total value of all the lands of the water company system from the San Pablo watershed to Hayward, the southermost limit, he declared to be $136 per acre.

That the water company had not corralled all of the lands of one available type, was admitted by Woodward, when he declared that there were other lands in Contra Costa county comparable with water company holdings, and that, in some respects, were better. Holdings of the R. N. Burgess Company, he mentioned particularly in this regard.

TO CALL SMITH, HAVENS.

At the request of City Attorney B. D. Marx Green of Berkeley, Railroad Commissioner Edwin O. Edgerton, before whom the hearing is being held, declared for the advisability of summoning F. M. Smith and Frank Havens before the commission to testify in regard to the original purchase of water company properties. Records of early transactions, which tend to fix the original market value of the land in question, were lost in the San Francisco fire. It is designed to have Smith and Havens supply the missing information by verbal testimony. They will probably be called tomorrow or the day following.

Attorney Partridge announced yesterday that a compilation of data to be used in the cross-examination of Chief Engineer George Wilhelm of the water company was not yet complete, and asked for additional time in which to complete this work. Partridge waived cross-examination at the conclusion of Wilhelm's direct testimony to secure this data. Partridge intimated that he would be ready with this phase of the hearing by the end of the week.

There is every prospect, based upon the rate at which testimony is being taken and the great volume of facts which will have to be examined to enable the State Railroad Commission to make an adequate finding for the whole east bay district upon which a readjustment of prevailing water rates can be based, that the hearing will continue for a month or longer.

ACCUSED OFFICIAL FACES HEARING

Conspiracy Charges Are to Be Tried, Result of Contracts.

MARTINEZ, Feb. 15.—The preliminary hearing of W. W. Hughes, former assistant city engineer of Richmond, and W. L. Raven, contractor, on charges of conspiracy to defraud property owners of the Pullman district, Richmond, in the matter of sewer assessments, was resumed today.

Charges of conspiracy were brought following the abolishment of charges against Hughes to destroy public records. Hughes has appeared in local courts in connection with the Richmond case before, but this is Raven's first appearance here.

District Attorney Thomas D. Johnston and City Attorney D. J. Hall are prosecuting the case, while the defendants are represented by Attorneys J. E. Rodgers of this city and T. H. De Lap of Richmond.

Attorneys for the defense offered a demurrer against the charges setting forth that the charge does not constitute a public offense. The attorneys, however, being anxious to get rid of the case, stipulated that the justice might examine the demurrer later and proceed with the preliminary hearing, so the prosecution opened the case by putting James McVittie, city auditor of Richmond, on the stand. He was followed by City Clerk A. C. Faris. Both witnesses told of the alleged tally sheets that had been used and Faris testified regarding 12 certain estimate charts which he said had been supplied him by the city engineer's office. Faris stated in answer to Attorney De Lap that he did not know whether the figures on the charts are correct or not, but they were furnished by the engineer's office and the presumption is that they are correct.

District Attorney Johnston stated this afternoon that the prosecution had several more important witnesses to place on the stand and that the hearing would take up all the afternoon.

The prosecution of Hughes and Raven is the result of alleged estimates made on certain Richmond sewer assessments, in which Hughes is said to have conspired to defraud the property owners. Raven, the contractor, who did the sewer work, is said to have refunded the money collected in excess of the amount said by the city officials to be legal.

Make Trip From Vallejo by Canoe

VALLEJO, Feb. 15.—Ray Hitchcock, William Symons and Martin Foster returned Wednesday morning after a four days' canoe trip to San Leandro bay and return. The trip was made in a 22-foot Indian canoe constructed by Hitchcock, and the young men had several thrilling experiences, especially while in the vicinity of Point San Pablo. They left the Vallejo Yachting and Rowing Clubhouse at 5 o'clock last Saturday morning for Oakland, but the water was so rough in the vicinity of Richmond that they landed at that beach and made the rest of their journey by train. They returned to Richmond on Sunday and as the weather conditions were perfect for canoeing they made a quick run in their craft to the Aeolian Yacht Club at Alameda.

Restaurant Proprietor Faces Statutory Charge

David A. Bliss, proprietor of the B. & L. Cafe, at Sixteenth and Broadway, was this morning arraigned before Judge William S. Wells on a charge of contributing to the dependency of a minor.

The specific charge is that three boys, all under twenty-one, were served with liquor in the cafe on the 4th of February. District Attorney Hynes and Deputy District Attorney Myron Harris are handling the case which is set for trial February 21.

The license was suspended by the city council for sixty days, although Chief of Police Petersen recommended the license be revoked.

FLYING 'PLANE' TALKS TO EARTH ON AIR VOYAGE

Experiment at Army Station Sets New Record

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 15.—Radio telegraphy between airplanes and land stations, a new phase of military aviation in which the army aeronautical academy here has taken a lead, has been given another successful demonstration. E. J. Simon, prominent radio engineer of New York City, temporarily attached to the aviation school here, flew to Dominguez Field, Los Angeles, with Captain Herbert A. Dargue as pilot, and succeeded in sending raido messages a distance of 112 miles to the receiving station at the school, it was announced.

During the round trip, which was made without incident, Simon tested a new airplane radio and expressed himself as well pleased with the result. The current for the sending set was derived from a small generator driven by a two-blade wind propeller.

Simon while at North Island is working in conjunction with Captain Clarence C. Culver in the development of radio telegraphy as applied to airplanes. Captain Culver and Simon also are interested in radio telephony, and experiments in this direction between airplanes in flight are expected to be conducted shortly.

SPEEDERS MUST ANSWER COURT

Livermore Justice to Order the Arrests for Failure to Make Appearance.

LIVERMORE, Feb. 15.—Warrants for the arrest of speeders who fail to appear in the Livermore justice court in answer to a summons, are to be issued in future, according to the mandate of Justice of the Peace G. S. Fitzgerald. Frank Howard and J. H. Stark of San Francisco, two alleged speeders, who did not obey a citation to appear before Judge Fitzgerald this week, are the first to be proceeded against under the new ruling. Upon their arrest they will be held under $50 bail.

Although a warrant is occasionally issued for the arrest of a speeder, this is the first time in Alameda county that a magistrate has decided to take such action in every instance of a non-appearance, without a substantial reason being given.

In intimating his new ruling Judge Fitzgerald called attention to the fact that many motorists did not come up for trial when summoned. This entailed trouble and waste of time on the part of the District Attorney's office and the constable in getting into communication with them.

"Five days' notice is given motorists after their arrest to appear in court. That ought to be amply sufficient," said Judge Fitzgerald. "Hereafter those who do not appear will be arrested unless they write before the day of the trial giving a good reason why they cannot appear."

F. B. Malden, realty operator of Oakland, was one of fifteen speeders cited to appear in Centerville justice court this week. He forfeited $25 bail.

DOUBLY PROVEN

Oakland Readers Can No Longer Doubt the Evidence.

This Oakland citizen testified long ago.

Told of quick relief—of undoubted benefit.

The facts are now confirmed.

Such testimony is complete—the evidence conclusive.

It forms convincing proof of merit.

James B. Wrench, merchant tailor, 5657 San Pablo Ave., Oakland, says; "I had a dull pain across my hips and pains in the top and back of my head. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and got prompt relief." (Statement given March 5, 1909).

On November 30, 1915, Mr. Wrench said: "My appreciation of Doan's Kidney Pills remains the same as when I first endorsed them. I seldom have need of a kidney medicine now and when I do, I use Doan's Kidney Pills. They quickly remove any trouble with my back and kidneys."

For All Pain

"The efficiency of any drug" says Dr. C. P. Robbins "is known to us by the results we obtain from its use. If we are able to control pain and disease by means of any preparation, we certainly are warranted in its use. One of the principal symptoms of all diseases is pain, and this is what the patient most often applies to us for, i. e., something to relieve his pain. If we can arrest this promptly the patient is most liable to trust in us for the other remedies which will effect a permanent cure. One remedy which I have used largely in my practice is antikamnia tablets. Many and varied are their uses. I have put them to the test on many occasions, and have never been disappointed. I found them especially valuable for headaches of malarial origin, where quinine was being taken. They appear to prevent the bad after-effects of the quinine. Antikamnia tablets are also excellent for the headaches from improper digestion: also for headaches of a neuralgic origin; and especially for women subject to pains at certain times. Two anti-kamnia tablets give prompt relief, and in a short time the patient is able to go about as usual."

—regarding milk prices

Certain competitors of the Miller Creamery Company have been circulating among our trade the statement that we intended to advance prices of milk on March 1st. This is absolutely untrue. There will not be any advance in our scale of prices on that date, nor at any future time if we can possibly avoid it. If the occasion arises when we feel that in justice to ourselves prices must be advanced, our customers will have advance notice of the contemplated raise.

There has been within the last few months a greatly increased cost attached to the distribution of milk owing to increase in drivers' wages and the advanced cost of horses' feed and of machine parts. If, as seems probable now, the producers of milk will require an advanced price on their next contracts, it may be that we will be compelled to raise the price of milk. Up to the present time we have absorbed entirely the advanced costs and will continue to do so unless they become prohibitive.

No advance, however, will be made if avoidable and certainly not without advance notice to our customers.

In this connection we wish to thank the thousands of Oakland housewives who have so loyally stood by us in our fight against the High Cost of Living and trust they will bear with us if it should happen that an increase in price becomes necessary.

Respectfully,

Miller Creamery Company

WOMAN DETECTIVE; DECLARES FICKERT

District Attorney Denies Declarations of New Mooney Case Factor.

TRIBUNE BUREAU
683 MARKET ST.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15. — "Mrs. Charlotte La Posee is a private detective, according to my information, and I expect to show that her statement regarding Oxman is either the product of her imagination or an instances of overzealousness on her part."

This was the statement of District Attorney Charles Fickert this morning in explaining that Assistant District Attorney Edward Cunha had been sent to Portland to investigate Mrs. La Posee. The latter declares that Frank Oxman, the prosecution's star witness against Thomas Mooney, was in front of the Phelan building and could not have been at Steuart and Market street, where he identified the bomb plot defendants during the preparedness parade.

Attorney Maxwell McNutt would not admit this morning that he intended to use an affidavit for Mrs. La Posee in supporting a motion for a new trial. He declined to discuss the case.

Amendment Closes Mails to Liquor Ads

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The Senate today adopted an amendment offered by Senator Jones of Washington to the Federal appropriation bill which closes the mails to newspapers and other publications carrying liquor advertisements into States in which such advertisements are prohibited. The amendment fixes a maximum penalty of two years' imprisonment and $1000 fine for publishers violating its provisions.

Junk Dealer Charged With Being "Fence"

Peter Harlamb, a second-hand dealer, was today charged by the police with receiving stolen goods following the arrest of Joseph Souza and Joseph Magill, two youths who sold him 100 pounds of lead stolen from Manning Bros. & Toffelmeyer, contractors on a job of laying new water pipes in Ninth street. The boys were charged with larceny.

R. Meade, a mechanic, was arrested by Patrolman Nellsen at the foot of Eleventh avenue on a charge of stealing heave chain tackles from differal engineering works on this side of the bay.

JAPAN WILL AID U. S., PROMISED

Would Back Americans in All Ways in War With Germany.

DALLAS, Tex., Feb. 15. — "In case the United States and Germany should go to war, Japan would use all her naval and military power to help the United States."

This was the declaration today of Y. Nagahima, head of Mitsui & Company, known as the "House of Morgan of Japan," and the biggest financial institution in the Orient.

"We may be a foolish people, as some nations believe," continued Nagashima, "but we are not so foolish as to think the friendship of Germany more valuable to us as a nation than the friendship of the United States.

"I believe the United States would be wise to go to war with Germany—we have found it most profitable."

Nagashima is here with his wife on a tour of the United States investigating financial conditions. He was recently in New York and Washington and heard the congressional debate over the immigration bill.

Infantile Paralysis Outbreak Is Predicted

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 15.—"California may reasonably expect an outbreak of infantile paralysis next summer or fall," said Dr. W. A. Sawyer, State health officer, today. "The extensive outbreak in New York last summer will most certainly prove a factor in outbreaks that may occur in many parts of the United States this year. So many transportation radii spread from New York City to all parts of the United States that many active cases and carriers are certain to have traveled from New York to other parts of the country. The travel between New York and California cities has been extensive during the past year."

SEGREGATION OF RACES PLANNED BY CHICAGOANS

St. Louis System to Be Put in Force by Law Makers

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—Solution of the race segregation problem, made acute in recent months by the steady influx of Southern negroes, is the aim of action taken today by representatives of the owners of 50,000 of the 100,000 better class apartments in Chicago. Segregation statutes, similar to the ones in force in St. Louis, will be invoked.

"We believe the interests of Chicago demand that white people shall not encroach upon the colored or the colored upon the white," I. O. Ackley, a member of the committee appointed to perfect plans for immediate action, said. "Therefore, we strongly urge the segregation of the races.

"Action taken recently in St. Louis has been decreed constitutional by the Supreme Court. It is, perhaps, the greatest piece of racial legislation since the fourteenth amendment."

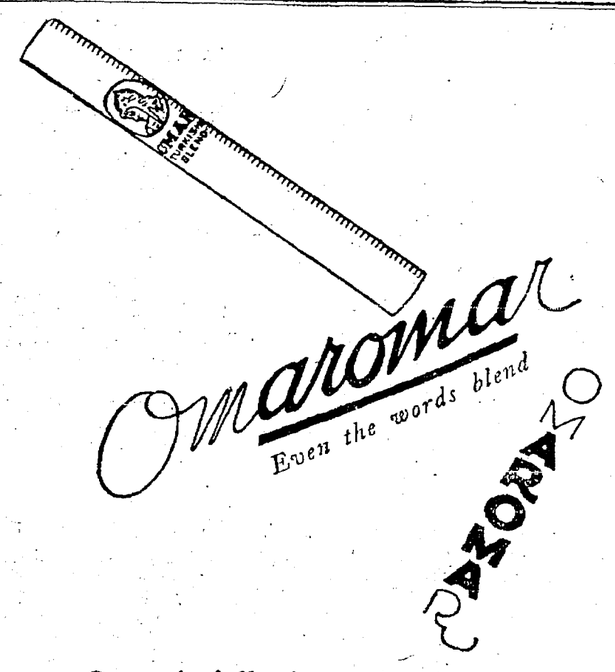

The real estate men have also determined upon May 1 as the date for a general 15 per cent increase in all Chicago rentals.

Man Long Believed Dead Returns Home

SANTA ROSA, Feb. 15. — After an absence of twenty-nine years, for a part of which he has been mourned as dead, Charles Meacham, son of one of the oldest families of this part of the State, came home yesterday to learn for the first time that his parents were dead and that a sister is the only other surviving member of the immediate family.

The sister, Mrs. D. C. Cameron, was standing at the gate when her brother approached and inquired if that was the old Meacham place. Neither recognized the other at first.

Meacham explained that he had been many years hunting gold in Alaska and elsewhere and had long been out of communication with the world.

Omar is full of pure, rich, fragrant aroma—smooth and yet superlatively fine. It is a new wonder of aroma—a triumph in the blending of rich Turkish and ripe accentuating leaves.

Omaromar spells aroma.

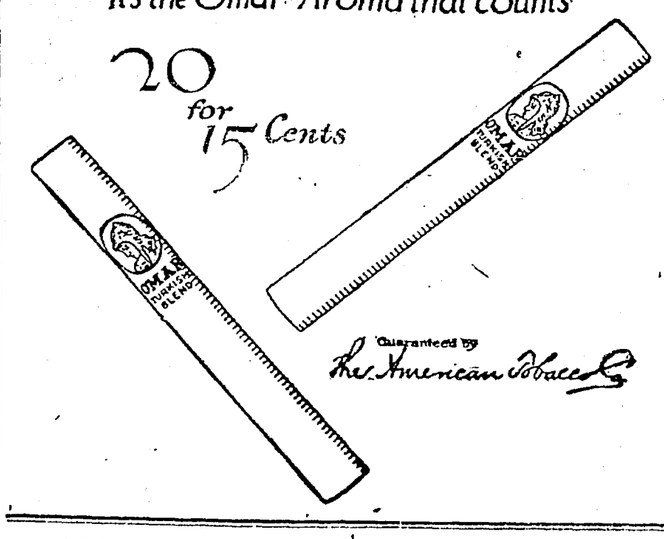

You can't separate 'em—not in writing, not in smoking.

LARNED ACCUSED OF $100,000 THEFT

Wilkesbarre Realty Man Says His Mother Would Have Squared Shortage.

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—Wanted in Wilkesbarre, Pa., on the charge of misappropriating funds said to total more than $100,000, Lewis M. Larned of the Wilkesbarre real estate firm of Frank W. Larned & Son, was arrested here last night as he stepped from a Michigan Central train.

Larned admitted a shortage of $15,000, the police said, but declared this was due to the fact that he had been unable to make good certain bonds. He said he was en route to Los Angeles to see his mother, who, he said, was Mrs. Stella Larned. Mrs. Larned, he said, has vast oil interests in the west.

"I was released on $25,000 bonds in Wilkesbarre on five charges and this arrest comes as a surprise," said Larned. "Maybe they'll get father, too, because of this. If they had let us alone, mother would have squared it."

A railway conductor, who had been furnished with a description of the man wanted, caused the arrest. Wilkesbarre police wired to detective department to hold Larned, pending the arrival of requisition papers.

New Infant Industry Is Growing Lustily

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—There was a considerable production of lithographic stone in the United States for the first time in its history during 1916, according to information received today by G. F. Loughlin, of the United States geological survey. One quarry at Brandenburg, Ky., turned out 40,000 pounds of finished stone, for the first time shipping it out of the state, buyers being found for this pioneer American variety in Cleveland, Washington, New York and Boston.

The greatest difficulty in the development of lithographic stone quarries in the United States has been the high cost of quarrying and preparing the stone in competition with the well-known Bavarian stone. Much of this stone is reported to occur in thin layers that require only planing and polishing before use, whereas all known deposits in the United States that are at all suitable for lithographic work occur in more massive beds that must first be sawed into slabs of proper thickness.

Seek All-Year Route Via Feather River

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 15.—Governor Hiram Johnson of California and Governor Ernest D. Boyle of Nevada will meet in the near future, at a date convenient to them both, to discuss the feasibility of developing the Feather River canyon road as an all-the-year route. Governor Johnson has already agreed to the conference, upon the request of the Sacramento Valley Development Association, and it is regarded as certain that Governor Boyle, who this week sent a message to Governor Johnson by automobile over the route in twenty-six hours, will accept the invitation. The Feather River canyon road will be urged as an all-winter route over the Sierra Nevada mountains, both from a military and a tourist standpoint.

127,590 Text Books Are Distributed Free

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 15.—Free textbooks to the total number of 127,590 were distributed to public school pupils in all portions of the state during January, according to figures given out today by William W. Dyas, bookkeeper in the office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction Edward Hyatt, who is in charge of the text-book shipments. This was the largest shipment of books to be made in any one month since January, 1914, when 129,000 text-books were distributed. The texts distributed this year included all subjects and went to pupils of all grades, states Dyas.

Wire Trouble Coming; Sun-Spots Appear

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—Telephone and telegraph companies have a fine alibi in case of wire trouble in the next few days. According to local solar students two immense spots have appeared on the surface of the sun and such spots, they declare, usually effect telephone and telegraphic communication, bringing electric storms to the earth. The spots visible now are enormous, say scientists.

U. S. Leads World in Fruit Exports

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Leadership of the world by the United States in the quantity of fruit exported was proclaimed by the Department of Agriculture today. In 1910 fruit valued at $18,505,000 was exported from this country. Five years later the value of fruit exported has climbed to $34,230,000. Fresh and dried apples comprised one-third of the value of these exports.

Second and third place in the fruit export trade are given to Italy and Spain, respectively.

Minnesota Bishop Is Near to Death

ROCHESTER, Minn., Feb. 15.—Physicians attending Samuel O. Eisall, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Minnesota, declare that death is but a matter of time.

Bishop Eisall came here Monday to address a church club. He was taken ill and removed to a hospital and immediately operated upon. Yesterday his condition became so serious that his family was called to his bedside.

Foreign Princes to Be Barred From Throne

MUNICH, Feb. 15.—A bill for excluding foreign princes from any possibility of succeeding to the ducal throne is now before the Diet of Saxe Coburg-Gotha. The chief aim of the measure is to make it impossible for any English prince to become Duke of Coburg in the event of the present duke, who is a grandson of Queen Victoria, dying without a male heir.

Indemnity for Greeks and Turks Approved

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—An appropriation of $41,000 to indemnify citizens of Greece and Turkey for property destroyed in a riot in South Omaha, Neb., in 1909, is proposed in a bill favorably reported to the House today by the foreign affairs committee.

We've said, many times, that our organization was not infallible. We try to tell the truth about every article offered for sale, but once in a while we slip up.

For example, the other day one of our boys told a customer that an alarm clock he was selling would run eight days without winding.

"Is that so?" replied the customer. "And how long do you suppose it would run if you wound it?"

HERE'S A NEW IDEA! A KODAK BANK

An Easy Way to Get A Kodak.

Come in, deposit a dime and get the use of a Kodak Bank for nothing.

These banks hold sixty dimes. We have the secret combination.

When you've saved up 20 dimes you can exchange your bank for a No. 2 Brownie, or with 30 dimes you can get a 2A Brownie—40 dimes entitle you to a No. 3 Premo Junior—50 dimes buy a No. 2 Folding Premo and 60 dimes an Autographic Brownie or Vest Pocket Autographic Kodak.

When you return the bank you get your deposit back. We put a slug in your bank when you get it representing the dime deposited.

You can also use these dimes for the purchase of other Kodak supplies. In fact, if you wish it, we will open them and give you the money.

This is a new way to save up for a Kodak.

WHO DEVELOPS YOUR KODAK FILMS?

Try Bowman's. You'll Be Pleased.

If you are interested in amateur photography and have not been having your films developed at Bowman's, you've missed one of the real joys of this pastime.

The results obtained from films left with us for developing and printing are very unusual. We have been able to bring out details and correct slight faults in a manner that has been a revelation to the snapshot fraternity.

In the first place, we employ experts at the work and we then equip these workers with the best of facilities and give them plenty of time to do high-class developing.

Every film receives individual attention and is developed according to its own peculiar requirements. In fact, we develop your films as carefully and as successfully as we would our own personal snapshots.

The result has been that Bowman's enjoy the bulk of the printing and developing business of the amateurs of this community.

THE KING OF LEAD PENCILS "EVER SHARP"

No Clutch, No Slip—Guaranteed.

A few years ago fountain pens were used by a few people. Today they are in general use because their practicability has been established.

Eversharp Pencils are going through the same process. Today but few people use them because the Eversharp screw and plunger mechanism has just been invented. The uninformed public does not realize the present practicability of those pencils.

The lead is very thin and therefore always sharp. It cannot slip as it is held in place by a plunger and adjusted by screw mechanism. $1.00 up.

KLENZOL TOMORROW SPECIAL, 17c

Klenzol is a wonderful spot remover. It is better than most preparations of its kind because it is not inflammable. It is used by many professional cleaners because it is instantly effective and does not harm the finest fabric. Tomorrow the 25c bottles will be sold for 17c for advertising purposes.

LOOK OUT FOR THE BUGS ON YOUR ROSES.

Now is the Time to Get Them.

Now is the time to get busy with rose sprays. The little green bugs are eating the tender green leaves.

In selecting a rose spray be careful that you get the right mixture. Don't kill the leaves and buds when you kill the bugs.

Bowman's Rose Spray is just the right kind for the roses that grow in this particular locality. It does not harm the leaves or the blossoms, yet it kills the bugs.

One 25c bottle diluted in water as per directions will be enough for any fair size garden.

BOWMAN'S LAXATIVE TRIANGLES

If your children dislike castor oil try our Laxative Triangles. They taste like candy, have no bad after effects and relieve constipation within a few hours.

Next to castor oil, we believe these little triangles are about the best thing for children (and grown folks) that we have ever known of. Forty triangles in a vest pocket box for 25c.

Society

A renaissance of the simple things when women worked all day and were joined by their men folk for the festivity of the evening will dawn next month. An old-fashioned sewing circle with an old-fashioned supper, and an old-fashioned program is something which is appealing very strongly to those who have heard of what is being planned for Thursday, March 1. Perhaps it is a patriotic zeal which is really the inspiration for the occasion. For women are giving not a little of their time and thought to "preparedness" which to them means largely making ready those piles of crisp garments which invalids and convalescents demand for their comfort. The Red Cross Society is encouraging the establishment of base hospitals which may be called upon in time of war or serious catastrophes. And the local chapters of Red Cross are active in supplying the western institution with the bedding, night shirts, convalesence robes, slumber boots, bandages, pillows which are officially on the list of necessities. That the work is being accomplished with a wonderful system may be seen from the exact patterns which are issued from Washington, D. C. for the various garments and the minute directions for making which accompany them.

It is very largely the smart set who are most enthusiastic in the strenuous work of preparation. While little groups have been meeting each week to devote their energies to serious effort, a gigantic thimble bee is announced for the first Thursday in March.

The directors of the Home Club have placed the handsome East Oakland club house at the disposal of the busy workers.

The high tea will be revived with the men folk joining their sisters and wives and sweethearts at the end of the long day for the merrymaking.

Mrs. Charles J. Woodbury has written an original play, full of humor and cleverness which will be presented during the evening with of course dancing as a feature.

✿ ✿ ✿

Miss Alice Hiestand will be the guest of honor at a charmingly arranged luncheon on Saturday which will have as its hostess Mrs. Clarence White. Mrs. White who has come to Berkeley to make her home from Honolulu, where she and her husband were prominent and presided over one of the show places there, is asking a coterie of mutual friends of herself and Miss Hiestand to share her hospitality. Miss Hiestand has not yet definitely decided upon her wedding plans although her marriage with Paul D. Bartlett will be one of the most beautiful ceremonies immediately following the Eastertide.

✿ ✿ ✿

A charmingly appointed dinner at Hotel Oakland last evening had as its hostess Mrs. Edward L. Lohmann. Mrs. Lohmann entertained the friends who later went on to the Ad Masque, making up one of the congenial box parties. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Lohmann, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Millwain, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Jules W. Morton.

✿ ✿ ✿

A house dance with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hunt Proctor as the host and hostess will bring together a congenial coterie of the married set tomorrow evening at the Proctor residence in Vernon Heights. The pre-lenten affair is arranged in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Albert Thornton, who returned from their honeymoon early in the month to take possession of attractive apartments in the Lakeside district.

✿ ✿ ✿

An elaborately appointed dinner is the compliment which Mr. and Mrs. William Mayo Newhall Jr., are offering tomorrow evening to Miss Beatrice Nickel and her fiance, George Bowles. Later the guests will go to the Fairmont to join the elaborate ball which Mr. and Mrs. George A. Newhall are giving in honor of their niece, Miss Emily Pope.

✿ ✿ ✿

Paymaster Frederick King Perkins, U. S. N., and Mrs. Perkins, will motor up from Coronado at the end of March to spend some time in the bay cities. They have many friends who will extend to them a royal welcome and who will make the days of their sojourn delightful with a round of entertaining. Paymaster Perkins has been attached to the Oregon which has been in southern waters for several months. He will await his new orders in San Francisco, enjoying a short leave.

✿ ✿ ✿

With Miss Denis O'Sullivan as her guest of honor, Mrs. Joseph G. Hooper entertained at a prettily appointed tea this afternoon at her home across the bay.

✿ ✿ ✿

The guests whom Mrs. Franklin Noah Dewey entertained at the St. Valentine luncheon yesterday afternoon numbered Mrs. Frank Helm of San Francisco, Mrs. E. C. McCullough of Manila, Mrs. Raymond A. Perry, Mrs. Herman Krusi, Mrs. Joseph Carlston, Mrs. Joseph R. Knowland, Mrs. William S. Rheem, Mrs. Joseph Smith, Mrs. Mary Green Cowin, Mrs. Robert Vallean, Mrs. Roscoe Westover. Dainty conceits of the season were used in the table decorations and lent the appointments to the game of bridge which followed during the later hours.

✿ ✿ ✿

Mrs. Percy J. Walker is asking friends to share the hospitality of her Piedmont residence on the afternoon of Friday, March 2, making the occasion one in compliment to Mrs. Leslie Rice. Mrs. Rice is being entertained extensively since it became known that her future home was to be established in Tucson, Arizona. She is leaving early in the coming month to join her husband who has already preceded her.

MISS ALICE CLAIRE SMITH (left) and MISS MARION KERGAN, two of the striking looking members of the younger set, who have been much in evidence this winter at smart affairs.

✿ ✿ ✿

Mrs. Frederick H. Bixby will be the favored guest tomorrow afternoon at the tea at which Mrs. Allen H. Chickering will entertain a large number of friends from about the bay.

✿ ✿ ✿

Mr. and Mrs. John Francis Smith are settled in the attractive home which they have leased in Berkeley while their son is completing his college course. They gave up their Piedmont home a few weeks ago. Mr. and Mrs. Wickham Havens have taken possession of the lovely hillside residence which they will occupy awaiting the building of their new place in the Crocker tract.

✿ ✿ ✿

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Kinney are extending their hospitality tomorrow evening to a large number of the younger set whom they are entertaining at a dance in honor of their daughter, Miss Kathleen Kinney. The Claremont Country Club will be the setting for the elaborate affair.

✿ ✿ ✿

The young friends of Loring Davis and Elliott Davis to the number of several score will enjoy the dance for which Mrs. Elliott B. Davis is planning tomorrow evening in the Claremont clubhouse. A supper at midnight will round out the delightful affair.

✿ ✿ ✿

The wedding of Mrs. Lucy Harrison Pfaff to Lieutenant Van Leer Kirkman, U. S. N., was quietly solemnized this afternoon at the residence of the bride's parents across the bay. Without any sort of announcement the marriage comes as a complete surprise to the many friends of the popular matron about the bay. Lieutenant Thomas L. Gatch of the United States steamer Maryland was the only attendant at today's ceremony. The young couple are enroute to the Atlantic coast, where they will visit with the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Van Leer Kirkman, in Nashville, and relatives of the bride in Virginia.

Lieutenant Kirkman has been assigned to shore duty at Mare Island. He has been stationed in San Francisco waters on the Chattanooga.

✿ ✿ ✿

Charles Everson and Mrs. Natalie Hildebrand were quietly married at the residence of the Rev. A. H. Needham in Milvia street, Berkeley, last evening. Mr. Everson is connected with the automobile business in Oakland. He is the son of the late Mark Everson, who was a pioneer merchant of Oakland, and resides with his mother, Mrs. Augusta Everson, at 424 Oakland avenue. He is a brother of the late Mrs. D. C. Collier of San Diego.

After a short honeymoon the couple will take up their residence in Oakland.

"Brownatone" Tints Your Hair In a Minute

Preferred to Slow Acting Dyes.

The straightest road and the shortest cut to the certainty of an attractive and beautiful appearance is the use of "Brownatone" Hair Stain.

This preparation will instantly change gray, streaked or faded hair to the softest and richest golden brown, medium, dark brown or black — just as you wish.

Just comb or brush it into your hair.

Impossible of detection, will not rub or wash off, and needs retouching only as the hair grows out.

"Brownatone" hair stain is far superior to "dyes," and is absolutely harmless in every way.

Y.W.C.A. to Co-operate in Red Cross Work

A class in first aid to the injured is being formed at the Y. W. C. A. It is being held under the auspices of the American Red Cross Association by Dr. Risdon. The course aims to teach women what to do in case of accident or illness until the doctor comes and is given in twelve lessons, each an hour long. One-half of each period is given to the theoretical basis for the work and the other half is taken up with practical demonstration.

An examination of the students will take place in April and the Red Cross certificates in first aid are issued to those satisfactorily passing by the officials of the Red Cross and Young Women's Christian Associations.

Wife Told to Charge Lazy Hubby for Meals

CHICO, Feb. 15. — Mrs. P. M. Hull was advised to charge her husband twenty-five cents a meal by City Recorder Geo. Le Rossignol when she appeared in the police court and told the judge she had to support her husband and three sons.

The youths were at court, they having been arrested late at night for running the streets. R. Hull, twenty, was ordered to go to school. The mother told a pathetic story. She said her husband claimed to be sick, but that doctors had told him he needed "work."

Justice Weds Couple With Sign Language

STOCKTON, Feb. 15.—Justice of the Peace Albert C. Parker, for twenty years famous as Stockton's "marrying justice," performed a stunt new to his friends today, when he married a deaf and dumb couple without the aid of an interpreter. Rene DeClercy, aged 37 years, and Nancy F. Stacks, aged 27, were the bride and groom. They came into the courtroom accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Gross, also mutes, whom Justice Parker married several years ago. The occupants of the courtroom were secretly amused when they found that DeClercy carried a marriage license and they thought that for once Justice Parker was stumped. To their amazement he began rapidly talking to the couple in the sign language. The ceremony proceeded without an audible word, Mr. and Mrs. Gross acting as attendants.

Cardinal Unshaken on Suffrage Issue

BALTIMORE, Feb. 15.—A delegation of twenty-four Catholic women from Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore discussed with Cardinal Gibbons yesterday woman suffrage. They said that while they were opposed to the "feminist" movement and other so-called movements, they felt in the question of voting women should have a voice.

The meeting was held behind closed doors. Afterward Cardinal Gibbons was asked if he had changed in his opposition to woman suffrage. He said:

"A man does not quickly change the views he has held for fifty years."

CAN'T FIND DANDRUFF

Every bit of dandruff disappears after one or two applications of Danderine rubbed well into the scalp with the finger tips. Get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store and save your hair. After a few applications you can't find a particle of dandruff or any falling hair, and the scalp will never itch.—Advertisement.

Captivating Mary Carstairs

By HENRY SYDNOR HARRISON

Beyond the Carstairs' fence of hedge the houses stopped with the sidewalk. The highway, having no longer anything to keep up appearances for, dwindled into an ordinary country road, meandering through an ordinary country wood. What could have carried Peter out here it was impossible to conceive, but clearly something had, and Varney raced on, hoping at every moment to descry his great form looming up ahead of him out of the blackness.

What luck—what beautiful luck—to have found her in his very first hour in Houston! It was half his work done in the wink of an eye. Tomorrow morning, the first thing, he would return to this quiet street, watch at his ease for the child to come outdoors, saunter calmly from his hiding place, make friends with her. By this time tomorrow night, in all human probability, he would be back in New York, his errand safely accomplished. That done, Peter could play politics to his heart's content. Meantime, it was more desirable than ever to tell him of these unexpected developments and deter him from taking any step which might complicate the game.

A loud thunderclap crashed across the train of his thought. Another and a worse one crowded close upon it. He glanced up through the trees into the inky cavern of the skies, and a single large drop of water spattered upon his upturned forehead.

"Hang it!" he thought, disgustedly. "Here comes the rain."

It came as though at his word and with unbelievable suddenness. Thunder rolled; the breeze stiffened into a gale. Another drop fell upon his hat, and then another and another. The young man came to an unwilling halt.

But he immediately saw that further pursuit was, for the moment at least, out of the question. The storm broke with a violence strangely at variance with the calm of the earlier evening. The heavens opened and the floods descended. Shelter was to be found at once, if at all, but as he hesitated he remembered suddenly that he had not passed a house in five minutes. In the same moment his eye fell upon a little cottage just ahead of him, unlighted and barely perceptible in the thick darkness, standing off the road not a hundred feet away. He made for it through the driving rain and wind, stepped upon the narrow porch, discovered immediately that it gave him no protection at all, and knocked loudly upon the shut door. He got no answer. Trying it with a wet hand, he perceived it was unlocked, and without more ado he opened it and stepped inside.

It was evidently, as he had surmised, an empty house. The hall was dark and very quiet. He leaned against the closed front door and dipped into his pockets for a match. Behind him the rain fell in torrents, and the turbulent wind dashed after it and hurled it against the streaming windows. It had turned in half an hour from a peaceful evening to a wild night, a night when all men of good sense and good fortune should be sitting secure and snug by their own firesides. And where, O where, was Peter?

Speculating gloomily on this and still exploring his pockets for a match, he heard a noise not far away in the dark, and knew suddenly that he was not alone. The next moment a voice floated to him out of the blackness near at hand, clear, but a little irresolute, faintly frightened.

"Didn't some one come in? Who is there?"

(To be continued tomorrow.)

Women Plan Potato Boycott; Cost High

MONROE, Wis., Feb. 15.—Women of this city who conferred on the high cost of living, decided today that they will institute a potato fast unless the price of tubers declines by the end of this week. It is proposed to abstain from potatoes until the price recedes. The women declare that in blockaded Germany sixty pounds of potatoes can be bought, if they are available, for 72 cents, while in Wisconsin, one of the greatest potato-raising states in the Union, consumers are paying four times that price.

Millionaire Bachelor Girl

Carol A. Harriman, daughter of the late E. H. Harriman, is probably one of the best known of millionaire bachelor girls. She is prominent in outdoor sports and in fact is the leading spirit in the Glen Arden Club, founded by her late father, and is an ardent follower in the hunts. So enthusiastic is she about this sport that when there is nobody else to go ahunting with, she and her brother, William, go out alone.

If it were necessary for Miss Harman to earn her own living, she could do so without much difficulty on the concert stage, having been trained under one of the best-known masters of Paris. She is one of the heirs to the millions left by her father, the noted railroad man.

Not long ago, on the shore of Echo Lake, Miss Harriman erected for her own use a handsome bath house and studio. This is her den during the summer months. It is one of the most attractive spots on the Harriman estate.

AMERICANS WITH GERARD ARE LISTED

Ambassador Sends Names of Those Who Accompanied Him From Berlin.

BY UNITED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The State Department has received a despatch from Ambassador Gerard at Berne, Switzerland, listing the following Americans as having accompanied him from Berlin:

Mrs. Gerard, Frank Hall, Gerard's valet; Mr. and Mrs. Grew, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Willson, L. Osborn, R. M. San Leandro Couple United in Marriage

SAN LEANDRO, Feb. 15.—Miss Mamie Silva, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antone Silva of Joaquin avenue, and August Roth, also of this city, were married in St. Leander's rectory yesterday afternoon. The young couple will live here, where they have many friends. They are now on a honeymoon trip in the South.

Quick Way to End Coughs, Colds and Croup

An Excellent, Inexpensive Home-Made Remedy that is Prompt and Sure.

If you have a severe cough or chest cold accompanied with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up during the night with croup and you want quick help, just try this pleasant tasting home-made cough remedy. Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth). Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Thus prepared, you have a pint of really remarkable cough remedy—one that can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief at all times.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and raises the phlegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes with such promptness, ease and certainty that it is really astonishing.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, combined with guaiacol and is noted for its speed in overcoming severe coughs, throat and chest colds. Its millions of enthusiastic users have made it famous the world over.

There are many worthless imitations of this noted mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

HOW TO KEEP A HUSBAND'S LOVE

All a Matter of Color and Interest, Says Banker's Bride.

LOS ANGELES, Feb 15.—If you want to keep your husband, you should:

Keep a diary of the colors he liked you to wear on your honeymoon,

Keep a record of his likes and dislikes which he expressed to you before his marriage so you can refer to them after marriage;

Be interested in your husband's hobbies but not expect him to be interested in yours;

Keep alive the personality you presented to your husband before you were engaged and which led him to propose to you.

This is the advice of Mrs. Delroy Getchell, wife of the famous poet-banker of Medford, Ore., who, with her children, is passing the winter in southern California. Mrs. Delroy is at Pasadena at present. Today in discussing matrimony, which she declares to be treated too lightly, she said:

"Society is so hollow these days that it is the duty of women who have found marriage worth while to tell others how a success can be made of matrimony. Marriage is a more serious problem than most wives admit.

"Women strive to make men happy and contented during their courtship by deferring to men's opinions, being interested in the men's hobbies and forgetting their own. The way to success in marriage is to continue this policy.

"Women should also keep a diary of the colors and styles of dress their husbands like in the honeymoon days and then continue to wear these same colors and styles."

Mrs. Getchell has been active in club work and women's political circles at her home, but with it all she has made her family first, she declares, and she never permits anyone to make her children's clothes but herself.

Tube Postal Service Will Be Retained

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Retention of the pneumatic tube postal service in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and St. Louis was approved by the Senate today, 45 to 25. A provision in the postoffice appropriation bill to abolish the tubes, advocated by the Postmaster General, was eliminated.

The Window at the White Cat

By Mary Roberts Rinehart

I liked Burton. There was something genuine about him; after Wardrop's kid-glove finish, he was a relief.

"Hunter, of the detective bureau, sent me here," I proceeded, "about the Fleming case."

He took out his note-book. "You are the fourth to-day," he said. "Hunter himself, Lightfoot from Plattsburg, and McFeeley here in town. Well, Mr. Knox, are you willing now to put yourself on record that Fleming committed suicide?"

"No," I said firmly. "It is my belief that he was murdered."

"And that the secretary fellow, what's his name?—Wardrop?—that he killed him?"

"Possibly."

In reply Burton fumbled in his pocket, and brought up a pasteboard box, filled with jeweler's cotton. Underneath was a small object, which he passed to me with care.

"I got it from the coroner's physician, who performed the autopsy," he said casually. "You will notice that it is a thirty-two, and that the revolver they took from Wardrop was a thirty-eight. Question, where's the other gun?"

I gave him back the bullet, and he rolled it around on the palm of his hand.

"Little thing, isn't it?" he said. "We think we're lords of creation, until we see a quarter-inch bichloride tablet, or a bit of lead like this. Look here." He dived into his pocket again and drew out a roll of ordinary brown paper. When he opened it a bit of white chalk fell on the desk.

"Look at that," he said dramatically. "Kill an army with it, and they'd never know what struck them. Cyanide of potassium—and the druggist that sold it ought to be choked."

"Where did it come from?" I asked curiously. Burton smiled his cheerful smile.

"It's a beautiful case, all around," he said, as he got his hat. "I haven't had any Sunday dinner yet, and it's five o'clock. Oh—the cyanide? Clarkson, the cashier of the bank Fleming ruined, took a bite off that corner right there, this morning."

"Clarkson!" I exclaimed. "How is he?"

"God only knows," said Burton gravely, from which I took it Clarkson was dead.

CHAPTER XIII.

Burton listened while he ate, and his cheerful comments were welcome enough after the depression of the last few days. I told him, after some hesitation, the whole thing, beginning with the Maitland pearls and ending with my drop down the dumb-waiter. I knew I was absolutely safe in doing so: there is no person to whom I would rather tell a secret than a newspaperman. He will go out of his way to keep it: he will lock it in the depths of his bosom, and keep it until seventy times seven. Also, you may threaten the rack or offer a larger salary, the seal does not come off his lips until the word is given. If then he makes a scarehead of it, and gets in three columns of space and as many photographs, it is his just reward.

So—I told Burton everything, and he ate enough beefsteak for two men, and missed not a word I said.

"The money Wardrop had in the grip—that's easy enough explained," he said. "Fleming used the Borough Bank to deposit state funds in. He must have known it was rotten: he and Clarkson were as thick as thieves. According to a time-honored custom in our land of the brave and home of the free, a state treasurer who is crooked can, in such a case, draw on such a bank without security, on his personal note, which is usually worth its value by the pound as old paper."

"And Fleming did that?"

"He did. Then things got bad at the Borough Bank. Fleming had had to divide with Schwartz and the Lord only knows who all, but it was Fleming who had to put in the money to avert a crash—the word crash being synonymous with scandal in this case. He scrapes together a paltry hundred thousand, which Wardrop gets at the capital, and brings on. Wardrop is robbed, or says he is: the bank collapses and Clarkson, driven to the wall, kills himself, just after Fleming is murdered. What does that sound like?"

(To Be Continued Tomorrow.)

Corns Loosen Off With Magic "Gets-It"

2 Drops Do the Work, Painlessly.

"I tell you, before I heard of 'Gets-It' I used to try one thing after another for corns. I still had them. I used bandages and they made my toe so big it was murder to put on my shoe. I used salves and other things that ate off more of the toe than they did the corn. I'd cut and dig with knives and scissors, but now no more fooling for me. Two drops of 'Gets-It' did all the work. It makes the corn shrivel and get so loose that you can just pick it right off with your fingers!"

Corns Drive You Mad? Try "Gets-It" and They'll Peel Right Off!

There has been nothing new discovered for corns since "Gets-It" was born. It's the new way—the common-sense, simple, sure way.

"Gets-It" is sold everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Hairs Quickly Vanish After This Treatment

(Helps to Beauty)

Science has aided in simplifying the banishing of hairy growths from the face, and according to a beauty specialist, the most effective treatment yet devised consists of applying a delatone paste to the hairy surface for 2 or 3 minutes. The paste is made by mixing some water with a little powdered delatone. When this paste is removed and the skin washed every trace of hair has vanished. Be sure to get real delatone.—Advertisement.

U-BOATS TO BE VICTORS, SAYS KAISER

Emperor William Gives First Interview of War; Tells of Faith in Naval Tactics Recently Announced by Berlin

Says Swedish Answer Written "for All Eternity;" Declares Napoleon's Continental Blockade Has Become a Reality

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

BERLIN, Feb. 15.—Emperor Wilhelm, in his first interview given out since the war began, predicts that the submarine blockade will hit England harder than anything else since the conflict broke out.

The interview, which was given out in Vienna to the Austrian poet and playwright, Hans Mueller, has just been received here.

In part, Mueller says:

"It is a source of gratification and confidence to hear Kaiser Wilhelm speak about the sharpest of our weapons, the new submarine warfare, whose results, military, political and psychological, he already appraises as considerable.

"In the course of his talk, the Kaiser exclaimed:

" 'Look at the European neutrals. Read the Swedish answer, the document written as if for all eternity. Now the neutrals knew right along how they had to estimate our strength, but likewise our love for peace. For the first time in a certain sense the declared will of the small neutral states stands against the Anglo-Saxon world, and Napoleon's continental blockade, from a phantom, is becoming a reality—one which will hit England harder than anything else heretofore.' "

After speaking of the cordial spirit existing between the Germans and Austro-Hungarians, the Kaiser declared:

"The goal is set and things are going ahead."

Asked about his letter to the chancellor suggesting that peace proposals be made, the emperor was quoted as saying:

"This letter had to be written. This step had to be taken. For now all the world knows who those are who impose continued miseries on humanity."

Kaiser Censors Treaty "Joker"

Gerard Defies Berlin Threat

By Carl W. Ackerman.

United Press Staff Correspondent with Ambassador Gerard.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Ambassador Gerard reported officially to the State Department that Germany had tried to force him to have the 1799 treaty re-ratified under penalty of holding American newspapermen as hostages.

His message contained much technical detail as to just what the Germans wanted.

The report presumably contained the information regarding the Whitlock incident, although the department refused up to noon to say so. This despatch from Gerard officially confirms stories sent from Berne to the United Press on Monday by Carl W. Ackerman.

BERNE (via Paris), Feb. 15.—Germany's censorship cut an important "joker" out of the text of the treaty which German officials demanded that American Ambassador Gerard sign under threat to hold American newspaper correspondents as hostages.

That "joker" does not show in Berlin despatches outlining the treaty as published in French newspapers here. It was:

"That German ships in American harbors should not be forced to leave unless assured safe conduct from Germany's enemies which would permit them to return to Germany or to a neutral port."

The same strict German censorship which has concealed real developments in the empire and left untold active anti-American propaganda therein, did not permit an intimation of this "joker" to slip out of the country.

DEVELOPMENTS CONCEALED.

It was after reading this stipulation that Ambassador Gerard, as has been related in previous United Press despatches from Berne, told Count Montgelas for transmission to Foreign Secretary Zimmerman that he would not consider the matter, and that he would remain in Berlin until kingdom come if Germany carried out her threat to hold Americans as hostages.

Excision of this provision from the text of the treaty is another example of the strictness of the German censorship, which for months has refused to pass real developments to America. Some of these developments have included:

Anti-American speeches in the Reichstag.

Anti-Wilson and anti-Gerard propaganda financed by prominent German leaders.

ATTACKS ON WILSON.

Fiery attacks by Stressemann and Von Heydebrand on the President.

Frequent statements of army and navy officials that the United States "might as well enter the war because the nation was unneutral."

The foreign office attitude just before we left Berlin was that Americans were very "excitable," and if Germany could control all despatches for a few days, Americans "would forget all about the submarine blockade and bring pressure on President Wilson to remain neutral."

Before Ambassador Gerard and Secretary Joseph C. Grew left Berlin German officials requested them not to allow newspapermen accompanying the embassy staff to telegraph regarding Berlin developments except news which the Berlin censor might approve.

Cartoons in the German illustrated papers daily picture President Wilson selling munitions to the allies over the counter of a country store—and taking orders from John Bull. There are many variations of this theme.

MUNITIONS OUTPUT DOUBLED.

Since Field Marshal Von Hindenburg has been in command the output of munitions in Germany has been doubled.

Every possible human being is working on war supplies for the western front.

Hindenburg's dream of a separate peace with Russia is dwindling, but Germany is united in the expected great offensive this year. Officials say it is the last chance to win or lose—when it is over the Socialist peace leaders will again force themselves forward.

Special envoys have advised Germany that President Wilson "represents financial and munitions interests," and that Congress on the other hand, representing the people, will not support war.

The German people believe President Wilson pro-ally.

The German press departments—that is the propaganda agencies—have for months centered efforts on convincing America that war is terrible. The theory is that Americans are cowards and will back out of a war.

The average German thinks American international policies are "bluff" and was immeasurably delighted over refusal of neutral nations to join with President Wilson in breaking relations with Germany.

BRITISH CANNOT DEPORT EXILES

Test Case Stops the Effort to Force Refugees to Military Duty.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—The British courts have decided that the government has no right to deport to Russia or France, citizens of those countries who have refuged here. An order of deportation may be issued against any alien, but the order must not specify the country to which the deported alien must go.

The decision completely nullifies the widely proposed deportation of all allied aliens for military service in their own countries.

The test case discussed by the courts was that of the Duke de Chateau Thierry, a French subject of military age, resident in England prior to the war, against whom the British government made an order of deportation to France at the request of the French government. No offense or misconduct was alleged against the duke, but the home secretary claimed the right to deport him under certain war legislation which authorized him to deport aliens, while the war continues, "whenever such deportation is incidental to the safety of the realm."

The duke contended that he was a Royalist, and therefore a political refuge, and stated in his affidavit that he had been threatened, over the telephone, with the fate of being placed in a dangerous part of the firing line, notwithstanding an English medical certificate of unfitness.

The French government disclaimed any political animus against him, or any intention to treat him as suggested, but claimed him as of military age and subject to military service.

The courts, without entering into these disputed questions of fact, took the broad ground that while the home secretary has discretion to make a deportation order, he has no power to select the country to which the deported alien must go. The order was accordingly quashed and the duke restored to liberty.

FRENCH PENETRATE GERMAN TRENCHES

Detachments Reach Second Line Between Oise and Aisne.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

PARIS, Feb. 15.—French detachments made an attack yesterday between the Oise and the Aisne and penetrated as far as the second German line, the war office announces. The statement follows:

"Between the Oise and the Aisne we made a surprise attack yesterday on enemy trenches in the region of Pulsaleine. Detachments pushed forward as far as the second German line, blowing up defense works and shelters and inflicting irreparable losses on the enemy.

"In the Champagne there was violent artillery fighting during the night in the sector of Tourbe and several patrol activities in the regions of Vailly (east of Soissons) and southwest of Chauvoncourt. We took several prisoners.

"Yesterday morning an enemy airplane was brought down in an aerial combat.

"Yesterday air squadrons bombed the aviation grounds at Colmar, Warennes and Matigny, the railroad station at Athies and encampments at Curchy."

RUSSIAN POSITIONS STORMED.

BERLIN, by wireless to Sayville, Feb. 15.—German official statement:

Teutonic forces yesterday stormed the Russian positions along a front of 100 yards north of the Zlochoff-Tarnopol railway in Galicia, says today's German official statement. After destroying the hostile trenches the Austro-Germans withdrew, taking with them 281 prisoners.

German troops in the region between Serre and the River Somme, in France, yesterday withdrew from some of their advanced positions in accordance with orders from their commander, says the official statement issued today by German army headquarters. Seven entente airplanes were brought down by the Germans.

FRANCE CUTS DOWN COURSES AT ALL MEALS

Only Two of Nine Dishes Allowed in Restaurants

PARIS, Feb. 15.—France hitched its belt a notch tighter today and smilingly accepted the restrictions placed on meals by the government, beginning with breakfast. Therein France followed the action of England and Italy in conserving the food supply.

Diners in restaurants, beginning today, are restricted to hors d'oeuvres or soup, two other dishes and cheese or dessert. Instead of the sixty or seventy items from which French people have been accustomed to select their meals, the bill of fare now is restricted to nine, consisting of one egg dish, two fish, three meal and three vegetable.

The public generally recognizes the importance of conserving the national food supply and takes the government's action in good part. The restrictions are applied to all establishments where food is sold, including clubs, hotels and boarding houses.

AMBASSADOR IS NOW IN MEXICO

Prominent Citizens and Army Guard Accompany Envoy on Special Train.

LAREDO, Texas, Feb. 15.—Escorted by a delegation of prominent Mexican citizens, American Ambassador Fletcher crossed the border today, en route to Mexico City, to take up his new post. A military train, carrying 300 Carranza soldiers, is convoying Fletcher's special through the bandit-ridden country from Nuevo Laredo to Monterey.

Accompanying the new diplomatic representative were M. E. Hanna, who will be secretary to the embassy; J. E. Ringo, private secretary to Fletcher, and Major Howard H. Bailey and Captain Frank McCoy, military attaches.

The party was met here by a large delegation of American officials headed by Brigadier-General Ruckman and United States Consul Garrett with the Fourth Missouri band and members of the Mexican delegation. Ambassador Fletcher was escorted to a hotel, where breakfast was served. After breakfast the ambassador's party and the Mexican delegation boarded a special car at the railroad station and were taken across the border to Nuevo Laredo, where they found the special train waiting to take them to Mexico City.

A crowd gathered in Nuevo Laredo to watch the arrival of the first American ambassador sent into Mexico since the trouble at Vera Cruz.

The following military officers acted as an escort of honor to Mr. Fletcher while he was here:

Brigadier General Ruckman, in command in the Laredo district; Majors Kirby Walker, S. D. Rockenbach, George Nugent, J. B. Switzer of Ruckman's staff; Colonel J. D. McNeely and Lieutenant-Colonel J. L. Hanley of the Fourth Missouri; Colonel L. A. Durfee, Ninth Infantry; Colonel Alonzo Gray, Fourteenth Cavalry; Colonel H. J. Slocum, Thirteenth Cavalry; Lieutenant-Colonel H. R. Lee, Ninth Infantry.

EAST BAY WATER DIVIDEND VOTED

Six Per Cent to Be Paid on the Class A Preferred Stock in Company.

A six per cent dividend on all Class A preferred stock was declared yesterday at a meeting of the board of directors of the East Bay Water Company, successor to the Peoples Water Company. An election of officers resulted in the selection of Attorney Wiggington E. Creed of San Francisco, president; J. Y. Eccleston, first vice-president; Robert M. Fitzgerald, second vice-president, and Samuel M. Marks, secretary-treasurer.

The Class A preferred stock represents the holdings of about sixty per cent of the holdings of the investors in the Peoples Water Company. In the reorganization the holders of the old five per cent bonds were made part owners of the company, receiving 60 per cent in Class A preferred and 40 per cent in Class B stock.

The dividend does not affect the "divisional" bondholders or those holding stock in concerns merged into the Peoples Water Company during its days of expansion. Such bondholders received bonds in the East Bay Company, now quoted at 101 in value. The credit-bondholders in the Peoples Water Company proper, who became stockholders in the new concern, are the only ones affected.

MEMORIAL PLAN MEETS FAVOR OF PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The plan of the George Washington Memorial Association to erect a $3,000,000 building on the site of the old Pennsylvania Railroad station as a monument to the memory of Washington, received today the hearty endorsement of President Wilson. The President sent to Mrs. Henry F. Dimock, president of the George Washington Memorial Association, the following letter:

"My dear Mrs. Dimock: I am very much interested in the plans for the George Washington memorial building and hope most sincerely that they will prosper and the memorial be finally built. It is entirely to be desired.

"Cordially and sincerely yours,
"WOODROW WILSON."

COAST DEFENSE PLAN DISCUSSED; RESERVE URGED

Los Angeles Scene of Meeting to Urge Preparedness

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—Plans for a mass meeting to be held here at an early date to "formulate plans for the defense of the Pacific coast in the event of war" were discussed at a dinner of the National Defense Association. Louis M. Cole, president of the association, who presided at the dinner, was instructed to appoint a committee to arrange for the mass meeting.

A congress of representatives of the states on the Pacific seaboard to organize a general defense board also was recommended in a resolution adopted at the dinner. Another resolution adopted endorsed the proposed national service reserve to be composed of enlisted men organized primarily as a constructive force for government projects and to serve as an organized and equipped military reserve for service within the United States in event of invasion by a foreign foe.

Defenses Planned for Chesapeake Bay

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Work of preparing defenses at the entrances to Chesapeake bay against submarine attack was begun today, when coast artillerymen from Fortress Monroe started fortifying strategic points at Cape Henry and Fisherman's Island.

Platforms for six-inch guns which will sweep the waters through which submersibles could approach the bay will be ready within ten days, it was said. The guns will have a range of from five to nine miles.

Colombia Refuses to Follow U. S. Break

BOGOTA, Colombia, Feb. 15.—Colombia's reply to President Wilson's note in respect to the German submarine campaign says that Colombia would preserve her attitude of neutrality. The reply expresses the sincere hope that peace between Germany and America will not be broken.

FORD MACHINE ROBBED HER OF HUBBY'S LOVE

This Is the Romance of a Gasoline-Fed Tonsorial Artist

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 15.—A Ford machine is named as co-respondent in the divorce suit filed this morning by Mrs. Bessie Hayden against Robert Hayden, formerly a barber.

Love of his neighbor's Ford, Mrs. Hayden charges, caused her husband to neglect his business, to fail to provide for his family and finally to become lazy.

German Credit Gains Through Big Purchase

BERLIN, Feb. 15, via London.—German credit abroad has been strengthened by about $7,000,000 through the purchase by a Pittsburg syndicate, said to be identified with the Bethlehem Steel Company of German interests in the Lehigh Valley Coal Company, it is announced here.

The Deutsche Bank is said to have negotiated the contract from this end. In addition to the strengthening of German credit abroad, the deal is declared to have resulted in a profitable turnover for a snug sum on the basis of the present exchange rate.

Oriental Servants Are Invading England

LONDON, Feb. 15.—England is experiencing in a limited sense an invasion of Oriental servants. Chinese and Japanese are landing here in greater numbers than usual and are taking the places of the native servants, who have joined the colors, gone in for munition making or back to the farms, where such good wages are now being paid. The Orientals are said to be proving popular because they make themselves more generally useful and seem never to tire of work.

Swiss Legation to Represent Austrians

PARIS, Feb. 15.—All preparations have been made to transfer the handling of Austro-Hungarian affairs in France from the American embassy to the Swiss legaion, it was learned here today. This move was evidently made in fear of a diplomatic break between Washington and Vienna over the submarine situation. The French foreign office has already approved the transfer.

CARRIES BODY OF BOY; RUNS RACE AGAINST DEATH

Woman Fails to Rescue Lad Who Had Swallowed Poison Fluid

TRIBUNE BUREAU
2015 SHATTUCK AVE.

BERKELEY, Feb. 15.—Staggering under the weight of the limp body of a dying boy in her arms whom she discovered writhing in agony after swallowing poison, Mrs. C. D. Norwood, 6466 Regent street, rushed for more than a mile through the streets of Berkeley in a losing race against death this afternoon. The child, Eugene Somers, 2½ years old, son of O. H. Somers, 6458 Regent street, died in Mrs. Norwood's arms just as she reached the gates of the Alta Bates Sanitarium.

Mrs. Norwood saw Eugene lying on the ground in the yard of his home. A bottle of rose-spray, containing tobacco extract, which the child swallowed, lay by his side. She picked him up and ran all the way to the sanitarium, only to find that her heroic effort was unavailing. The little sufferer was dead upon arrival at the sanitarium, having succumbed to nicotine poisoning.

While playing in the garden he had come upon the bottle of rose spray and swallowed part of the contents.

His father, who is connected with the Cudahy Packing Company, is in Los Angeles. Mrs. Somers is prostrated by shock.

Holy Land Pageant Staged at Y. W. C. A.

The Alameda County Christian Endeavor Union Pageant of life in the Holy Land, which is being given in the Oakland Y. W. C. A. building this week, presented a unique program last night. The subject treated was the position of women and children in Mohammedan lands. The stage was set as an eastern city, the dominating feature of which was the Mosque, from which at certain hours the Mulvaie or priest called the faithful to prayer. The history of two families was followed, from the birth of the child to the child marriage. One was the home of gladness and rejoicing, for a son was born; the other was a home of sorrow, for the child was a daughter.

Another feature of last night's program which held great interest was "The Dervish Prayer."

The pageant continues until Monday night. A special lecture is announced for Sunday afternoon on the subject: "The Jew; His Land, His Book, His Future." This evening's scenes will portray the life of the eastern Shepherds, illustrating the twenty-third Psalm.

Kansas Man Named on Soldiers' Home Board

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15. — The House today nominated Colonel George W. Black of Olathe, Kansas, to succeed Frederick J. Close of Kansas City as a member of the board of governors of the National Soldiers' Home. Filibustering by Republican Leader Mann on the proposal last night kept the House in session until nearly midnight. Three present members of the board, John W. West of Maine, James W. Wadsworth of New York and H. H. Markham of California, were renamed.

SUFFRAGE WAITS SIGNATURE.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 15.—About 1,250,000 Ohio women will cast their first votes for Presidential electors in 1920 unless Governor Cox vetoes the Reynolds bill, which passed the senate last night by a vote of 20 to 16. If the governor disapproves the bill, it is dead, for there are not enough "yes" votes in the senate to pass it over his head.

PRIESTS SHIFT SCENERY WHEN MECHANICS QUIT

DENVER, Feb. 15.—One priest directed the orchestra and another shifted the scenes when union theatrical employees struck last night during a performance by an amateur organization made up of attendants at the Immaculate Conception cathedral here.

The strike followed discovery that non-union musicians were playing in the orchestra. The audience signified to Father McMenamin, who was managing the production, that it desired the performance completed despite the difficulties. It was.

Exposition Duelist Reported Wounded

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15. — Reports reached here today that Major-General Enrique Loynaz del Castillo, who was a prominent figure at the Panama-Pacific Exposition here in 1915, has been wounded in a revolutionary battle in Cuba.

At the Exposition he was famed for his lavish hospitality, his extreme courtesy and for the fact that he tried to invoke the code duello whenever he thought his honor touched. He challenged Dr. Frederick F. V. Skiff, director-in-chief of the Exposition, when Dr. Skiff cautioned a group of judges of which General Castillo was one to use the utmost fairness in giving awards. A formal apology averted bloodshed. He also challenged Charles Page Bryan, former American Ambassador to Japan, because Bryan slapped him on the back by way of greeting.

Co-operative Shippers Form Strong Combine

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 15.—Co-operative shipping societies whose annual business totals $30,000,000, have united in a central organization to take up grievances with the railroads, lower selling costs, further beneficial legislation and aid the stock raiser in general.

The new organization will be known as the Central Livestock Shipping Association and its headquarters will be in St. Paul. Nearly 200 delegates from all parts of the territory which send livestock to South St. Paul attended the organization meeting. Four hundred shipping societies are expected to affiliate.

Warrant Waits End Legislative Session

SANTA ANA, Feb. 15.—Fifteen days after the State Legislature adjourns State Senator Egbert J. Gates of South Pasadena will be subject to arrest on the charge of violating the speed laws of this city. Assemblyman J. C. Burke today represented Gates.

City Recorder Heathman held that the recess was a continuity of the regular session and that Gates was not subject to arrest at this time. He gave Burke notice, however, that at the expiration of fifteen days after adjournment of the regular session he would have a warrant issued for Gates' arrest.

Woman Sues Oakland Policeman for Cruelty

Martha E. Goodnight today filed suit against James A. Goodnight, a local patrolman, charging extreme cruelty and neglect. She alleges that Goodnight refused to pay gas, electricity and grocery bills and that if it had not been for assistance given by her mother, Mrs. Goodnight and her child would not have had necessary food and clothing.

She also alleges that the defendant called her numerous names and at various times made threats against her life. She asks the custody of her daughter, a minor child.

Youth Visits Jail; Will Remain There

Harold Emmall, 21 years old, a rivet heater temporarily out of work by the strike at the Union Iron Works, suggested while passing by the county jail yesterday with a fellow worker, that they go through the jail upon a tour of investigation.

As he stepped inside the young man was greeted by Constable Al Kyne who informed Emmal that there had been a warrant out for his arrest on complaint of a girl in Alameda. Emmal was placed in jail.

You Can Tell The People Who Have Iron in Their Blood —Strong, Healthy, Vigorous Folks
Doctor Says Ordinary Nuxated Iron Will Make Nervous, Rundown People 200% Stronger in Two Weeks' Time In Many Cases.
NEW YORK, N. Y.—"One glance is enough to tell which people have iron in their blood," said Doctor E. Sauer, a physician who has studied widely both in this country and Europe, in a recent discourse. They are the ones that do and dare. The others are in the weakling class. Sleepless nights spent worrying over supposed ailments, constant dosing with habit-forming drugs and narcotics for nervous weeakness, stomach, liver or kidney disease and useless attempts to brace up with strong coffee or other stimulants are what keep them suffering and vainly longing to be strong. Their real trouble is lack of iron in the blood. Without iron the blood has no power to change food into living tissue and therefore, nothing you eat does you any good; you don't get the strength out of it. The moment iron is supplied the multitude of dangerous symptoms disappear. I have seen dozens of nervous, rundown people who were ailing all the time, double and even triple their strength and endurance and entirely get rid of every sign of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form. And this, after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without any benefit.
If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. There is nothing like good old iron to put color in your cheeks and sound, healthy flesh on your bones. But you must take iron in a form that can be easily absorbed and assimilated like nuxated iron if you want it to do any good, otherwise it may prove worse than useless.
NOTE—Nuxated Iron recommended above by Dr. Sauer, is one of the newer organic iron compounds. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach; on the contrary, it is a most potent remedy in nearly all forms of indigestion, as well as for nervous, run-down conditions. The Manufacturers have such great confidence in Nuxated Iron that they offer to forfeit $100.00 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman under 60 who lacks iron and increase their strength 200 per cent or over in four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. They also offer to refund your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by The Owl Drug Co. and all other druggists.—Advertisement.

BE ON GUARD.

The United States should act promptly and with all requisite firmness concerning the present political movements in Mexico and Cuba. Carranza has manifested a fresh outburst of antagonism toward this country by his utterly ridiculous proposal to prohibit the export of food and war supplies from a neutral country to a belligerent. The revolution in Cuba threatens to engross the attention of this government unless it is speedily quashed.

News despatches and semi-public statements are pervaded with the suspicion that Germany is behind both of these untoward developments.

At present this may be only a suspicion. It is not well to be excited over mere suspicion, but it is the better part of wisdom to guard against all eventualities.

If the United States must adopt actual hostile measures against Germany—and we continue to hope that that will not be necessary—it is to be expected that every effort will be made to create embarrassments for the American government in Mexico and Cuba, in the Philippines and on the Colombia side of the Panama canal.

This will be in accordance with the game of war, as nations play it.

If we are not prepared to cope with intrigue against us in our island protectorates add among our Latin-American neighbors, the government at Washington will be guilty of the crime of stupidity.

Let that climax be saved us!

LABOR DOES NOT WANT IT.

The brotherhoods of railway operative employees and labor organizations generally do not appear to be in sympathy with the pending legislation in Congress, designed to further regulate the railroads and prevent strikes, and which is a continuation of the program of labor legislation started with the enactment of the Adamson wage law at the last session of Congress. Indeed, active opposition to President Wilson's plans, as described in his message last December, which include compulsory arbitration as a strike preventive, has developed in many quarters.

Most conspicuous in this respect were the hearings before the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, of which Representative Adamson is the chairman, last month. A full symposium of the views expressed by the representatives of organized labor would be interesting, but space only permits of brief quotations. The following are taken from the official Congressional records:

Mr. W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, was being cross-examined by members of the committee, after his very strong direct statement in opposition to the compulsory arbitration feature.

Mr. Parker of New York (referring to the Adamson wage law already enacted): "But you unqualifiedly said you were opposed personally, and your organization, to that bill?"

Mr. Lee: "I said, as the record will show, that we did not ask for it; that we did not want any legislation fixing the rates of wages of employees."

Mr. Hamilton: "On that point you spoke a moment ago of a commission or a board being appointed to have the power to regulate the hours of service and wages, didn't you? I don't know that I got just what you did say. Now, you would not be in favor of a board that would have power to fix wages of laboring men?"

Mr. Lee: "No, sir; and I made no such insinuation."

Mr. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was being questioned:

Mr. Winslow (after reading recommendation No. 5 of the President's message, asking for legislation preventing strikes or lockouts until a full public investigation shall have been completed): "Now, I feel it fair to ask if you concur in the views expressed by the President as to the necessities of the times and his reasons for so expressing those necessities?"

Mr. Gompers: "I dissent from the statements in the recommendations of the President upon the subject."

Mr. W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, was cross-questioned, after his direct appeal that Congress refuse to execute the President's anti-strike program:

Mr. Hamilton: ". . . . they generally believe, I think, that the Adamson law was passed pursuant to a demand of the brotherhoods—and that a strike was averted by the passage of the Adamson law. Is not that your understanding?"

Mr. Carter: "The newspapers and certain people said so, but it was absolutely untrue."

Mr. L. E. Sheppard, acting president of the Order of Railway Conductors, expressed himself in precisely the same vein as the gentlemen who preceded him, and then Mr. Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, was questioned. He epitomized all the views in a single sentence.

Mr. Montague: "Am I justified in inferring from your statement . . . . that these four organizations would rather have all these matters left to private agreement than to public intervention?"

Mr. Stone: "Yes, sir; much rather."

Thus it was developed, after one week of tedious and painstaking searching for expressions of opinion, that the operative employees of the railroads, through their representatives, are entirely out of sympathy with the Adamson law and unqualifiedly opposed to amplifying that statute by further legislation. It has taken a long time for the administration to possess itself of this information.

IMPROVEMENT NEEDED

The action of the Oakland City Council in indicating to the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, in unmistakable terms, that it is highly desirable that the railroad's property at Fourteenth and Franklin streets be improved, was timely and clearly in the best interests of the city. It should meet with a favorable response immediately.

The railroad company has failed palpably to keep up with the other improvements in this particular district of the city. While splendid new buildings—the City Hall, the Oakland hotel and business houses—have been created all around it, the wooden, unsightly depot of fifty years ago remains. Improvements on the same block and adjoining blocks have been held back, are still not effected, because of the presence of this eyesore in dirty yellow. The railroad company has not performed its duty as a member of the community in which it does business and earns dividends.

It is negligence on the part of the city to omit any act which will bring about the replacement of the present obsolete, dilapidated-looking depot by a modern building which will be a credit to both the railroad company and the city.

WHEN IT IS NOT "PORK."

One of the more violent opponents of appropriations by Congress for improving the navigability of rivers and harbors in the country generally, is that splendidly edited and usually consistent New York journal, The Sun. We gather from a recent editorial of The Sun, however, that its opposition depends entirely upon whose river and harbor is to be benefited. The following extract from the editorial is illuminating:

"The Senate Committee on Commerce has executed an important stroke for preparedness in adopting the recommendation of the army engineers for a deep channel in the upper part of East River, generally known as the Hell Gate project. . . . . We have little doubt that the accelerated execution of this project will be favored by both houses of Congress; it should be so favored whether standing singly or with other meritorious undertakings."

The committee recommends a continuing appropriation of $1,000,000 a year for six years. In New York it is to be applied in a most important way for preparedness; a similar appropriation for a Pacific Coast project would be "pork."

Interesting is the news about General Joffre. He has been endowed with honors and left without a command. It illustrates how precarious is power in time of war. In the beginning and for a considerable time he was hailed as the savior of France. Just what happened has never been apparent, but another is at the head of the French military forces, and Joffre is a high general out of a job. It may recall the experiences of our civil war, when one general after another was tried until one was found who was equal to the emergency.

The Iowa legislature has repealed the presidential preference primary law, which it adopted two years ago and which cost the State $225,000. This and other legislative "reforms" have caused a treasury deficit of $1,600,000, and, as Governor Clark said, the presidential preference primary was "a farce." Hence there was not a dissenting voice when the vote to repeal was called.

MEN FOR THE NAVY.

(Philadelphia Evening Telegraph.)

How is the navy? This question is of paramount importance in any consideration of America's readiness to engage in war. Upon the navy the country relies for defense against invasion, for the protection of its merchant vessels and to prevent the bombardment of seaboard communities.

Without regard for the many new and larger vessels provided for at the last session of Congress, the American navy equals or excels, in number and character of major ships, the best of other navies, excluding the British. Our fleet of submarines is not modern, and the aerial corps is admittedly deficient, but the country's shortcomings in these respects are not likely to prove serious during the crisis upon which we are now entering. The Navy Department will, nevertheless, be expected to exert all speed in the construction of scores of additional hydroaeroplanes and in the training of pilots.

Of a more urgent nature, however, is the necessity to procure full crews for the many vessels which have been for many months past virtually out of commission because of the shortage of seamen. Stimulated by the prospect of early action, many thousands of young men may be expected to enlist at once for service in the navy, yet it would not be surprising if one of the President's earliest acts were a call for naval volunteers, because the first essential of the country's proper defense embraces an abundance of men to handle every mechanical unit of the navy.

Perhaps when the present emergency has passed Congress may unite with the War and Navy Departments to reorganize the armed service of the nation along such democratic lines that no future call to action will find either branch thousands of men short of their complements.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

The Newhalls, large land-owners in this county, have made changes in the business methods of conducting their several ranches and, besides, have adopted more thorough and systematic methods of doing their farming. The holdings of the Newhalls are about as large as any in the West, when actual cultivation is considered. Edward Newhall says: "We used to scratch the ground, scatter the seed, and hope for a crop, but not any more. Nothing that has proven successful in adding to acreage production in the East is being overlooked here." — Ventura Free Press.

Wallace Foster, president of the Central Marin Chamber of Commerce and manager of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, Marin district, received word from the president of his company, John A. Britton, that Herbert Hoover, head of the Belgium relief in London, had wired him to permit Mr. Foster to leave his services in order that he might take charge of the Belgium relief shipping business at Antwerp. Mr. Britton was willing to grant Mr. Foster a leave of absence, but Mr. Foster, on account of his family, was compelled to decline the offer.—San Rafael Independent.

The manufacture of potash is one of the recent important industries of California. Potash is manufactured from kelp. The great kelp beds that line much of the California coast provide spawning places as well as hiding places for fish. Under proper regulations for cutting and taking kelp it is believed that the fishing will not be injured and a desirable industry such as this can be maintained. To this end there has been introduced a bill declaring the kelp and all other aquatic plants in the waters of the State to be the property of the State, and providing all persons engaged in the taking or harvesting of kelp shall comply with rules and regulations to be formulated by the State Board of Fish and Game Commissioners.—Los Angeles Express.

AGAINST VACCINATION.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

In your edition of January 18, under caption of "Scientific Way Preferable," you take opportunity to criticise two bills introduced by me in the assembly of our state. One of them proposes to do away with vaccination being made a condition precedent to school entrance, the other gives a parent or guardian the right to choose his own physician for his child, but failure to do so under certain circumstances, gives the right to a health officer so to do.

Vaccination and education are not related in any way. Education ought not to depend upon vaccination for its existence.

You say that I am "continuing my fight against measures for the prevention of contagious diseases." I deny this absolutely. As to whether vaccination is a preventive of smallpox is denied and disputed by the world's greatest scientists and thinkers. I once had a personal experience with vaccination which nearly caused my death and I would prefer to take my chances with smallpox.

I have come to the conclusion that sanitation and not vaccination has stamped out the filth disease known as smallpox. You say that vaccination is "scientific." There is no science about it whatever. Science has for its foundation, result and effect one thing, namely, truth. There is more commercialism involved in connection with vaccination than anything else I know of. Millions of dollars are involved in its manufacture and the producers must find a market for their output even if smallpox scares are manufactured for that purpose, which, in my opinion, has already happened here and elsewhere.

You say that "a fatal epidemic of smallpox may be necessary in order to convince its survivors of the foolishness of tolerating the critics and enemies of medical science." We have had epidemics in the past and will have them in the future, but only where sanitation is bad. The sewers, traps, vent pipe and patent toilets have done more to stamp out every kind of plague and epidemic than preventive therapy ever has. All of the medical profession are not a unit on the question of vaccination, much less compulsory vaccination. If my physician, being a homeopath, if you please, advises vaccination in capsule form, and the health officer insists upon scarrification of the arm, or other part of the body, then, if you refuse my doctor's certificate and vaccination and refuse me the right to an education, in addition to being compelled to grow up in ignorance, you are denying my constitutional right to a choice of physicians. After all, personal liberty must be considered in this matter.

Many deaths have come as a result of vaccination. It has caused lockjaw, malignant edema and anthrax. In addition, the pus which is forced into the bodies of our dear, sweet children has caused syphilis, cancer and tuberculosis, and I can produce competent medical authority to prove this contention.

You say vaccination is "scientific." In 1840 in England, arm to arm vaccination was made a crime by law. Pro-vaccinationists claimed then that great epidemics would follow, but nothing like it happened. Neither would it happen now if compulsory vaccination was done away with. It was claimed then that arm to arm vaccination was the very greatest of scientific perfection, just as it is now contended that vaccination with a lymph, from a cow or calf is genuinely scientific. If the scientists, so-called, were wrong then, why are they not equally wrong now?

This pus is obtained thus: A calf is placed upon an operating table and its belly is shaved and from 100 to 110 incisions are made upon it with a sharp knife. Then the pus from persons who have died from smallpox, syphilis, cancer, tuberculosis and the like is put directly into these incisions, after which time the calf is tied up firmly, so it cannot lick off the sores or relieve its suffering, for eight days, during which time so-called perfect vesicles form. These vesicles are scraped out and put through very fine sieves, to remove all blood therefrom, after which it is mixed with glycerine and it is then ready for the market. In other words, it is then ready for the vaccinator's use. Any blood left in the pus means certain death. Glycerine is mixed in to kill the germs. But, according to Hygienic Laboratory Bulletin No. 12, 1903, issued by the United States government, the germs of tetanus, lockjaw, malignant edema and anthrax are always to be found in vaccine virus, and glycerine is "a preservative of such infections." Also on page 49 it says: "It will be seen that there is practically no vaccine on the market free from bacterial contamination." And still you would have it compulsory.

Compulsory vaccination means indiscriminate vaccination, and indiscriminate vaccination is dangerous to life and health. I have the names and addresses of more than 500 persons, mostly children, who have died as a result of vaccination.

Tenison Deane, M. D., formerly adjunct to chair of surgery, Post-Graduate School of Medicine of the University of California, in his book entitled "The Crime of Vaccination," on page 16, said: "This tragedy of vaccination makes Shakespeare's 'Hamlet' a tame tale. For 125 years the human race has innoculated itself and babes in arms with syphilis, thank God for the modification, but syphilis (through the calf), just the same."

Even Dr. Osler, a pro-vaccinationist, in his book entitled "Medical Practice, 1911," page 126, says regarding vaccination: "In unhealthy subjects ulcers follow; sloughing, eruptions, invac-glandular abscess, gangrene, and so forth." Under compulsory vaccination all must be vaccinated irrespective of their conditions of health, and my bill proposes to do away with the possibility of the fatal results so apt to happen.

Vaccination was discovered in a day of ignorance, and a long habit of not thinking a thing wrong has compelled many blind followers to believe it right. But time has made more converts than reason. Founded in ignorance, it is preached and taught and practiced in ignorance. It is fundamentally wrong and should not be compulsory.

England has done away with compulsory vaccination, as has Germany by recent action in the Reichstag. The States of Minnesota, South Carolina, South Dakota and Utah have also done away with it, and by court decisions in many other States it is no longer compulsory.

The object of the other bill, doing away with compulsory medical inspection in the schools, is two-fold; first, to permit a parent to choose the physician of his own choice; and, secondly, to do away with the politico-medicos who look with hungering eyes at the political pie counter and who increase our taxes without giving anything in return—all the fear of epidemics to the contrary notwithstanding.

GEORGE GELDER.

Berkeley, February 14.

[Publication of the above letter is cheerfully granted Assemblyman Gelder for the setting forth of his views on a subject in which he is deeply interested, but it is due TRIBUNE readers to point out that many of the statements are greatly overdrawn, and particularly that his description of the method of securing the vaccine virus is utterly without any basis of fact. The original virus was obtained from a smallpox patient who was otherwise in good health (not afflicted with any of the diseases which Mr. Gelder mentions and not a dead person). This virus was used to inoculate a calf and the serum obtained from this animal was placed in laboratory cultures. Inoculation of calves is made from laboratory virus which is several generations removed from the original source. Glycerine is not mixed with the virus "to kill the germs." That material is used because it is what is known to bacteriologists as a good "culture medium." It provides food for the bacilli and keeps them alive until they are needed.—The Editor of The TRIBUNE.]

TWO HEINZ PLANTS WILL LOCATE HERE

Products Company Prepares to Establish Factories in San Leandro and Oakland; Site Arrangements Announced

Firm Contracts to Purchase Crop Outputs From Alameda County Farmers for Market in the Pacific Coast States

SAN LEANDRO, Feb. 15.—Announcement that the H. J. Heinz Food Products Company are to build factories in this city and in Oakland was made today by the members of the industrial committee of the town board. A site for the San Leandro factory for the Heinz concern has been acquired on land near the Southern Pacific depot. Here different varieties of the company's products will be prepared for consumption on the Pacific Coast.

According to C. Q. Rideout of the industrial committee, the Heinz company is negotiating for the acquiring of a site for another factory on the Oakland waterfront, where the products prepared in San Leandro will be bottled. The bottles will carry an Oakland label.

The San Leandro factory of the concern will be built on land acquired from the Thrasher estate. This factory will be devoted exclusively to pickling and other processes, while the Oakland factory will be used only for bottling purposes.

Farmers as well as east bay industry will benefit through the location here and in Oakland of the new factories. The Heinz company has already contracted with local farmers for the growing of a large acreage of cucumbers.

L. A. Hathaway, representing the Heinz company, has been here for some time conducting negotiations for the purchase of sites. He is making his headquarters in Oakland. Attorney C. E. Snook of Oakland has acted as legal representative in the negotiations.

H. J. Heinz, head of the Heinz Food Products Company, on a recent visit from the East inspected possible sites for a factory in the east bay communities. Emeryville at that time was spoken of as a likely location for the new factory.

The industrial committee, consisting of A. S. Weaver, president of the San Leandro State Bank, and Town Trustee C. Q. Rideout, were largely instrumental in securing one of the new Heinz factories for this city.

Flonzaley Quartet to Play in Oakland

Adolfo Betti, Alfred Pochon, Ugo Ara and Ivan d'Archambeau, the four artists constiuting the incomparable Flonzaley Quartet, will make their first appearance in Oakland tomorrow evening in the Auditorium Opera House under the auspices of the music section of the Oakland Teachers' Association. Their program will include a prelude and fugue by Emanuel Moor, Beethoven's F minor quartet, Op. 95, and Haydn's Quartet in G major, Op. 77, No. 1. These players are universally recognized as forming the most skilled and artistic of chamber music organizations.

Will Wage Fight to Free Husband

Woman Takes Hand in Legal Fray

Philippine Officialdom Is Accused

Fortified by the good wishes of hundreds of friends in Oakland and Los Angeles, Mrs. Anna Haas Kelly, wife of Attorney Amzi B. Kelly, known as "the fighting Irishman of the Philippines," is on her way from Manila to Washington to lay before the federal government charges against the judiciary of the islands. Her last words as she left here on her mission to free her husband from a prison cell were: "I am going to Washington to show the world that the Philippines under the present system are even worse than under the hated Spanish rule. There is no justice. The judiciary is careless, the army meddlesome, executives stupid and the officials corrupt and inefficient."

Kelly is now lying in jail under a sentence of eight months and a fine of $1250 because, says his wife, he declared the truth about a famous murder case which has become known as "the Dreyfus case of the Philippines." It is to secure his release by official order that the plucky little woman is making the long journey. To pay her expenses she has mortgaged what little property she had.

Seventeen years ago Kelly went to the islands as a captain in the First Texas infantry. He was placed in charge of a distant province and soon made charges of graft against some of the civil authorities. The result was a transfer. He then left the army and entered the practice of the law.

MURDER CASE CAUSE.

In 1909, in a fight over a girl, Magtebay, a Filipino, was killed and Buendia and De Guia, also natives, were charged with the crime. It chanced that De Guia was prominent and the cases against the men were dismissed.

Then five others were charged with the crime, three of whom—General Mariano Noriel, Luis Landas and Roman Malabanan—the Supreme Court of the island sentenced to hang January 12, 1915.

Friends charged that General Noriel's death was sought by official Manila because he once led a revolution. Two days before the hanging Attorney Kelly was engaged to seek a new trial for the three men.

Kelly secured a hearing before the island's highest court at 9 o'clock on the morning of the day the men were scheduled to be hanged at noon, but when Kelly appeared in court a messenger arrived with the news that the three men had gone to their death at 6 o'clock that morning.

Kelly filed a complaint with the Manila courts, charging the official prosecutors of the three men with murder, and hurriedly penned his book, which he called "General Mariano Noriel Innocent." He attached a copy of it to his complaint. He was sentenced to three months in prison for contempt of court. After three weeks in jail the sentence was suspended, his books confiscated and Kelly told to be good.

CONTINUES FIGHT.

But the Irishman's fighting blood was up and he jumped again into the fight. He was disbarred, but fought harder than ever, his wife urging him on, proud of him and believing in him.

Then came the charge of criminal libel preferred against him by the members of the supreme bench and other island officials. Though he argued that that court had not the authority to try him, since they had preferred the charge, he was convicted, and, Christmas eve last, sent to jail.

CAR TIE-UP WILL CAUSE HEAVY LOSS

Congestion Causes Embargo on Virtually the Roads East of Chicago; All Perishable Goods, Fuel Moved First

Thousands of Tons of Foodstuffs May Be Dumped in the Domestic Markets; Railroads Face Big Financial Losses

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15. — Representatives of thirty chief railroads considering the car shortage here today made a "gentlemen's agreement" to declare a virtual embargo against all shipments for export from Eastern ports, to adopt a liberal use of "an intelligent embargo" against the east-bound domestic shipments, and to send empty cars west in solid trainloads as fast as possible.

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—With embargoes on virtually all roads east of Chicago barring from speedy transportation nearly all commodities except perishable goods and fuel, the car congestion today was considered acute.

It was estimated by railroad statisticians that a minimum of 3000 loaded cars are on tracks in and west of Chicago, waiting to be moved. It was said that at least 10,000 empties were in the Chicago switching district.

"The congestion which began at English ports with the outbreak of the war and extended to our Atlantic ports with the great shipments of munitions is the real cause of the embargoes," said G. L. Acker of the Railway Age Gazette, who has made a study of embargo condition. The proclamation of a submarine blockade, which has deterred many ships from sailing, has made conditions worse.

EMBARGO ANNOUNCED.

DENVER, Feb. 15.—An embargo on carload shipments of all but perishable goods and coal to the East was announced at the Denver offices of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe and Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroads today. The embargo, it was stated, extends to all points east of Illinois and north of the Ohio.

The only exception to the embargo, it was said, is in the case of shipments which can show boat bookings at the Atlantic seaboard when offered for shipment. Refusal of eastern roads to accept shipment was given as the reason.

The result of the embargo has been to tie freight shipments to some extent. Railroad officials said they expected no congestion of freight here.

CAUSE OF CONGESTION.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—The immediate cause of the serious freight congestion reported by many interior cities, railroad men declared today, is their policy of refusing shipments to New York of freight for export unless the shipper can prove that he has cargo room engaged so that his goods can be loaded on a boat immediately after its delivery here. The rigorous application of this rule has transferred the accumulation of freight that otherwise would be piling up here to the warehouses at manufacturing and producing centers in the West and South.

As the base of the freight transportation situation a number of causes are assigned. Among these are the reduction on the amount of freight leaving New York because of Germany's new submarine policy, cold weather and snow, which has delayed trains and interfered with truck deliveries in cities and the shortage of cars.

REFUSE WEST FREIGHT.

For the purpose of relieving terminal points, the railroads in this territory are imposing new embargoes. Beginning today, the Lackawanna will refuse freight for points west of Buffalo in order to clear its yards there and allow eastern shipments to come through. The Pennsylvania has applied a temporary embargo on shipments for delivery by truck in this city on all except perishable freight, food stuffs, government supplies and news print paper. The New Haven has in effect an embargo against shipments in less than carload lots for delivery in New Haven or for transfer at New Haven, where the congestion on that line is the most severe.

At the offices of the New York Central it was said that measures would be announced soon along similar lines.

The car service commission of the American Railway Association, of which Fairfax Harrison, president of the Southern Railway is chairman, cooperating with the Interstate Commerce Commission, it was stated here today, is endeavoring to work out a plan to relieve the situation.

RAILROADS HIT HARD.

If the embargo is continued, one result, it is predicted, will be the dumping of thousands of tons of food stuffs into domestic markets in order to prevent the food from perishing.

Railroads are said to be suffering heavily financially, and it is pointed out that only by unloading supplies at the cities where loaded cars stand idle, instead of holding for exportation, can the situation be relieved so that some of the embargoes may be lifted.

The seriousness of the congestion is emphasized by what shippers characterize as a virtual blockade of Atlantic ports, particularly New York.

The steamships of the Holland-America, Scandinavian-American, Norwegian-American and American Lines, and, with one exception, the vessels of the Swedish-American Line, are tied up here with their holds entirely filled or spoken for. Only the Stockholm of the Swedish-American Line has a definite sailing date tomorrow.

Railroad heads here are informing manufacturers that this situation if continued will result in unemployment in munition factories, which must reduce their outputs, and in a consequent decrease in the transportation of raw materials.

POLICEMEN HELD; PLOT IS CHARGED

Havana Officers, Under Arrest, Declared to Have Conspired Against Life of President; Army Handles Affair

Censorship Observed to Keep Details From Ears of People; Revolution Assumes a More Serious Aspect on Island

BULLETIN.

HAVANA, Feb. 15.—General Geraldo Machado, a prominent Cuban military official and member of the Liberal committee, is reported to have been killed at Lasval. Another member of the Liberal committee, General Ernesto Asbert, has been captured by government troops.

By Edward J. O'Brien,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

HAVANA, Feb. 15.—Following reports of discovery of an anti-government plot in the metropolitan police, sixteen officers, several of them sergeants, were arrested today.

There are reports that a new conspiracy against the life of President Menocal was unearthed, but was frustrated by the vigilance of the authorities.

General Agremonte, chief of police, is maintaining the strictest secrecy for motives of public policy and has refused to confirm the report of a new plot against the president's life.

General Gerardo Mahado, one of the rebel leaders, is reported to have been killed at Santa Clara, but this report was not verified.

A clash occurred this morning between government troops and the fleeing rebel band under General Acosta, but the casualties were few. A strong force of government troops has arrived at Camaguey, and it is expected that the revolutionists, fleeing in that district, will soon be crushed out.

President Menocal today accepted the resignation of Brigadier-General Manuel Sanguilly, inspector-general of the army, who was at one time in Gomez' cabinet.

CONSERVATIVE VICTORY.

Late returns today indicated an overwhelming Conservative victory and the continuance of the present administration in power. Santa Clara province gave Menocal 400 votes, Zayas, 13; Ranchuelo, Menocal, 43; Zayas, 3; Yaguarama, Menocal, 425; Zayas, 9.

Many Liberals threw their support to President Menocal because they found it impossible to support a presidential candidate who is a fugitive.

The second warning of the United States has been held up by the government and not spread broadcast, although it is known in Havana.

U. S. NOT TO ACT.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15. — The United States will not intervene in Cuba until it has been amply demonstrated that President Menocal's government cannot restore order on island.

This was stated positively today by high government authorities.

The United States, however, is informally aiding the island republic in every way possible. Rumors that German agents, who left this country when the crisis in German-American relations became acute, are fomenting trouble in Cuba, are being rigidly investigated by secret service operatives.

SUE FOR $25,000 DAMAGES.

Bertram R. Rogers and Margaret L. Rogers today instituted an action for $25,000 damages against William F. Rutherford and Josephine Rutherford, alleging in the complaint that through the carelessness of the Rutherfords, Mrs. Rogers was injured about the head and face January 28, at Lafayette, when the Rogers and Rutherford machines collided on the state highway.

Arlett Is Named on Harbor Board by Gov. Johnson

ARTHUR ARLETT.

Oakland Man Is Given Place on Commission; Successor to Dwyer.

Arthur Arlett, president of the Public Welfare League of Oakland and active worker in the temperance movement in California, was named today by Governor Hiram Johnson as a member of the State Board of Harbor Commissioners, to fill the place left vacant by the resignation a few days ago of J. J. Dwyer, president of the board. The position carries a salary of $3600 a year and the appointee holds office at the pleasure of the governor.

Besides his local activity in municipal affairs as executive officer of the Public Welfare League, Arlett is a member of the state committee of the California Dry Federation and has been prominent in the affairs of that organization. He is a director of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, a director of the Central National Bank and a member of the Committee of Fifty on Outer Harbor Development. He has always taken an active interest in the politics of the city. His home is at 6165 Chabot road.

The appointment of Alfred Greenebaum as pilot commissioner was also announced by the governor. The office carries no salary but entitles the commissioner to fees.

SUGAR GOES UP 25 CENTS ON HUNDRED

This Is Price Fixed for Retailers by Refiners and Jobbers, But Consumers Must Pay ½-Cent More; to Go Higher

Reasons for Sudden Rise Are Given As Cuban Rebellion and Strike Among Refinery Workers; Supply Curtailed

Sugar, for long regarded as a safe and sane article of commerce, has heeded the call of high prices and joined the advance of foodstuffs up the quotation scale. The advance was sudden and distinct, surprising men in the trade who had long believed it possible that the sweet might decline in price.

The advance today was 25 cents on the hundred pounds. Retail grocers, formerly paying to refineries and jobbers $6.85 per hundred, found that they were compelled to lay aside $7.10 this morning when the market opened. The ultimate consumer, who has in the past few months paid on the average of 7¼ cents a pound, will find the corner grocer charging him 7½ cents or more for the same quantity—or $7.50 on the hundred pounds.

Today's advance is looked upon by men who know the sugar trade as indicative of further advances. It is rumored that within a week the cost of sugar will have advanced to a higher standard, possibly 25 cents more. This means an advance on the retail grocers' part.

Reasons given for the sudden rise related to the rebellion in Cuba, together with a strike among refinery workers throughout the Eastern States. Two refineries, still running, now control the market as a result, and with the small supply and abnormal demand, it is likely that these two manufactories will advance the quotations.

Finger-prints May Be Clews to Robbers

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—Hopes of finding the two men who yesterday held up the Westlake branch of the Home Savings Bank and stole $2500 today were based on finger prints found inside an old tin can, which fell from the robbers' automobile as they were escaping. An accomplice, who waited at the machine during the hold-up, used the can for filling the machine.

CALLING OFF OF STRIKE DELIGHTS BASEBALL WORLD

Fultz Will Retire From Presidency; Fate of Frat Is Uncertain.

Players' Strike Called Off

NEW YORK, Feb. 15. — Word went forth today to members of the Baseball Players' Fraternity that the threatened baseball strike had been called off by President Fultz of the players' organization. Fultz came to this decision after he had received the assurance of President Tener of the National League that the league would not discriminate "in any way, shape or manner" against any ball player because of his connection with the fraternity.

The American League scheduled meeting was held here today and there also was a meeting of the national commission.

It was announced that there will be no session of the joint rules commission, consequently the 1917 pennant race will be decided under the rules of last season.

By H. C. HAMILTON,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15. — The American League today will add the finishing blow to the knock administered to the Baseball Players' Fraternity. Action by the National League and the statement of David L. Fultz in which he agreed to call off his threats has taken the thunder out of anything the American League may do, however. Contracts now in the hands of ball players provide that no player shall be discriminated against for being a member of the fraternity.

Inasmuch as this is the only condition Fultz asked it is automatically granted. There is but one thing to stand in the way of complete peace. Ban Johnson has declared that John Henry, member of the Washington club, must get out of the American League. Johnson is a man who usually makes his threats good. If he is insistent upon making an example of the senator, trouble may yet come about, for Henry, being a vice-president of the fraternity, was one of those who made possible the no-strike edict issued by Fultz. It is hardly possible baseball players would idly consent to the disciplining of a man who had fought their battles.

NEW YORK IS HAPPY.

Fultz' statement releasing ball players from their pledges to sign, was the signal for rejoicing in New York.

Critics and followers of the game, without exception, praised the head of the fraternity for the game manner in which he lost. Every one voiced the opinion if organized baseball refuses to drop the fight, now that the fraternity has quit, it will be to its discredit.

Fultz expects to step out as head of the fraternity. He has been sincere in everything he has done and feels keenly the fact that he was forced to acknowledge his error in dragging major league club owners into the fight on minor leaguers.

FRAT'S FATE UNKNOWN.

Whether the fraternity as it now exists will be continued no one seems to know. Neither of the major leagues has made any objection to a union among players but each has decried the brotherly spirit and lack of competition brought about by association in the organization headed by Fultz.

The National Commission was to meet early today for a brief session and the American League meeting was to convene immediately after.

The National League has advanced the date on which clubs may go into spring training, changing it from March 1 to February 25.

Joe Oeschger Out-Pitched by Brother

Joe Oeschger, member of the pitching staff of the Philadelphia Nationals, was out-pitched yesterday by his younger brother, Frank, in a game played on the St. Mary's college campus. The game was between the St. Mary's Phoenix and a team from U. S. S. Albatross. St. Mary's won, 2 to 0.

Young Oeschger, pitching for the collegians, held the sailors to two hits, while his big league brother was found for four. Moreover, Frank struck Joe out the first time Joe came to bat.

In the hitting department the star was Ted Brandon of the Phoenix team, who got to Brother Joe for a two-bagger and a single. Several Coast league managers have been angling for Brandon. Joe Oeschger struck out ten opposing players, while his kid brother retaliated by fanning seventeen.

This is Frank's first year with the St. Mary's Phoenix. He is twenty years old and of husky build. He is a right-hander with a fast ball that carries the same peculiar hop as that which his famous brother throws. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
St. Mary's	2	4	0
Albatross	0	2	2

Wife of Salt Lake's Manager Is Dead

SALT LAKE, Utah, Feb. 15. — Mrs. William H. Bernhard, wife of the manager of the Salt Lake baseball club, died at 8 o'clock last evening after an illness extending over a period of several years.

Inside Stuff
By "Billy Fitz"

DEL HOWARD returned to Boyes Springs last night after spending the day conferring with J. Cal Ewing, owner of the Oakland club.

Howard and Ewing went over the situation carefully, and gave due consideration to the cases of the hold-outs whose letters have been received at local headquarters during the past week.

In one or two cases, the players were granted concessions which it is expected will bring them into line shortly, while in other instances the original contracts will be allowed to stand as they were drafted earlier in the year. The players can either take them or not just as they see fit.

Del Howard made one thing plain. He will not stand for any of the players reporting late and out of condition. Those who fail to show up at Boyes Springs on time will find themselves short just that many days of pay when the season begins.

Last year, several players were late in reporting and when they did show up they were soft and they did not have time enough to harden themselves for the long grind. The result was that the Oakland club, after getting off to a fine start, "blew" after the first month.

Calling Off of Strike Is Hailed With Relief by Coast

The calling off of the baseball strike at this time is a blessed relief to the Coast League magnates, for it will release needed talent from the majors, and obviate the necessity of the national commission cancelling all optional agreements, a contingency that was already being considered.

Particularly is the Oakland Club gratified, for Del Howard and Cal Ewing are hard pressed for several players. It is believed that the calling off of the strike will break down the combination formed by the Brooklyn regulars to hold off until their contracts were restored to last year's status. In this event, the Superbas will be able to turn over a shortstop and secure waivers on several men who have been promised to the Oaks.

The players' strike was ill-advised in the first place, and it found no support amongst the newspaper men or the public. Fultz will not have to step down and out, and the Players' Fraternity will die a natural death.

Tip O'Neill, Cub advance agent, is a happy man, for it was on his club that the fraternity had picked upon by setting the strike for the day the Cubs were scheduled to leave for California.

Duffy Lewis Is Keen to Possess That Big Emblem of the World's Champions

Duffy Lewis is reported to be on the verge of coming to terms with the Boston Red Sox, the difference between the outfielder and the owners of the World's Champions being only a question of a few hundred dollars. Lewis has received a letter from Garry Hermann relative to the world's series souvenirs which will be presented to members of the Boston Red Sox. This year, the championship emblem will be a Swiss watch finished in gold, and with a large diamond on the case.

The watlh is valued at about a hundred dolars, which is the amount of the fine levied upon Duffy Lewis and other members of the Boston club for playing an exhibition game under Jack Barry soon after the season closed. By paying his fine, Duffy can get the watch, and Duffy wants the watch, but he doesn't want to have to pay for an emblem that he won on the ball field fairly and squarely. With this angle disposed of, Lewis' friends would not be surprised to see him back with the club, no matter what Davy Fultz has to say.

Rowdy Elliott is now at Boyes Springs working out daily with Rod Murphy, Del Howard and Duffy Lewis. The colony expects to receive several recruits during the next day or two. I. Harrison Clay, Oak booster, came up the other day and gave an astonishing exhibition at shortstop. He can block sure hits with great dexterity, using either shin with equal facility.

Clubmen to Play Maxwells Saturday

The baseball nine of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce will cross bats with the Maxwell boys on the Bushrod stadium at 2 p. m. Saturday.

The Commerce boys have been going great guns of late, two of their victims being the University of California and the United States steamship Albatross.

The line-up:

Intercollegiate Game on the Ice Tomorrow

BERKELEY, Feb. 15.—For the first time in the history of either university Stanford and California will have an ice hockey series. The first game of this series will be played tomorrow night at 8:15 o'clock on the Winter Garden rink in San Francisco, and the others will come each Friday following. Considerable interest has been aroused at California over the prospects for a Bruin victory and several hundred supporters are expected to attend the opening match.

The team is being coached and captained by George Young, former Princeton player and freshman captain. A team has been chosen to represent California and will line up as follows:

Native Sons' League Formally Organized

The Native Sons' Baseball League has been formally organized with the following charter members: San Leandro, Centerville, Niles, Halcyon, Fruitvale, Brooklyn, Oakland, Piedmont, Athens, Bay View, Claremont.

The officers are: President, M. B. Morrison, Piedmont Parlor; M. H. Glaze, Brooklyn Parlor; Maurice J. Bleuel Jr., Oakland Parlor, secretary; J. M. Ansel, Halcyon Parlor, treasurer. The executive committee and the board of directors will be elected at a meeting Monday evening at Masonic Hall, Fruitvale, corner Thirty-fourth and East Fourteenth street, at 8 o'clock.

Rube Gardner Is Given His Release

Rube Gardner, Oakland utility man, was today given his outright release, in order that Del Howard might keep his word with the veteran and permit the latter to make a deal for himself if trade negotiations failed. Gardner hopes to get management of a club in the Texas League.

Oak 'Rookies' to Report on Feb. 22

Del Howard today issued a call to all of Oakland's young recruits to report here on February 22. Fifteen youngsters will be inspected at that time by Del Howard and the best will be taken to Boyes Springs. The workouts will be behind closed gates.

There is a boxer in New York named Augie Ratnor. From his ring reputation, we figure his name is a good disguise.

Basket Ball

HAYWARD TEAM GOING WELL.

The Hayward high 130-pound basketball team in the last two weeks have defeated three of the fastest 130-pound teams around the bay, namely, St. Ambrose Y. M. C. A. of Berkeley, 37 to 23; Santa Clara, 36 to 13, and St. James' Alumni, 37 to 22.

The Hayward boys have shown a wonderful improvement over their early season games. They lineup as follows:

Rogers (captain), Quist, forwards; Leonard, center; Christenson, Cooper, King, guards.

Friday night, February 23, Hayward plays the crack St. Ignatius 130-pound team at the fine Hayward gymnasium at 8 p. m.

All 130-pound teams wishing games, please write Lester Rogers, Hayward Union high, Hayward.

For the fourth time this season, the St. Joseph's Academy Midgets' 95-pound team and the St. Mary's college 110-pound team lined up on the former's court and for the third time the Midgets came out victorious, 32 to 18.

At half time it stood 10 to 6 in favor of the Academy boys. Grennan and Cox proved to be the stars for St. Mary's. The line up of the teams was as follows:

Academy—Dufault and Cassady, forwards; McNamara and Rafferty, centers; Young, Duffy and Corbly guards.

St. Mary's—Grennan and Cox, forwards; Patton, center; Black, Silva, Cook and Roessler, guards.

MEXICAN KID IS LITTLE TOO SHIFTY

"Red" Watson Held to Draw by Peppery Carter in W. O. Main Event.

Red Watson and Mexican Kid Carter fought it out on even terms last night on the West Oakland battlefield, and the three judges each called it a different way, a draw verdict being the result. The pudgy Watson, true to advance notices, was trained down to some semblance of his old form, but he found the shifty Mexican too hard a chap to sink in four rounds. Red's powerful right crosses were always a trifle too late, and the Mexican got inside them every time, rushing Watson around so in the last round that the auburn haired beauty could not find time to set himself properly.

The bout showed that Watson still has the old punching power and the ability to stand up under fire, but he has slowed down and seems unable to launch his blows quickly. Carter must be given credit for carrying the fight to his opponent and displaying a world of pep and speed. Never a hard hitter, there are few more courageous boxers around here than Carter, and he seems always willing to mix with any opponent.

Watson was deeply disappointed at not having been able to score a knockout. He spent the first two rounds trying to reach Carter's jaw with the old haymaker, and then he was compelled to shift the attack to the stomach. Watson swung four rights to the stomach in the third round that were audible all over the building. Carter did all the leading and was the aggressor throughout. A big crowd saw the contests despite the counter attraction of the Ad Masque.

MALONE OUTPOINTS ALVERIS.

After staying in bed all day, with hot applications to his face, Battling Vilera to recover sufficiently from his bout in San Francisco the night before to go on with Frankie Malone, and Billy Alveris stepped into his place.

Alveris put up a game and clever showing, and was giving Malone a merry time until he was accidentally butted over the right eye. The gash put Alveris in bad shape and Malone had no difficulty in outpointing him in the third and fourth rounds.

Frankie showed improvement over his last start.

SHOWER WINS AGAIN.

Johnny Shower is coming right along. He hurdled another barrier last night when he won a close verdict from Sammy Pelsinger. The battle was a rip-snorter from the first bell, with Pelsinger doing all the forcing as usual, but fighting wildly, while Shower devoted himself to infighting. Shower seemed to have four or five arms judging from the way he tied Pelsinger up in the clinches and yet managed to pepper Sammy on the jaw and stomach. There were few clean blows struck, a clinch following almost every lead. Shower had the edge but it was not a very big one.

DANNY'S TUMMY HURT HIM.

Danny Edwards' desire to protect his stomach in the clinches resulted in the judges giving him but a draw with Johnny Potter of Sacramento. Danny looks to be a much improved boy since he was here last, having learned something evidently in Portland. He outboxed Potter in every round but in the clinches, the Sacramento boy polished the colored lad in the stomach with his right, and Edwards seemed unable to block the blow or withstand the effect. This was the only way Potter seemed able to handle his dusky opponent and he kept in the clinches as much as possible.

RICKEY DRAWS WITH GORMAN.

"Gin" Rickey, Jerry Lawlor's latest fistic cocktail, was held to a draw by Young Gorman. The judges called it that way, though it looked as though Lawlor's boy had an edge on aggressiveness. He is showing improvement each time out.

WILD MAN IS TAMED.

"Battling Guisto," an untamed strong man from the wilds of West street, was unloosened on Young Lewis in the second engagement of the night. Guisto bloocked a left two minutes after the bell rang and sat down. He rose in great indignation and spent the remainder of the scrap in trying to annihilate his opponent, the referee, the ring and the arc lights. He was foiled in his efforts by Lewis' left, and became quite tame in the final inning. Lewis took the verdict handily, and "Guisto" will go back to training Bat Ortega and shadow boxing with twenty-pound dumbells.

McCLURE TAKES OPENER.

Eddie McClure took a busy four-round curtain-raiser from "Speedy" Mitchell, a game little newsboy. The boys tangled so industriously in the final round that they fell out of the ring. McClure did no leading but outpunched his opponent when he countered.

Jack Brown, Jack Murphy and W. J. Eyre acted as judges. Lou Bernstein held the watch and Bob Shand refereed. Another capacity house greeted the gladiators.

Freddy Hamann Is Back From Tour

Freddy Hamann, well known Oakland featherweight, has returned to Oakland after an absence of two years spent in visiting almost every fistic center in the United States. Freddy met some of the best boys in the game and was highly satisfactory in his performances until he made the mistake of training down too fine for Benny Chavez and was bowled over.

Hamann was matched once with Freddy Welsh, but was robbed of the chance of winning the world's title when the legislators put the crusher on the game in Oklahoma.

Hamann touts Benny Leonard as the most wonderful fighter in the ring today.

ALAMEDA HI ELECTS MANAGER.

ALAMEDA, Feb. 15. — The baseball team of the Alameda high school has elected George Prickett as captain of the nine for this term. Leo Mulvaney, pitcher, has been named manager.

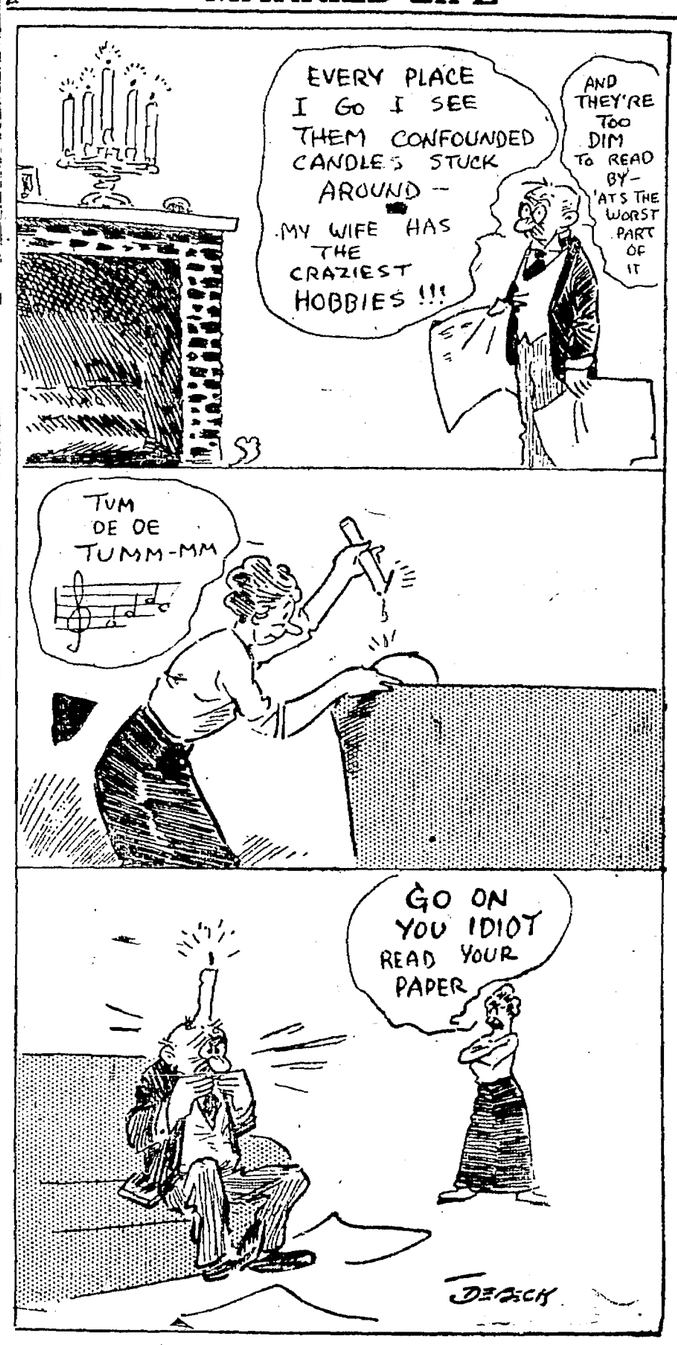

Stecher May Display Wares at Oakland 'Y'

Joe Stecher, world's wrestling wonder, may appear in an exhibition wrestling match in Oakland soon, if the statement that he is on his way to San Francisco for a match on Washington's birthday is correct.

The Oakland Y. M. C. A. will afford the "scissors meteor" a chance to display his wonderful ability here. Joe and his manager, Joe Hetmanak, are residents of Omaha, the metropolis of Nebraska, which Stecher claims as his native state. Likewise, J. Tritt Maxwell, physical director of the local "Y," hails from Omaha. Maxwell knows both wrestler and manager quite intimately and will tender them an invitation to give an exhibition at the Y. M. C. A. before the business men of the organization.

Stecher and his manager expect to arrive in San Francisco Saturday morning. He beat Bill Hokuff in Omaha in fast time just the other day and is apparently in good condition. Maxwell will probably invite the pair to show at the "Y" on Tuesday next.

Rollie Zeider to Visit Pacific Coast Again

Noted Infielder Helped Seals to Win Flag

Rollie Zeider, whom local fans will remember as the wonderful infielder who aided tremendously in the winning of the 1909 P. C. L. championship by the Seals, is coming to the Coast again.

Rollie isn't returning for another season in this company; not by a long shot. In the opinion of Manager Fred Mitchell of tthe Cubs, he is the greatest utility infielder in the business, which of course means that the former Seal will be included among the Chicago Cubs who will be in our midst shortly.

Zeider, after helping the Seals to the pennant, was secured by the White Sox. He played great ball for several seasons and was one of those stars who was snared by the unhappy Feds. It was his good fortune, however, to catch on with Joe Tinker's Chicago lot, and when that outfit was amalgamated with the National League Windy City team, Zeider became the regular third sacker of the Cubs.

Rollie will be enjoying his eighth season in big league society next year. He is not the finished wonder of former years, but is still able to hold his own.

Rollie has twice visited the Coast since he went up to the "big sticks," both times with the Chicago White Sox. Now Zeider is coming again, but with a rival Chicago club. Which is only another one of these freak occurrences of the national game!

Young Langford Is Winner on Foul

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15. — Young Sam Langford was given a decision over Sailor Snodgrass last night at the Association club bouts, because of Snodgrass' repeated foul work. The referee called the match in the third round. Results:

Walter McDermot defeated Joe Rose; Henry Bricker defeated Jim Wolgast; Dago Jimmie Lewis, decision over Kid Toast; Willie Daly, decision over Bonny Jones; Frank Oldrick stopped Walter Graney; Charley Dole stopped Al Grey in second round.

Terry Signs a Life Contract With Hymen

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15. — Zeb Terry, shortstop for the Chicago White Sox signed a life time contract in Boss Hymen's league this afternoon when he took out a license to wed Miss Lucile Jones, prominent Los Angeles girl. The marriage will be solemnized at St. Paul's Pro-cathedral tonight.

GOT TO BEHAVE, THAT'S ALL.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 15. — Smokes, sweets, drinks and the joys of "rough housing" are denied to Stanford crew men, according to the training rules which go into effect today. The rules as announced by Coach Guerena will restrict all candidates for the freshman, second 'varsity and 'varsity crews.

None of the squad has been put under strict late hour rules yet but all are advised against being seen outside of bed after 11 o'clock at night, and are gently requested to absent themselves from late-hour dances.

DARKNESS HALTS GAME.

The fast San Leandro Cubs played a 17-inning 1 to 1 tie with the Newark Idlewilds, at Newark, Sunday. The Idlewilds scored their lone run on an error in the eighth frame. In the ninth, with one on, Mathews poled out a long triple, tying the score and saving the game. West went the full 17 innings, as did Silva. Score:

SAN LEANDRO CUBS.	R.	H.	E.	NEWARK IDLEWILDS.	R.	H.	E.

STANFORD TEAM TO OPEN HERE AGAINST BRUINS

Intercollegiate Diamond Series of Five Games Starts March 24.

U. C. Ball Club To Visit Japan

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Feb. 15.—The campus was stirred to excitement today by the news that the University of California ball team had been invited to Japan this year, and that the invitation was to be accepted.

At a meeting of the executive committee last night, Graduate Manager Johnny Stroud made public the invitation from Keio University suggesting that the Bruins play a twelve-game series in the Orient to start about May 15.

The executive committee reported on the matter favorably, but instructed Stroud to ask that the series be set for June instead of May, so as to permit games already scheduled in Honolulu, and also to allow the students to complete the college semester. The acceptance of this change is considered certain here, and the Oriental trip regarded a certainty.

BERKELEY, Feb. 15.—Final decision as to the number of games in the Stanford-California baseball series was reached yesterday by Graduate Manager Stroud of California and Manager Behrens of Stanford. It was decided to change the number of games from three to five and to play the first contest on California Field on March 24, and to alternate each Saturday following between Stanford and California.

"This is a good thing for us," Coach Carl Zamloch of California said today. "We have a number of good pitchers and with five games it will give me a chance to work more than one man. Also the best team will have a chance to get going in a longer series and to show what they have as a ball team."

The first team to take three games will be the winner, and it is not likely that more than four games will be played this year. The winner of the series will make the Northern trip to meet the Northwestern conference winners and will be likely candidates for a trip to the Hawaiian Islands during the summer months.

BRUINS BEING GROOMED.

California is rounding into shape and two teams are in the field every night with games coming from three to four times a week. The Bruins have shown that early in the season they are able to hit the ball and have won most of their early games. Two teams have played in every game for California and a number of pitchers have been worked. The Bears have won from the Maxwell Hardware Company team, the Standard Oil nine, First National Bank, Ambrose Tailors and several practice games, the second squad playing the first four innings and the varsity men playing the remainder of the game.

HAVE VETERAN LINE-UP.

The team has narrowed down to practically the same line-up as appeared against Stanford last season. Stanford at first base is playing fast ball and has annexed three home runs in the last two games. Claude Rohwer has been switched from second base to shortstop and is considered more valuable there than at the former sack. Smith at third is considered good for another season, and Davidson, a transfer from the Affiliated Colleges, is showing up well at second. Captain Adair and Ray Rowher are playing regularly in the outfield, with Veckl, Works, Parrish, Goode, Overton and Tracie fighting for the other place.

Dimmock, Ball, McCabe, Hill and Onyette are being used in the pitching line and Gimbal, Edwards, Wasson and Moses as catchers. Morse, Masters, Chimes, Hudson and Hulting are alternating with the varsity infield.

Games have been scheduled for several weeks to come with the various local organizations, including St. Mary's, Olympic Club, Agnews, Swain & Sheehan, Standard Oil, Maxwell, Ambrose, Goat Island, Oak Leaves and First National Bank.

Two Coast Titles for Emeryville Card

The Washington's Birthday complete card for the Emeryville Athletic Club was announced this morning as follows:

Main event—Meehan vs. Norton, coast heavyweight title.

Special event—Frankie Malone vs. Sammy Pelsinger, coast featherweight title.

Special event — Johnny Shower vs. Frank Luscher.

Preliminaries—Billy Alveris vs. Frank Rome, Young Turner vs. Heine Orchard, Frankie Denny vs. Johnny Vieira, Chas. Moy vs. Johnny Potter, Eddie Burns vs. Jimmy Ross.

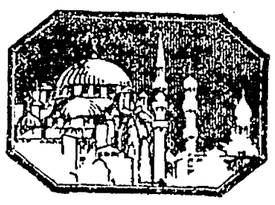

San Mateo Team Wins Cup From Riverside

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 15. — The San Mateo team won the novice cup event yesterday from Riverside in the second match of the Riverside polo tournament. The score was 8 to 4. Willie Tevis scored five of San Mateo's eight goals.

VANCOUVER TEAM VICTOR.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Feb. 14. — After as wild a display of hockey as any game here this season, Vancouver defeated Spokane by the score of 12 to 8.

His Confessions

CHAPTER XXII

The most horrible thing I do, according to my "ethical" critics, is to use printer's ink.

"Advertising dentist," moan the pious members of the Dental Trust, throwing up shocked hands and turning away from this unholy thing that has come into their midst.

What's wrong about it, Mr. American citizen?

Is it because it hasn't been done by the Medicine Men for the past ages? Is it because a set of men have arbitrarily declared it "unethical" and consequently wrong? Is it because it is undignified?

The fellow who advances this sort of argument against the dentist who reaches his customers through newspapers is far behind the times. He is living in the misty past, when witch-doctors and rainmakers and sorcerers burrowed out of sight like gophers.

He isn't abreast of modern thought. He isn't in touch with modern methods. He is ignorant of the fact that the four cardinal rules of successful business today are: Organize, Systematize, Capitalize and Advertise. He doesn't know that business today means, not only what used to be called strictly mercantile pursuits, but now embraces all forms of human endeavor, whether it be politics, statesmanship, social endeavor, religion or the professions.

Take the church. That's ethical enough, isn't it? There's enough dignified tradition about ministry to human souls to rank it with the law, medicine, dentistry and other "polite" professions. Nobody's going to quarrel on that score.

Well, the Church in this Twentieth Century is using printer's ink and doing it unashamed. Why? Because it is the modern, successful way. Because it gets results. Because it is absolutely legitimate, just as much as anything else the Church does.

In the San Francisco Chronicle every Saturday there is a half page devoted to display advertising by the combined churches of the city. There's large type, pictures and attractive headlines. In the middle of this huge advertisement is this significant notice:

"This announcement is authorized and and paid for by a group of churches and individuals interested in the advancement of church efforts in San Francisco and the bay cities."

There was a time when the Church didn't advertise, just as the lawyers, doctors and dentists, dodged newspaper columns. That day is gone and the progressive professional man had best see the handwriting on the wall before he scorns to do what is the logical thing for him to do.

This carries me to the conclusion of the first series of my "Confessions of an Outlaw." I have by no means ended what I have to say to the public through this medium. Later I shall renew these reminiscences and tell a few things of vital interest to the people of California, and Oakland in particular. But enough now for the present. In the meantime, my office at Twelfth and Broadway is still doing "unethical" tooth-carpentry.

HEATER BOYS GO BACK TO WORK

Lads End Strike at Union Iron Works and Moore & Scott's Under Pressure.

ALAMEDA, Feb. 15.—The strike of the heater boys at the Union Iron Works in Alameda and at the Moore & Scott shipyard in Oakland is settled, and the heater boys are back at work. Representatives of one of the shipbuilding plants said that no concessions were made to the heater boys, who demanded a minimum day wage of $2.50 in lieu of the present minimum of $2. The strike was settled within the Boilermakers' Union, to which the riveters, passers, holders-on and heater boys belong. Pressure was brought to bear on the heater boys to return to work to avoid laying off the riveters, holders-on and passers, who were compelled to lie idle when the heater boys struck.

The strike this week is the second heater boy outburst within a few weeks, the heaters quitting work before for a couple of days in a similar demonstration over the minimum day wage. The strike just ended was started by the heater boys in the San Francisco plant of the Union Iron Works, the heater boys in the Alameda plant and in the Moore & Scott yards going out in sympathy with the San Francisco strikers.

It was reported at the Alameda yards of the Union Iron Works that the heater boys in San Francisco had also returned to work.

As the heater boys work with piecework crews now earning in excess of a $2 minimum daily wage, the other members of the riveting crew hold that the minimum day wage is of minor importance at this time. Most of the heater boys are making from $3 to $3.25 a day on piecework, depending on the speed of the riveter heading each crew and the size of the rivets being driven.

OFFICIALS FACE GRAVE CHARGES

Election Laws Are Violated, Is Held by the Federal Authorities.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 15. — Chief of Police Samuel Perroit, City Sealer Herman Adams, former Street Commissioner Dennis Bush and six police officials were arrested today following the return of federal grand jury indictments charging 166 persons with conspiracy to violate election laws. They gave bond and will be arranged March 21. Several other arrests will be made in Indianapolis before deputy United States marshals swoop down on persons indicted in Gary, Frankfort and Evansville.

In addition to Perriot and the city officials, Police Lieutenant Oscar Merrill, Sergeants Mortimer Hules, Frank W. Johnson and Wayland Sanders and Detectives Roy Stringer and Pope were arrested. All are charged with intimidating negroes and preventing them from voting in the 1916 election.

Libeled Washington; Must Serve 4 Months

TACOMA, Wash., Feb. 15. — For having written an article libeling the memory of George Washington, Paul R. Haffer today began serving his sentence of four months in the county jail. Costs in the case, which he will probably also serve, amount to several hundred dollars.

Haffer was convicted last spring. The state supreme court affirmed the judgment of the lower court.

The communication which Haffer sent to a local newspaper referred to George Washington as "an inveterate drinker, a profane man and a slave owner."

Woman Badly Hurt by Speeding Auto

Mrs. Luella E. Whitworth, a school teacher residing at the Hotel Kensington, San Francisco, was struck last evening by a machine driven by Jack May, Way, who lives at 1225 Seventh street, struck Mrs. Whitworth while turning the corner at Fourteenth and Franklin streets. After the accident he rushed her to the emergency hospital, where it was found she sustained a fracture of the right shoulder blade and other minor injuries.

After being examined and receiving emergency treatment from Drs. Irwin and Frank she was taken to the Merritt hospital.

California Women's Federation Opens Busy Session in Oakland

250 Delegates From Alameda District Branch in Attendance

The sixteenth annual convention of the Alameda district California Federation of Women's Clubs opened with a swing this morning in Hotel Oakland, when Mrs. Fisher Clarke, of Stockton, president of the district, called the initial session to order at 10:30 o'clock. Fully 250 women were in their places in the ivory ballroom at the opening of the session. Already the important meeting has set a standard for itself, for matters moved easily and on time.

Backward and forward the topics vibrated at the opening session, from bonds to biscuits, from Belgians to babies, from bookkeeping to bonnets, from poets to politics, from promptness to pianos, from hospitals to hospitality, from milk to members, from travel to teacups, from foreigners to forests, from libraries to laws. For the program was given up entirely to the reports of the presidents of the clubs which find themselves in the convention district, including the counties of Alameda, Contra Costa, San Joaquin, Calaveras and Tuolumne. From rural and city communities the finely informed women came with their year's summoning up of the twelve months of endeavor.

ACTIVITIES REVIEWED.

Fourteen leaders representing a membership of 2575 clubwomen reviewed the activities of as many organizations. The Adelphian Club, with Mrs. A. O. Got as spokesman, told the story o fthe free bed which it maintains in an Alameda sanitarium, in addition to its contributions to the Travelers' Aid Society of California, the certified milk fund of the Collegiate Alumnae, the Anti-Tuberculosis Society and Red Cross Society and its deep devotion to matters of self-culture.

Miss Jessie E. Watson, representing Mrs. F. C. Turner, president of the Collegiate Alumnae, reviewed the work which the 400 members were doing in uplifting the standard of college women in social service departments and the notable undertaking along the lines of child hygiene.

Greetings were brought from 925 mothers by Mrs. C. R. Reilly, president of the Berkeley Federation of Mothers' Clubs. The bond which the board luncheon furnishes, with fifteen members as guests each month, was a social item with significant results, which Mrs. Aaron Schloss, president of the Twentieth Century Club of Berkeley, reported. Mrs. Mabel M. Kellogg, on behalf of Casa Guidi Circle of Berkeley gave a resume of that study club.

VITAL SUBJECTS DISCUSSED.

Parliamentary law and home economics were the vital subjects which Mrs. C. J. Ernst presented for the Fruitvale Woman's Club. She explained some of the ways in which they had been assisting in the work of the Blue Bird Bureau of The TRIBUNE. Alta Vista Club with its acceptance of the university extension course by Mrs. F. R. Cauch and the Bay Reading Club reported by Miss M.E. Watson completed the review of the smaller culture clubs.

A complete system of bookkeeping and the purchase of a stereopticon were the factors in Ebell's Year's work as offered by Mrs. John A. Beckwith. Mrs. Fred Harrison for Dr. Minora Kibbe, president of the Joaquin Miller Club and Mrs. J. H. Fuller for Mrs. Robert Watt, president of the Oakland New Century Club finished the roll of the local organizations.

But it was from the outside districts that the most wonderful of all the stories came. The Lodi Woman's Club which entertained the annual district convention last year was given a royal greeting when its president, Mrs. G. L. Meissner, had completed a most amazing tale of accomplishments. The club had sponsored a $40,000 bond issue which gave to the town a new school. It had inaugurated a movement which resulted in a swimming pool and playground. It had collected $1000 toward a club house fund and it had increased its membership by 95 names.

SOUNDS CONTRASTING NOTE.

Mrs. W. S. Montgomery, speaking for the Lockeford Woman's Club, brought a contrasting note, for it was lectures, music, the sending of flowers which had been the vital thing to this San Joaquin county organization this year.

A building site purchased and a clubhouse to be built this year was the word which Mrs. H. J. Curry told for the Martinez Woman's Improvement Club.

But it was the Woman's Club of Washington Township which had sent two tons of foodstuffs to the Belgians and who had learned the value of being prompt in letter writing.

The establishing of a night school in Hayward, becoming the medium between school teachers and mothers and providing pleasures for the men folk of their families were some of the things which Mrs. L. R. Rosenberg had to tell on behalf of the Hill and Valley Club.

The gift of a beautiful gavel rest was made by Mrs. M. J. Single to Mrs. Clarke and, by her presented to the district. It is a splendid bit of work done on California wood and matches the gavel which was given last year by the Lodi Woman's Club.

For the luncheon hour there was a round table for the district officers and chairman, state officers and chairman. Tomorrow delegates will have a place at the large table where Mrs. Clark will preside.

The first half hour of the afternoon session was devoted to the work of departments under the federation. Mrs. C. S. Sargent gave an interesting talk on art and what the clubs were doing. Other speakers were Mrs. E. C. L. Colby, child welfare; Mrs. E. J. Ferichs, civics; Mrs. W. P. Tinning, California history, Mrs. B. Gilmore, landmark preservation.

VISITORS GREETED.

The Oakland Club, which is hostess to the important meeting, had charge of the afternoon program, when courtesies were exchanged between the local clubwomen of the city and their visitors.

Mayor John L. Davie was represented by his secretary, Preston L. Higgins, who said in part:

"It is with regret that Mayor Davie, on account of an important meeting of a state commission, is unable to greet you personally. Acting, however, as his personal representative and on behalf of the City of Oakland, I wish to extend a most hearty welcome to our city.

"Oakland feels proud in being the host to a convention devoting their organized effort to the social, moral and political development and uplift of our community.

"Not many years ago the thought of a state or national organization of women, devoting their time to such ends would have been considered impossible and ridiculous, yet the enfranchisement of women in many states has acted as the stimulant for such broad organization that covers much more than the scope of political rights.

PROPER SETTING.

"Most all governments, especially municipalities, even though they be as beautiful and as wonderfully endowed as Oakland with her unsurpassed harbor for manufacturing and commercial purposes and her Lake Merritt in the heart of our city and highland drives overlooking the Golden Gate, making proper setting for a city of homes, even such a city feels the need for the organized activity of women's clubs.

"From the busy and self-satisfied citizenry, infected with inertia and dead indifference toward the welfare of human kind, to the enthusiastic busy bodied reformer that with one stroke would sweep clean to the elimination of corruption and vice, between these widely differing classes of citizens there must be some ballast, and so we look toward such gigantic organization as the California Federation of Women's Clubs to furnish such sane and sensible safeguard.

"And so, therefore, with a full realization of the necessity and broadness of your work, with a hope that your meeting in this city will make for even more greatness than marks your achievements of the past and with an assurance of our proudness for Oakland's selection for this assembly, I extend again on behalf of the Mayor, a welcome to Oakland."

Mrs. Edgar L. Grimsby, president of the local board, extended the hospitality on behalf of her committee and was responded to by Mrs. P. B. Fraser of Stockton.

The greetings were a new feature of convention programs and came from the Chamber of Commerce, represented by Joseph R. Knowland; the press, represented by Miss Edna E. Kinard; San Francisco district, through its president, Mrs. Frank Fredericks; San Joaquin Valley district, through Mrs. A. B. Armstrong, and from the California Federation through Mrs. Edward Dexter Knight.

MUSICAL PROGRAM.

The musical numbers were rendered by Miss Goldie Julin.

"How to Escape From Yesterday" was the theme to which Rev. Albert W. Palmer spoke.

Automobile rides through the east bay cities with tea served at Mills College entertained the delegates during the later afternoon.

This evening the annual banquet will bring together three hundred club leaders. The reception to the State and district officers will concrude the first day of the convention, which will extend through Saturday.

Politics did not become a factor in the session today, although there was an undercurrent of excitement which suggested that the morning's meeting would not be without its struggle. Mrs. Kate Smith of Richmond will be named as a candidate for the presidency by the nominating committee. It is almost certain that Mrs. Lucien Langworthy will be nominated from the floor, thus dividing the delegates' vote.

MOVIES TO FILM TRUCK GARDENS

Publicity Planned to Disclose Work of Transforming Vacant Lots.

Motion pictures of individual developing vacant lots into future vegetable gardens will be taken Saturday morning at Park boulevard and Brighton avenue. Following development of films the reels will be used here to carry on a publicity campaign besides going east to show other communities what Oakland is doing to bring down the high cost of living to lower levels.

At a special meeting of the vacant lot planting committee last night it was decided to carry on this propaganda work. Girls and youths from Oakland higher grade schools will be shown digging and preparing the soil for reception of the vegetable germ. Plowing, harrowing sowing and other work connected with the movement will be shown for the camera.

Famous Quartet to Play at Third Concert

BERKELEY, Feb. 15.—The Flonzaley Quartet, one of the most famous string organizations in the world, will play at Harmon Gymnasium this evening at the third concert of the season of the Berkeley Musical Association. Admission will be by member's card only.

HOW I CURED MY CATARRH

TOLD IN A SIMPLE WAY

Without Apparatus, Inhalers, Salves, Lotions, Harmful Drugs, Smoke or Electricity.

Heals Day and Night

It is a new way. It is something absolutely different. No lotions, sprays or sickly smelling salves or creams. No atomizer, or any apparatus of any kind. Nothing to smoke or inhale. No steaming or rubbing or injections. No electricity or vibration or massage. No powder; no plasters; no keeping in the house. Nothing of that kind at all. Something new and different, something delightful and healthful, something instantly successful. You do not have to wait, and linger and pay out a lot of money. You can stop it over night—and I will gladly tell you how—FREE. I am not a doctor and this is not a so-called doctor's prescription—but I am cured and my friends are cured, and you can be cured. Your suffering will stop at once like magic.

I Am Free—You Can Be Free

My catarrh was filthy and loathsome. It made me ill. It dulled my mind. It undermined my health and was weakening my will. The hawking, coughing, spitting made me obnoxious to all, and my foul breath and disgusting habits made even my loved ones avoid me secretly. My delight in life was dulled and my faculties impaired. I knew that in time it would bring me to an untimely grave, because every moment of the day and night it was slowly yet surely sapping my vitality.

But I found a cure, and I am ready to tell you about it FREE. Write me promptly.

RISK JUST ONE CENT

Send no money. Just your name and address on a postal card. Say: "Dear Sam Katz: Please tell me how you cured your catarrh and how I can cure mine." That's all you need to say. I will understand, and I will write to you with complete information, FREE, at once. Do not delay. Send postal card or write me a letter today. Don't think of turning this page until you have asked for this wonderful treatment that can do for you what it has done for me.

MAGAZINES HALT HOLD-UP'S BULLET

John R. Moulthrop of Berkeley Saved From Injury by Big Bundle in Pocket.

TRIBUNE BUREAU
2015 SHATTUCK AVE.

BERKELEY, Feb. 15.—The bundle of magazines which John R. Moulthrop, an attorney residing at the Carlton Hotel, carried in his pocket, saved him a broken hip when he was held up on Channing way last night and when two shots were fired at him by a footpad as he started to run. One of the bullets, deflected from its course after tearing through a portion of the magazine, just missed Moulthrop's hip. The other broke a finger of his right hand.

Immediate search of the whole neighborhood of Channing way and Bowditch street by the police as soon as the hold-up was reported, failed to result in the apprehension of the man who fired the shot and his companion. They had got safely away in the high-power automobile in which they were riding before the police could arrive. Moulthrop's injuries were dressed at Roosevelt Hospital.

He had been visiting friends on Upper Channing way and was returning along that street to the hotel at 11:30 p. m. when he heard an automobile rapidly approaching behind him. He paid little attention to it but, as it drew abreast of him, one of its two occupants leaped from the seat, ran to Moulthrop with revolver leveled at his head, and demanded that he throw up his hands.

Moulthrop started to run and to scream for help at the same instant. He had got but a few feet when his assailant opened fire. The first bullet struck him in the hand. The second tore its way into the magazine, its force whirling Moulthrop half around. He righted himself instantly and kept on his way at top speed until he came to the Delta Upsilon fraternity house, into the hall of which he raced and fell exhausted upon the floor.

Members of the fraternity administered first aid and summoned the police. Moulthrop described the footpads as being both young, hardly more than boys, and was able to name the make of the machine in which they rode, but not its number. Members of the fraternity rushed into the street and scouted the neighborhood for some time, later being joined by the police, but no trace of the automobile was found.

FILES DIVORCE AFTER 9 YEARS

In Meantime Mrs. Elizabeth MacDonald Uncertain if Spouse Is Dead.

After waiting nine years, during which time she was uncertain as to whether her husband would return or not, Elizabeth McDonald today filed suit for divorce from Sherman McDonald.

The couple were married January 15, 1905, and she alleges that her husband deserted her two months later. She explains the delay in bringing the action to uncertainty as to whether her husband would return or not and inability to furnish costs and expenses of the action.

James Lightfoot filed suit for divorce from Donna Lightfoot charging desertion after nineteen years of married life. The couple were married in March of 1885 and on May 13, 1914, he alleges the defendant deserted him without any cause.

Child in Detention Home Pending Fight

Dispute over the custody of Margaret Soper Wilson, a 7-year-old girl who was reared from infancy by Mrs. Frank D. Soper, 3645 West street, has resulted in her being placed in the Detention Home following her removal yesterday from the Longfellow school by Mrs. A. Wilford of East Ninth street and Twenty-seventh avenue. According to a report made to the police, Mrs. Wilford claims that she was given the child by Mrs. Soper to care for and that Mrs. Soper demanded Margaret back again. Adoption proceedings will probably be commenced by both sides.

Big Cargoes Held in British Ports

LONDON, Feb. 15.—A half dozen large American department stores could be stocked with the great mass of merchandise now in possession of the English customs officers. The goods have been seized under the blockade at sea, and in port, under the British customs laws as being of suspected enemy origin. The articles include almost everything from pins to pianos. The bulk of the goods came from Scandinavian ports and were consigned to nearly every country outside the British empire.

Women Lose Fight in Jury Duty Law

SALEM, Ore., Feb. 15.—Woman's attempt to be placed on the same footing as men for jury service lost their fight today when the senate defeated a bill intended to submit to the people the question of whether discrimination be shown between men and women by judges in selecting juries. At present women can be excused from service on stating they do not care to serve.

Wilson Assured G.O.P. Support by Willcox

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—William R. Willcox, the man who led the Republican fight against the re-election of President Wilson, called at the White House this afternoon and assured the President that the Republican party may be counted upon to stand squarely behind him in the present international crisis.

Melrose Heights Body Will Meet

Miss M. H. Wilkin, regresenting the Home Industry league, will address the members and friends of the Melrose Heights Parents' and Teachers' association at its regular monthly social meeting, Friday afternoon, at the school club rooms. Miss Mabel Dowlan, accompanied by her brother, Master George, will furnish music, and following the program refreshments will be served.

DAUGHTERS OF ISABELLA PARTY.

The Daughters of Isabella will give a bridge party at Knights of Columbus hall tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for the benefit of the shoe and stocking fund. The committee declares that there are many poor children in the east bay cities in need of shoes and stockings and they are hopeful of raising a large fund. The affair is in charge of a committee, including Mrs. A. B. Stephens, chairman; Mrs. William Bals, secretary, and Mrs. Frank Murphy, treasurer.

RANCHING, NEW WOMAN'S FIELD, DECLARES DEAN

Feminism and Farms Closely Related, Says Hunt

TRIBUNE BUREAU
2015 SHATTUCK AVE.

BERKELEY, Feb. 15.—"There is no more favorable a field for woman's activities than ranching, and no more favorable place for woman's ranching than California."

So declares Dean Thomas Forsythe Hunt of the University of California department of agriculture. Dean Hunt believes that woman should invade man's sphere of employment even more thoroughly than she has done, and especially in agriculture. In the future, he declares, much of the country's farming will be done by women. He adds the following:

"There is not much hope for the back-to-the-farm movement unless educated women are willing to go into farming. Not only do we need women agriculturally trained as farmers, but we need them especially as farmer's wives. My best advice to the young farmer is to marry a girl who has thoroughly studied agriculture. Despite the handicaps besetting the path of the woman who tries to run a farm alone, she can succeed if she has the determination.

"The girls taking the farming courses in this university are one of the greatest assets we have. The greatest possible aid any young farmer could have would be one of such girls as his wife. It is just as important for the farmer's wife to understanding farming as it is for her to be proficient in domestic science."

PROFESSORS SLOW TO BE SOLDIERS

Proposed Company of Savants Numbers Twelve So Far, Roster Shows.

TRIBUNE BUREAU
2015 SHATTUCK AVE.

BERKELEY, Feb. 15. — Despite the fact that the provisional infantry company now in process of formation at the University of California has been organized by a committee of the Faculty club, members of the faculty have not hastened to join. But twelve professors and instructors so far have enrolled, the great majority of the fifty joining the company to date being students.

The committee which has the enrollment in hand is continuing its efforts today. Its purpose is to secure 144 in the company if possible to bring it to regulation strength. The professors and instructors who have joined are the following:

Dean David P. Barrows, Professor Chas. E. Chapman, A. J. Eddy, D. T. Mason, Lincoln Hutchinson, F. L. Kleeberger and A. M. Kidd; H. L. Leupp, assistant librarian; G. H. Martin, assistant in physiology; W. F. Martin, assistant professor in engineering, and W. Symons, assistant in psychology. Of the remaining thirty-eight, two are townsmen of Berkeley and the others are students.

Next Saturday the company will assemble at Harmon gymnasium at 10 o'clock for the purpose of enrolling the men into squads and platoons. The committee in charge is now considering mounted detachments and aviation and naval training.

WOULD REPAIR HONOR SYSTEM AT UNIVERSITY

Faculty Members Will Seek Solution for Problems

TRIBUNE BUREAU
2015 SHATTUCK AVE.

BERKELEY, Feb. 15.—The honor system at the University of California, which is recent campus utterances has been pronounced everything from sleeping to dead, is to be given new life. The system provides for placing students on their own honor in examinations and elsewhere and does away with faculty administration of punishment, leaving this to the student body itself.

That cheating in examinations and other forms of dishonesty have flourished despite the honor system has been stated, editorially this semester in the college daily and generally admitted by students of the university. The honor system committee, which President F. W. Stewart of the Associated Students states this morning, will be appointed soon, is to remedy defects in the system and make it practicable again if possible.

C. J. Carey of the committee is to address the student body at the university meeting tomorrow morning, on the subject.

CITY APPROVES DRYDOCK LEASE

Council Adopts the Resolution Granting Hanlon Co. Estuary Privileges.

The city council today adopted a resolution approving a lease bid upon by the D. J. Hanlon Drydock and Shipbuilding Co. for city property on the estuary, and gave first reading to an ordinance granting the lease. By the terms of the lease the city is to receive $1800 a year for the first ten years of the lease and $2400 for the last fifteen years, or at the rate of $150 a month at the present time and $200 in the future.

The company must make its total investment in the plant amount to $300,000 within one year from the granting of the lease. According to Commissioner Anderson, this means that more than $100,000 will have to be put into the plant at once. Commissioner Anderson stated that he is informed that the company is preparing to put a greater sum into the plant and to operate it on a large scale.

Swiss Suffering As Food Is Running Low

BERNE, Switzerland, via Paris, Feb. 15.—Meatless days, sugar cards, rice cards and restricted menus are being resorted to by the Swiss government. Foodstuffs are becoming more scarce as a result of the new naval blockade. Measures are being taken to reduce the use of illuminating gas to save coal.

Lose Your Fat, Keep Your Health

Superfluous flesh is not healthy, neither is it healthy to diet or exercise too much for its removal. The simplest method known for reducing the overfat body two, three or four pounds a week is the Marmola Method, tried and endorsed by thousands. Marmola Prescription Tablets, containing exact doses of the famous prescription, are sold by druggists at 75 cents for a large case, or if you prefer you can obtain them by sending direct to the Marmola Company, 864 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. They are harmless and leave no wrinkles or flabbiness. They are popular because effective and convenient.

WOMEN ARRESTED UPON S. F. STREETS

Many Move to the Apartment House District to Await Developments.

TRIBUNE BUREAU
683 MARKET ST.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15. — The arrest of a half dozen of the women of the underworld banished from their resorts in the closed red light district for street soliciting was one of the results of yesterday's clamping down of the lid. All appeared in the police court this morning and were dismissed with warnings not to repeat the offense.

While a number of women, said to be less than 50, left San Francisco for other places, including Reno, Nevada, this morning, the majority have taken up their residence in the apartment house district and are awaiting developments. Some profess to believe that the tenderloin will reopen. District Attorney Charles Fickert declared that it would remain closed.

That the women were planning a legal move was indicated in certain quarters.

WORSHIPERS ASK WAR GUIDANCE

TRIBUNE BUREAU
34 E. SANTA CLARA

SAN JOSE, Feb. 15.—A city-wide prayer movement was instituted yesterday morning in all parts of the city, asking Divine guidance for the nation, President Wilson and those in charge of our national government to direct them during the present critical times in international relationships. In all churches of the city and at many private houses, at the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. and other orders of semi-religious character, parties were assembled.

The main meeting of the day was held in the Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon, where a large congregation met for prayer. Rev. J. J. Evans made a few preliminary remarks, basing his talk on Scriptural verses from the Sermon on the Mount. He led the congregation in an earnest appeal for guidance in the great problems which faced the country at this time.

The Weather

WEATHER FORECAST TO 5 P. M., FRIDAY.

Entire State of California—Fair and pleasant weather tonight and Friday; light northerly winds.

Nevada—Fair tonight and Friday.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The depression over New Mexico yesterday morning has moved rapidly eastward and is now central in the Ohio valley. It has caused rain or snow over the southern states from New Mexico to the Alleghanies. Scattered snow flurries are reported in the St. Lawrence valley and upper lake region. On the Pacific slope the weather is fair except cloudy in Washington and Western Oregon. It is warmer in the San Francisco bay section this morning but elsewhere the changes in temperature have been slight. Conditions are favorable for continued fair and pleasant weather in this district.

Coleman, Martinez; J. R. McAllister, Bakersfield; Robert G. Dodds, San Francisco; D. Webster, Oakland; Emil Field and wife, Stockton; Elmo S. Tryalelis, Macwell; H. P. Wheeler, Prescott, Wash.; Earl Wright, New York; Charles F. Binham, Berkeley; E. C. Perree, Hayward; Robert M. Millikin, Napa; W. E. Rou, Oakland.

For the first time in 17 years, Captain Charles Ames of the steamer Elihu Thompson has visited Oakland. He was greeted by many friends who had not seen him for years. Ames made his home here, but during the Nome rush he ran between Seattle and Alaska in passenger craft, and was well known and liked by the traveling public. When the Pacific Cold Storage Company of Tacoma bought the Thompson and converted her into a cold storage steamer Ames took command, and still holds it. He took a vacation to visit his marine friends here. He will remain several weeks.

The steamer Windber is again in trouble, having run upon Star rock at Bellingham, Wash., while backing from the wharf. She struck hard and fast. The steam schooner Norwood got a line to her, but was unable to move her. Tugs were sent for, but the Windber remains on the rock.

STRANDED SCHOONER IS SOLD FOR $725.

The schooner E. R. Jackson, which was wrecked February 8 while enroute from Australia to Apia to load copra for Oakland, was sold today for $725, as she lays on the reef. Residents of the Samoan Islands are the purchasers and will try to save some of the rigging and gear. She was owned by the Hind-Rolph company. The crew is en route to this port by steamer.

Sixty days from Apia, the schooner Esther Buhne arrived home today with 275 tons of copra. Light winds were encountered all the passage. She will remain in Oakland until April before sailing for Alaska.

Coal vessels have a hard time entering Oakland harbor. With 6560 tons of coal, the Norwegian steamer Tancred, aided by a red stack tug, tried for several hours to pass up the creek, but was driven back as the water was too shallow. She finally made it, and was followed by the ship Star of Lapland, with 4830 tons of coal. She had a hard time coming in.

The dredger is at work and within a few days the channel entrance will have 30 feet of water. The Tancred had coal for the Western Fuel Company, while the Lapland is lying at Alice street wharf, where the Alaska Packers' ships will be towed to receive their portion of coal for the canneries in Alaska.

CAPTAIN PAULSON CHANGES COMMAND.

The steam schooner A. M. Simpson passed in through the Golden Gate this morning under command of Captain Paulson. The skipper went to the custom house, where he had his command changed to the steamer Martha Buehner and sailed for San Pedro with 635,000 feet of lumber from Coos Bay. The Simpson was purchased by the Buehner Lumber Company, and her name was changed yesterday to the Martha Buehner. Paulson is still on the same craft, only under a different name.

The following changes of masters have been recorded: Captain C. C. Tillsworth, steamer Hercules; Captain John S. Smith, steamer Standard, Captain J. E. Phell; steamer J. A. Moffett; Captain B. Paulson, steamer Martha Buehner; Captain A. P. Christensen, steamer Captain Weber; Captain W. A Elsassen, steamer Apache; steamer W. J. Danogh, steamer Ellen.

Mills College Girl Gains $30,000 in Deal

Miss Mary K. Wohlford, a student in Mills College, will make a profit of $30,000 by financial deal within a few days. She has been authorized by the State Railroad Commission to sell to the San Diego Consolidated Gas and Electric Company for $40,000 the property of the gas and electric system in Escondido. The owners of this system failed in 1915 and under foreclosure proceedings the property passed to Miss Wohlford for $10,000.

SCHOOL GIRLS ADOPT BABY.

APPLETON, Wis., Feb. 15.—Wishing to have a live subject to work with, the girl students of the domestic science department of the Appleton High School have adopted a 2-months-old baby, and the girls in the department are kept busy feeding it scientifically and dressing it according to the best health hints. The child was taken from a poor family of seven children, as the parents are unable to look after it properly.

WINS GIRL AND $100 WAGER.

ROMANS, N. D., Feb. 15.—After letting his friends see a photograph of Blanche C. Ripley, one of them made a wager of $100 with Harry Bronson that he could not marry the girl before 6 o'clock the following evening. Bronson took the wager. After communicating over the telephone with the girl, who was a trained nurse at Sioux Falls, she said "Yes." Bronson and Miss Ripley met at Egan, came to Romans and were married early in the morning.

Select A Gas Range

The stove you select should be large enough to take care of all the cooking at once. This is economy from every standpoint.

The same heat that cooks your meat should cook your vegetables or do your baking.

This is only possible in a stove equipped with two ovens both heated with the same flame.

The modern way is to put the vegetables and other things commonly cooked on top of a stove in the upper oven, and cook them with the same heat you are using to cook the meat in the lower oven.

The meat oven on this type of stove is especially constructed to properly brown the meat and preserve the juices; while the scheme of cooking the balance of the meal in the upper oven preserves the flavors, and sends the odor up the flue-pipe.

Also this enables you to get your dinner in half the usual time and makes your fuel do double work.

This is the stove we recommend to all of our patrons who want the latest and most efficient range obtainable. It's a Gas Range.

ANOTHER 'PEACE TIP' IS PROBED

Newspaper Man Declared to Be the Author of Information.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Another warning to brokers of an impending peace move was today traced to the information sent out by W. W. Price, Washington correspondent, at the "leak" investigation by the House rules committee here.

Through evidence brought forth by Clifford Buckman of the brokerage house of Raymond, Pynchon & Co., it was shown this firm sent out a warning to customers on the afternoon of December 20. This warning was issued from the Chicago office. Counsel Whipple then introduced a message from A. M. Clement of the firm of Clement, Curtiss & Co., of Chicago, stating they had furnished Buckman's firm with the peace information as they had also informed Hutton & Co. It was to Clement's company that Price wired.

A short investigation preceded the hearing today and it is said the committee is ready to close the New York end this evening.

STEADY TONE IS SEEN IN MARKET

Some Issues Reflect a Broad Demand in Trading on Wall Street.

BY CHARLES W. STORM.
(International News Service.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 15. — During the late dealings the market developed a steadier tone and recoveries from the low levels of the afternoon were made in many issues. American Beet Sugar sold at 102½, a gain of 3½ points, and closed at 101¾. Steel common sold down to 104¾.

Generally, market had steady tone at opening today with some issues reflecting a broad demand. Central Leather rose a point to 86 and New Haven ½ to 38.

A few of the room traders sold the Mexican stocks. American Smelting declined ⅛ to 95½ and Mexican Petroleum a point to 85½. United States Steel common started ½ lower at 105¼ but recovered this loss before the end of the first fifteen minutes. American Beet Sugar rose ¾ to 99¾.

The copper shares were generally lower while the railway issues showed only small fractional changes.

Although business was dull, a better tone prevailed in the late forenoon. American Beet Sugar was the strongest feature, advancing 2⅞ in all to 101¾. Central Leather rose 2 points to 87. There was a bullish demonstration in the linseed stocks. Steel held firm at 105¾.

Money loaning at 2½ per cent.

The market closed irregular; government bonds unchanged; railroad and other bonds irregular.

SUN REVIEW.

The New York Evening Sun financial review today said:

Today's stock market fairly drifted, with trading even less animated than in the quiet sessions that have gone before this week. There was little in the overnight news developments of particular interest to Wall street, although financial and securities circles are concerned over the increasing gravity of the business situation arising from congestion on the railroads of the country. This state of affairs is bound to have an effect on the current returns of railroad earnings and this in turn, is depressing railroad securities and the stock and bond market in general.

Part of the time the price level was up, again it was down, but movements were very sluggish and meaningless. Trading in the last hour was spiritless and wholly devoid of initiative. Prices reacted one to two points from the top level of the day of their own weight. The sugar shares continued strong. United States Steel receded below 105.

CHICAGO WHEAT PIT

CHICAGO, Feb. 15. — Fresh declines in the value of wheat resulted today from the tie up of railroad freight traffic and from the chances of a complete rupture with Germany. Selling, which was persistent, received additional stimulus from reports that the drought in Oklahoma had been thoroughly broken.

Estimates, however, that farm reserves of wheat were scarcely more than half as large as a year ago helped in a measure to check the downward slide of prices. The opening which ranged from ⅛c to 1¾c lower with May at $1.70½ to $1.71 and July at $1.46¾ to $1.47 was followed by a moderate further setback and then something of a rally.

Subsequently, the market bulged in response to word from New York that Great Britain would cut down imports of cotton and would use for grain and munitions the vessel room thus made available. The entente allies were reported to be inquiring on the Pacific coast for 60,000 tons of wheat. It was said also that the Netherlands government had set-freight difficulties and would open bids for flour on February 21.

The close was strong 1⅝c to 3⅛c net higher with May at $1.74⅝ to $1.74¾ and July at $1.49¼ to $1.49½.

Mild weather had a bearish effort on corn. Besides the difficulty of making shipments from here acted as a weight on prices.

After opening ⅛@¼c to ½c lower the market underwent an additional sag before beginning to recover.

Later the renewal of wheat strength gave corn an upward swing, the close was nervous at ⅛c to 1c net advance.

Oats weakened with other cereals. Buyers were scarce.

Heaviness was the rule in provisions. Lower quotations on hogs and grain tended to curtail demand.

CHICAGO, Feb. 15. — Close. May wheat, $1.74⅝; July, $1.49¼.
Corn—May, $1.01½; July, $1.00⅛.
Oats—May 57¼c July, 55⅜c.
Pork—May $30; July, $29.30.
Lard—May, $16.72; July, $16.85.
Ribs—May, $15.77; July, $15.87.
Corn—No. 2 yellow, $1.01; No. 4, yellow, 98¾c@$1; No. 4, white, 98¾@99¾c.
Rye—No. 2, $1.47.
Barley—$1@1.30.
Timothy—$3.50@5.50.
Clover—$12@18.

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 15. — Wheat strong on trading. Spot bids, 1c to 2½c higher. Bluestem, $1.50; forty-fold, $1.54; club, $1.52; Red Russian, $1.50.

STOCK-BOND EXCHANGE

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—Only the foremost favorites commanded any attention during today's early session, and while trading in most of the leaders was fairly brisk, remaining issues of the list were in sluggish demand. United Railroads 4s sold in very small quantity, but still the issue was one of the strongest features, adding a full point to its recent advance. A single sale was reported at $41½, as against yesterday's closing transaction at $40¼.

General Petroleum common was the outstanding leader of the stock list. Opening at $70½, an unchanged figure, the stock rose gradually to $71, with approximately 600 shares changing hands. Other petroleums were rather quiet. Union Oil was neglected, while Associated was only moderately active at $71¼, a quarter of a point above its previous closing market.

Union Sugar showed a decided improvement.

Teachers' Tenure Law Is Passed by House

SALEM, Ore., Feb. 15. — Senator Orton's bill, amending the tenure of office law for school teachers, has passed the House. It now goes to the governor. Its principal provision places the cases of teachers whose dismissal from the service is desired by the superintendent or school board in the hands of an independent commission, to be appointed at the beginning of each year by the presiding judge of the circuit court. This commission is empowered to make investigations and its decisions will be final.

'Bone Dry' Law Passes South Dakota House

PIERRE, S. D., Feb. 15.—A "bone dry" prohibition bill was passed by the South Dakota House by a vote of 88 to 10. The measure now goes to the Senate.

Say "I Will"—and Mean It

Don't limp through life on the crutches of borrowed brains and precedent. Own your own mind and let us hope it isn't furnished on the installment plan with ideas picked up here and there from other men for whom the customs of long ago were good enough.

There may have been a time in Fairy Tale ages where marble columns, gilded capitols, crystal chandeliers and Persian rugs were necessary—and therefore permissible—gilded traps wherewith to entice the half-blinded and unthinking customer.

But this is the age of today; this is the country of "I Will," where we have a right to expect independent thinking and self-deciding brain power. American men have a reputation for thinking for themselves. Figure out for your own self whether it's your money or the merchant's money that pays the fat landlord his exorbitant tribute. Is it your money or the merchant's money that pays for onyx pedestals and silk plush drapes in the show windows? Does your money or the merchant's pay for glittering crystal and polished brass, for German silver fittings and carved mahogany show cases? We have no such expenses. That's why we can and do sell

MANY SHIPS GO THROUGH CANAL

Tolls Collected Nearly Four Million, Say Official Reports.

PANAMA, Feb. 15.—Traffic statistics for the Panama canal show that the number of ocean-going ships which made the transit through the canal in the calendar year 1916 was 1253. Their aggregate net tonnage was 3,933,869 tons, and they carried a total of 4,931,911 tons of cargo.

The number of ships was 7 per cent greater than in 1915, but in net tonnage, tolls and cargo, the record for 1916 was a little less than 1 per cent less than 1915. The two years had about the same bulk of traffic, and both saw the canal closed for a period of three and a half months.

The tolls collected in 1916 were $3,677,695.60, which was not equal to the expenses. The ships in the United States coastwise trade were slightly over 3 per cent of the aggregate tonnage in 1916. In 1915 they were one-fourth of all the traffic, and in 1914 they were two-fifths. Most of the former coastwise ships have been diverted to the more profitable foreign trade.

CHANGES OFFERED IN SERVICE BILL

Year's Military Training Suggested in Law Before Army Head.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—A detailed plan for the establishment of a national policy of universal military training and service has been laid before Secretary Baker by the army general staff. It differs radically from that provided for in the Chamberlain bill, favorably reported Saturday by the Senate Military Committee, in that a full year of training would be required as the absolute minimum. The Senate bill is based on six months' training.

The staff bill was submitted to each of the thirty-six members of that body and represents the consensus of their opinion. It is understood to have been worked out in much greater detail than the Senate bill, which leaves wide departmental power to prescribe regulations. Secretary Baker has indicated that the recommendations of the staff will be made public later, even in the event that the plan does not receive the administration's approval, so that it can serve as a basis for discussion before the country after the adjournment of Congress and can be compared with the Senate plan.

Utah Will Investigate Department Accounts

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Feb. 15.—The appropriations and claims committee of the Utah legislature approved an appropriation of $25,000 to be used by Governor Simon Bamberger in conducting an investigation of the state departments and books. The approval of the appropriation grew out of a statement made by Governor Bamberger a few nights ago to the effect that he believed irregularities existed during previous administrations and the assertion caused former state officials to demand that Mr. Bamberger make good his charge or make an apology. At a public meeting the governor stated that if granted an appropriation of $25,000 for investigation purposes he could demonstrate irregularities of more than $2,000,000 in recent years.

For weeks it is known that independent auditors have been at work in the capitol checking accounts. It is not known what discoveries have been made but it is believed that the governor's statement had a bearing on disclosures to be revealed at an opportune time.

142 Suits Aimed at Franchise Tax Act

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 15.—One hundred and forty-two suits against State Treasurer Richardson, aimed at the state franchise tax, were filed today, all being brought under one action in which Bertram B. Snyder is the plaintiff.

"The action hits at the constitutionality of the franchise tax act," said Richardson, "and since the Supreme Court has already upheld the act there is absolutely no chance for Snyder to win. The attorney-general will present a demurrer and in sustaining the demurrer the court will refer to the Supreme Court decision."

Progressives Begin Preliminary Confabs

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 15.—The first of a series of conferences Progressive leaders expect to have in all sections of the country preliminary to a national gathering in St. Louis in April began here today.

The principal address was by John M. Parker, Progressive candidate for Vice-President in the last campaign. Parker stated that it made little difference whether or not the proposed name of "Liberal party" was adopted at the St. Louis gathering, as the party would remain the same.

Car Shortage Serious in Texas Shipping

HOUSTON, Texas, Feb. 15.—The car shortage here is reported even worse than it was during last fall, so far as the lumber interests in this section are concerned. A prominent yellow pine manufacturer stated that it was impossible to get a car of lumber shipped anywhere east of Chicago.

A hardwood lumber dealer from North Texas has closed his plant because of lack of cars. Other lumber mills are curtailing their output, and unless the situation is relieved will be forced to close, the managers say.

Bakers Demand Probe Into Cost of Foods

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—The executive committee of the National Association of Master Bakers, in session here, has adopted resolutions demanding that the projected investigation of the food and market conditions be "full and thorough on the part of the Federal authorities." A further clause demands that "the findings or the failure to make findings be explained to the public as freely as the intention of holding of such an investigation." The resolutions will be forwarded to Congressmen and the Federal authorities at Washington.

ORRINE FOR DRINK HABIT

So uniformly successful has Orrine been in restoring victims of the "Drink Habit" into sober and useful citizens, and so strong is our confidence in its curative powers, that we want to emphasize the fact that Orrine is sold under this positive guarantee. If, after a trial, you get no benefit, your money will be refunded. It is a simple home treatment. No sanitarium expense.

Orrine is prepared in two forms: No 1, secret treatment, a powder; No. 2, in pill form, the voluntary treatment. Costs only $1.00 a box. Ask for free booklet telling all about Orrine. Osgood Brothers, Twelfth and Washington and Broadway and Seventh streets.—Advertisement.

How to Relieve Catarrhal Deafness or Head Noises

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises caused by catarrh, or if phlegm drops in your throat and has caused catarrh of the stomach or bowels you will be glad to know that these distressing symptoms may be entirely overcome in many instances by the following treatment which you can easily prepare in your own home at little cost. Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parmint (Double Strength). This will not cost you more than 75c. Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. An improvement is sometimes noted after the first day's treatment. Breathing should become easy, while the distressing head noises, headaches, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., should gradually disappear under the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell, taste, defective hearing and mucus dropping in the back of the throat are other symptoms which suggest the presence of catarrh and which may often be overcome by this efficacious treatment. If nearly 50 per cent of all ear troubles are caused by catarrh, there must be many people whose hearing may be restored by this simple home treatment. Osgood Bros. can supply you.—Advertisement.

Auto Strikes Car; Woman Meets Death

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15. — One woman was killed and two others seriously injured here when the automobile in which they were riding collided with a street car. Mrs. Mary M. Thompson, wife of Dr. Wesley Thompson, health commissioner of Huntington Park, Cal., was the woman killed, and Mrs. Thomas Held and Mrs. Fred Spencer, her two daughters, were the injured. A young daughter of Mrs. Held escaped injury. More than fifty persons witnessed the accident, which was declared unavoidable.

GUN RETURNED; DIES.

STOCKTON, Feb. 15.—Less than thirty hours after his revolver had been returned to him by the police Frank Huber, a cook, shot himself in the head. Although the bullet tore the skull and scattered brains from the right side of the man's head, he lived for four hours.

Chinese, Accused of Slaying, Is Set Free

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 15.—Lee Wong and three other Chinese who were arrested in connection with the shooting and killing last Saturday of Harry Wong, were released from custody last night by the police, who said there was no evidence involving any of the prisoners in the commission of the crime.
